

NEW DES MOINES FRANCHISE

City Council Drafting One for Street Car Company.

TAKE OUT TRANSFER COST

Provide Half Fare for School Children and Reduced Fare for Older Children on Lines of the System.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 19.—(Special Telegram.)—The city council of Des Moines is engaged in making a new franchise for the street car company to be submitted to a vote of the people.

The franchise is declared to be the most satisfactory ever drafted and to contain many radical provisions, but today the council took out one innovation and decided upon two others.

The decree in the case involving the legality of the tax levy for the capitol extension, as signed by Judge J. H. Applegate of Guthrie county, was filed in court today, which makes possible an appeal from that case to the supreme court.

The state will appeal from the decision of the lower court in the matter of the interest on the warrants. Otherwise the Appellate decision on the main case is entirely satisfactory to the state.

It was stated by attorneys for Rowley today they will appeal from the decision and seek to have it all reversed.

Object to Early Consideration. Attorneys for Rowley and others of the plaintiffs appeared at the state house today and objected to the supreme court giving early consideration to the appeal from the Judge Hunter decision affecting the tax levy in Van Buren county alone.

They stated they will file other and similar suits and continue the policy of delay in getting at the decision in the case. They claimed that they did not ask for advance in the case, but the attorney general showed letters in which he had written the lawyers on the other side every day as to what was going on and gave them notice of his plan to ask for an advance.

Delay in the Kelley Case. There is much surmise as to the cause of the delay which the Iowa supreme court has had in a decision on the case of Dr. Harry D. Kelley of Council Bluffs. The case was submitted over a year ago. Kelley is held at the reformatory because of another indictment over him. He was convicted of manslaughter for the killing of a barkeeper in Des Moines, but the jury also found he was insane at the time of the homicide.

Attends the Rate Conference. A. D. Beale of the rate department of the Iowa Railroad commission has gone to Chicago to attend on behalf of the Iowa commission the important meeting of the official classification committee of the railroad having charge of rail rates and classifications in eastern territory.

Inspection of Branch Railroad. Commissioner Thorne went to Maynard, Ia., today to make informal inspection of the track on the branch line of the Rock Island where a wreck occurred in July. The commission secured all information it could as to this accident some time ago and secured a promise from the Rock Island management of improvement in conditions.

Preparing Report on Farms. James Wilson, former secretary of agriculture, and Henry Wallace, of this city, have been in consultation in regard to the report they will make to the governor on their observations on farm conditions in Great Britain.

visit in his official capacity, the state hospital located there. He also expects to visit the state institution at Glenwood.

The governor will make the appointment of a judge of the superior court of Perry very soon to take the place of the late Judge John Shortley. As none of the lawyers there want the position there to talk of abolishing the court.

Kenyon Feeling Out Iowa Sentiment

FORT DODGE, Ia., Sept. 19.—(Special Telegram.)—Senator W. B. Kenyon, home for a short period, will start on a trip around Iowa next week to confer with business men, bankers and farmers on the currency bill. In an interview today he expressed the belief currency legislation will not be passed before the regular session. It is too important to be rushed, he maintained, and added "the bill is good in some respects."

Senator Kenyon strongly denounced the secret caucus system and upheld President Wilson's Mexican policy. It is an abhorrent thing that our boys should be sent down there and shot to death to protect property of people who were not friends to this country and so went to Mexico to make some more money.

He declared "talk" is the trouble with congress and predicted rules to stop endless discussion will be adopted.

Killed by Central Train. FORT DODGE, Ia., Sept. 19.—(Special Telegram.)—Probably because his heel caught in a frog on the Illinois Central tracks, C. L. Aslop of Rockwell City, 36 years old, a farmer, was fatally hurt by an Illinois Central train here. The coroner's jury found his death due to shock and loss of blood when he was accidentally run over by the train. Evidence all indicates Aslop lost his way and was caught in the situation that proved fatal.

Dies of Fall from Pole. MASON CITY, Ia., Sept. 19.—(Special Telegram.)—Grover Wines of Milford, Ia., employed here by the Western Electric Telephone company, broke his neck and died within a few minutes as a result of a fall from a thirty-foot telephone pole this evening.

Iowa News Notes. IDA GROVE—While Thelma Carlson of Kiron lies very low in a hospital here and her death is expected any day from pneumonia, her mother died suddenly from a stroke of apoplexy.

GLENWOOD—Ernest Moore, who claims that his age is 13 years, but who appears older, was arrested and lodged in the Glenwood jail yesterday charged with raising a check from $1 to $50. Sheriff Bushnell brought him from the coal mines in Appanoose county.

LOGAN—A good roads meeting will be held here this evening, September 19, at which time I. J. Kirker of Des Moines will address the meeting on "National Good Roads." Kirker claims that he is not boasting any particular road, but all roads. A good roads meeting was held at Woodbine this evening.

IDA GROVE—County Auditor Richard Varner has received notice from Secretary A. H. Davison of the state executive council to the effect that Ida county must levy the special tax for state capitol extension as provided by the late legislative session. Davison points out that the decision of Judge Hunter applies only to Van Buren county, where the suit was brought against county officials.

