DR. FREDERICK A. COOK ADDRESSES TECHNICAL CLUB

Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the arctic explorer, who maintains he discovered the North pole, gave a lengthy and technical lecture on the "Discovery of the North Pole," before the Technical club of Omaha at the Paxton hotel last night. A large audience of members of the club attended the meeting and were given an opportunity to meet the distinguished explorer. Dr. Cook recited the trials and tribulations of the arctic trip and submitted his proofs of discovery. The lecture was an interesting one and Dr. Cook gave the scenic side of the trip as well as the engineering side.

Father William F. Rigge, professor of astronomy at Creighton university, presided over the meeting and prepared the assembly for the address on the Arctic explorations with explanations of determining geographical locations.

Chief Campolican of the Arucano tribe of Indians in Chile, who is at the Orpheum this week, also addressed the club on the habits and customs of his people in South America.

SACRED HEART CONVENT SCHOOL OPENS THURSDAY

Even though the Sacred Heart academy has not been entirely repaired of the tornado damage the school will reopen Thursday for all of the various classes. It will have the effect, however, of limiting the accommodations for the boarding pupils and only about twenty can be taken care of at the convent until the large wing of the building is completed. The contractors doing the work allow that it will be done about the first of the year.

JACKSON SEVERELY HURT WHEN MOTOR CAR UPSETS

A. J. Jackson, the undertaker, is at the Swedish Mission hospital in a serious condition from hurts received when his automobile went over a ten-foot embankment on the south end of Carter lake yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Jackson, with a companion, was returning to the city from a drive, and attempted to pass a light buggy. He drove far to one side of the road, which crumpled beneath the weight of the machine and caused the fall. Mr. Jackson's companion was unhurt.

CONCORDIA SINGERS TO DEDICATE BANNER SUNDAY

The Concordia Singing society, an organization of sixty-five members, will dedicate a beautiful banner Sunday, September 22, at German Home. The occasion will begin at 2 o'clock and will include besides singing, a speech by Mayor Dahlman. The women expect to make this quite an occasion, as they say it is the first time in Omaha for the dedication of such a banner.

August Miller Declares Concrete Work Unfit to Hold Sarcos.

Foundation for New Pavement Declared to Look Like Mud by City Official Who Has Made Inspection of the Job.

August Miller caused the city council to sit up last evening by a communication informing that body that the concrete base now being laid in readiness for the Sarcos pavement on Q street is not what it ought to be. Councilmen John Cavanaugh and John Riba backed up Miller's protest by stating that the alleged concrete base looked like mud.

"Now is the time to make complaints of such things," said the mayor, "before the Sarcos is spread over the base. Someone ventured to ask what the inspectors were doing and Mayor Hootor told the audacious one that the councilmen were all officials and had power to act in their own right.

An ordinance covering the creation of a new office—one is created every few weeks during the open season—was introduced, providing for an inspector of seals and measures. John Badura, former councilman from the Fifth ward, is slated for the job.

Sanitary Inspector Ed Burson reported that the sanitary sewers on Q street were connected with the storm water sewers, and recommended that the same be disconnected. Plans for sewers on Hootor Boulevard were approved. Clerk Wheeler was instructed to advertise for bids for constructing the sewers on Hootor boulevard. James Parks, who was awarded the curbing and paving of M street, from Thirteenth to Twenty-fourth street, last week, sustained a concussive blowback and had the curbing part of the contract cut out.

Boys Gather in New York.

George Brewer yesterday received a letter from a number of men who are now rehearsing in New York City the days of long ago in South Omaha. The letter is signed by a number of men who have long since been dispersed over the United States but who recently met in an impromptu convention in New York City.

Among those who took a leading part in the doings of the "old home convention" were City Attorney Henry C. Murphy of South Omaha, A. R. Kelly, former mayor of South Omaha, now a real estate man of New York City; B. R. Hawley and Pat Hughes of New York City, Charles E. Scott of South Omaha, and William Holland of California. The letter is addressed to George Brewer, a former member of the firing squad and a delegate to the convention, but prevented by press of business from attending.

