RAIRIE PARK ASSOCIATION will open its winter season with a large reception Friday evening at the club house on Twenty-sixth street and Ames avenue. The affair will be informal and arrangements will be made for the winter series of entertainments.

It is planned to have assembly dances each Saturday evening during the season. There will be every opportunity for the members of this club to learn all the new dances, for an instructor has been engaged to teach from 8 to 8:45 o'clock preceding the assembly dances. It is anticipated that there will be a large number present promptly at 8 o'clock.

The schedules for the winter parties, which have been sent to club members, do not state whether the tango is to be the popular dance at this club or not; it simply states "the newest dances" are to be taught. This club has departments for all members of the family. Saturday afternoon is given to the children of the club members, and on one afternoon a week the Rairie Park Needlecraft club meets. Several entertainments are planned to be given at the club house this year.

OBSERVE EMANCIPATION DAY
Big Barbecue and Deluge of Oratory on the Bill.
SIX SPEAKERS ARE TO ORATE
Celebration is Under the Auspices of the Knights and Ladies of Labor—School Children to Be Excused for Affairs.

Emancipation day, September 22, will be celebrated by the colored residents of Omaha with a big barbecue and a deluge of oratory at Golden Sheaf park, Twenty-fourth street and Patrick avenue, Monday afternoon, beginning at 2:30 o'clock.

"This day corresponds with us to the Fourth of July," said John Grant Peck, member of the committee on arrangements, "and we want as many colored people to attend as possibly can. School children who desire to attend will be excused from school in the afternoon on written request of parents to principals. We are asking business houses employing colored people to give them the afternoon off if they ask for it."

Six speakers will deliver addresses at the celebration. They will be: Mayor James C. Dahman, Judge Lee Estelle, James B. Wootan, A. M. Harold, John Grant Peck and "Dad" Walker, oldest living negro in Omaha. The celebration will be under the auspices of the Knights and Ladies of Labor. City and county officials have been tendered a special invitation to attend.

The committee on preparation for the celebration—Lulu Rountree, Sarah Severe, Mary Hutchinson, Lenora Gray, Frank Greer and Hattie Kitchen—have provided for a regular old-time barbecue dinner, which will be served all day. A chicken barbecue will also be furnished, John Grant Peck, alone, having donated twelve fine chickens from his brother's ranch in Cherry county. Swift and Cudahy packing companies have donated liberally toward the barbecue.

Ericson-Merrill Wedding.
The marriage of Miss Mildred Grace Merrill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Merrill, to Mr. Guy LeRoy Ericson of Pierre, S. D., was solemnized at 269 South Thirty-second avenue Wednesday at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. A. E. Lehman of the Parkvale Presbyterian church, officiating.

The decorations throughout were in pink roses, palms and ferns.

The bride appeared charming in a gown of white crepe de chine and duchesse lace. The bridal veil was held in place with lilies of the valley. The Normandy cap was of old point rose lace worn on her grandmother's wedding gown, sixty years ago. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The bride was given away by her father.

Mr. Lloyd Ericson, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

Miss Margaret Merrill, the bride's sister, was maid of honor and wore a gown of pink brocade and carried Kilmarey roses. Little George Merrill, Jr., acted as ring bearer. The Misses Katherine Wallace and Varma Lage, gowned in pale green, stretched ribbons for the bride party, who entered to the strains of the Lohengrin bridal chorus and MacDowell's, "To a Wild Rose," after the ceremony, played by Miss Ethel Stone of Lincoln. Miss Beale Lage sang "At Dawn."

After a trip through the Black Hills, Mr. and Mrs. Ericson will be at home to their friends after November 1 at Pierre, S. D.

Miss Mildred Merrill was educated in the Omaha schools, being a graduate of St. Berchman's academy.

The out-of-town guests were Mrs. J. C. Merrill, Mrs. Leslie L. Schaaf and M. L. Ericson of Pierre, Mrs. A. F. Stone and daughter of Lincoln, Neb.

Wants Divorce After Living Together but One Week
James Williams, 21 years old, who married Hazel O'Brien, aged 18, August 25, of this year, is asking the court for a divorce, alleging that she left him after one week of married life, because, she said, she was too young to "settle down."

Williams says in his petition that his wife told him that life was short, and that she wanted to "run around with other fellows" as she did before she was married.

The young husband asserts that he is convinced she did go with other men. He alleges that she called him names the day after the wedding.

Mrs. Williams is a daughter of Dennis O'Brien of South Omaha. The couple was married at the court house by R. M. Crosgan, justice of the peace.

The ceremony, which was marked by simplicity, was performed by Rev. Joseph Toms of the First Congregational church, the Van Dyke service being used.

The bride wore her traveling suit of Saxe blue poplin and there were no attendants. She wore a corsage bouquet of pink roses and lilies of the valley. Pink asters in tall baskets on pedestals, ferns and vine of asparagus were used profusely in the decorations.

After the ceremony refreshments were served at individual tables, the pink color scheme prevailing throughout.

JUDGE RULES COL. PRATT DID NOT SIGN THE CHECK
Judge Crawford of the county court has decided that a $200 check bearing the name of the late Colonel J. M. Pratt and drawn in favor of Mrs. Karla Rehn, his housekeeper, shortly before his death in 1911, was not signed by the colonel. The judge also held that two other similar checks dated at intervals of one month apart which had been honored by a local building and loan association did not bear the genuine signature of Colonel Pratt.

A claim of $1,000 based upon a note endorsed to Mrs. Rehn is to be contested by attorneys for the estate.