MINNOURI VALLEY—I. J. Kirker of Des Moines was the speaker before the Commercial club here last evening and talked on good roads for any particular locality, but for the entire state. He was given careful attention and about twenty-five men joined the National Good Roads association. Mr. Kirker will meet with the Commercial club at Woodbine this evening and with the Logan Commercial club Friday evening.

AMES—Today Registrar Herman Knapp had not counted the entire number of students enrolled at the state college. He had two clerks at work compiling the figures, but it may be several days before he can state the exact attendance. The last of the two regular registration days, when the total was 176 greater than the number of last year, the enrollment class is expected to reach 1,120 to 1,200, as against 859 in 1912.

When Scot Met Scot. The following Scotch tale is one of President Wilson's favorites: A Scotchman was strolling through the market place in Glasgow one day and close at his heels followed his faithful collie. Attracted by a fine display of shell and other fish, the Scot stopped to admire, perhaps to purchase. The dog stood by, gently wagging his tail. While his master engaged the fishmonger in conversation.

Unfortunate for the beast, its tail dropped for a moment over a big basket of fine, live lobsters. Instantly one of the largest lobsters snapped its claws on the tail and the surprised collie dashed off through the market yelping with pain, while the lobster lunged on grimly, though dashed violently from side to side. The fishmonger for a moment was speechless with indignation; then, turning to his respective customer, he bawled: "Man! man! whistle to yer dog, whistle to yer dog!" "Hoed, mon!" returned the other complacently, "whistle to yer lobster!"—Washington Post.

Pointed Paragraphs. It is natural for some women to act unattractively. Love based on pity is apt to come out in the laundry. Getting a husband is an art; keeping him is a domestic problem. PRIEST HAS BURIAL BLANKS

Papers Among Effects of Schmidt Add to Mystery.

MAY HAVE PLANNED MURDERS Photographed Copy of Death Certificate of One of His Parishioners is Also Found in Trunk.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Detectives delving further into the past of Hans Schmidt, the priest who murdered Anna Amuller, sought today to fathom what was in his mind last April when he photographed the death certificate of Robert Smith, one of his parishioners.

Photographs of this certificate and of blank forms issued by the Board of Health were found in Schmidt's trunk. The find led the police to believe that the priest either was making preparations to dispose of the Amuller girl or planned other murders. They questioned him about this certificate today, but his answers gave them little information.

The priest has evinced a tendency to answer all questions with the declaration that he was directed in his acts "by God and Abraham." To the belief that Schmidt planned other murders, the police are more inclined to the opinion that he was laying plans last April to be rid of the Amuller girl. They say that a skilled forger like the prisoner would have been able to have the bodies of the victims buried in any cemetery by filling out counterfeit blanks and forging the signatures. They believe that Schmidt caused the blanks to be photographed in order to obtain exact copies, so that he might have duplicates struck off in blank.

Another Woman in Case. Inspector Fauser announced today that he was looking for another woman in the case. He gave no details of what her connection with the matter might be. The only other woman whose name has thus far been associated with Schmidt's is known as Helen Green, from a letter found in Schmidt's trunk, in which she said she could not live without him. Her name was not signed to the letter, but the address and a telephone number led to her.

HYMENEAL Raymond-Reid. Miss Ida Reid and Clarence H. Raymond, both of Omaha, were married on Thursday at 3 30 p. m. by Rev. Charles W. Savidge at his study, 333 Brandeis Theater building. They were accompanied by Frank Reid, brother of the bride, and Miss Edith M. Vernon. They left for Denver at 4 p. m.

Hard Luck. Two negroes, after having disputed over a certain woman whom they both admired, decided to settle the matter by a watermelon duel. The winner to have the woman. Each prepared himself and appeared at the appointed hour. When the melons were consumed it was found that the larger negro had devoured the greater number. The smaller negro, having consumed the melon, wrote the following note to the winner: "Dear Mr. Washington: I admire your courage, but have decided to marry your opponent, realizing my inability to support any one with such an appetite as yours."—National Monthly.

Going Slow. George F. Baker, the noted financier, was for many years Mr. Pierpont Morgan's close friend, and in analyzing Mr. Morgan's success Mr. Baker once said to a New York correspondent: "He was not the impetuous, headlong man of action he has been pictured. He acted, but he acted deliberately. He once gave me this advice—advice which he always himself followed: 'Be sure you are right—then pause for reflection.'"—New York Mail.

JOY RIDE ENDS IN TRAGEDY

Woman is Shot in Neck and Two Men Are Killed.

POLICE LOOK FOR HUSBAND Beer Party in San Francisco Garage is Interrupted—Man Sought by Officers Estranged from Wife.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—As the climax of an all night joy ride Mrs. Kate Coulson, 33 years old, was shot in the neck early today and probably will die, while George Kovack, night watchman in a garage, and William Acker, chauffeur of the car, were shot dead. The police are scouring the city for A. R. Coulson, proprietor of a hatchery and feed store, who is the husband of the wounded woman.

Nobody saw or heard the shooting about 4 o'clock this morning. Jack Ricks, night watchman in a neighboring garage, heard uncertain footfalls outside his office window and found Mrs. Coulson barely conscious. She told her name.

Wonderful. "Mind reading? Nonsense!" said Hawkins contemptuously. "Nothing in it! I'll give you Ed. Jimmerson, if you'll read my mind right now. What am I thinking?"