NEW YORK CITY, Sept. 11.—Mr. George Brewer, South Omaha, Neb. Dear Sir: Allow me to inform you that the greatest convention that was ever held, off at New York City, was held in the room at the Garden September 8 at 10:30 a. m. since "Vix" was a "pup."

A motion was made by Pat Hughes, seconded by Hon. Henry Murphy, city attorney for South Omaha, that the executive committee be authorized to meet on Monday, Sept. 15, at 11:30 a. m. at the Waldorf. The president called the convention to order at 11:30 a. m. and then delivered a speech for one hour. After other came from the audience. Hon. Bert Hawley of the Western Union made a speech by Mr. Scott that it was time to eat and drink at the Waldorf. At 2:30 p. m. Pat Hughes suggested that we have a picnic at the beach and calling on the Vanderbilts, Astors, Goulds and others. Following this trip through the city, Mr. Scott, who had a trip to Coney Island, and after seeing all the sights there we returned to the Waldorf at 11:30 p. m.

criticism of the board for the general condition of things in South Omaha at this time. The board is being blamed by more than seventy men, who failed to land jobs on the fire department, while a few ambitious to serve upon the police force are temporarily withholding their backs. It has been said for some days that recall petitions were to be circulated against three men, but so far no petitions have made their appearance.

Leo Krause, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Krause, Nineteenth and Madison streets, sustained injuries about the head and body Sunday evening, when he fell from a tree in his parent's yard. The lad had been playing about the yard and tried to climb a tree. He had reached a distance of twenty-five feet when he lost his balance and came tumbling to the ground. Dr. Frederick O. Beck attended the injured lad.

public schools that they be given an increase in salary was granted by the school board. A raise of $5 per month will be given all principals. The scale will run as follows: For schools of 3 or 4 rooms, $180. For schools of 4 or 5 rooms, $190. For schools of 6 or 7 rooms, $200. For schools of 8 or 9 rooms, $210. For schools of 10 or 11 rooms, $220. For schools of 12 or 13 rooms, $230. For schools of 14 or 15 rooms, $240. At present there are no schools with more than fifteen rooms, so the limit is $215.

pointee who promised to get Howard's job. Of course, the work of getting Mr. Howard away from his meat ticket was to be done in a purely scientific way. It did not matter that Howard had deserved well of the governor nor that he had worked long and faithfully in the interests of the laboring people of the city. In fact, while Howard was in the legislature, he is said to have made a record that will look quite unashamed beside those of the men who are trying to take his job and his bread and butter away from him.

number of years. He is accounted one of the best young business men of South Omaha. The Willing Workers will meet at the First Christian church, Twenty-third and I streets, Wednesday afternoon. The Brown Park Ladies' Aid society will meet Wednesday at 2 o'clock at the Mission house, at 24th Street Twentieth street. The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Smith, died yesterday at the family residence on Fort Creek Boulevard. The funeral will be held this morning at 10 o'clock at the residence to Bellevue cemetery.

Holdrege to Talk Viaducts. General Manager G. W. Holdrege of the Burlington railroad has notified Councilman Henry Hartnett and the Orchard Hill Improvement club that he will be glad to meet with them any time after September 22 in conference on the question of erecting viaducts at Forty-third street over the Burlington tracks. The club will hold a meeting at Cassidy's hall, next Saturday night.

Opening Night on Allers. Opening night at Garlow's bowling alley was illuminated last night by speeches from Mayor Hootor and John Hinchesy. Martin's Tigers won high place of the evening and defeated Jetter's Gold Tops two out of three games. South Omaha Ice company beat Calkin's Tailors two out of three games also.

One of Governor John Morehead's appointees in South Omaha has promised certain corporation nabobs to remove Jerry Howard from the state payroll, it is said. At least three corporation superbores, it is understood, are anxious to get Howard's scalp because of his labor activities in the past, and some chagrins has been expressed at the dilatory tactics and ill success that has attended the well meant efforts of the gubernatorial appointee who promised to get Howard's job. Of course, the work of getting Mr. Howard away from his meat ticket was to be done in a purely scientific way.
