WILL GO TO SUPREME COURT Right of President to Withdraw Lands to Be Determined.

MANY LARGE TRACTS INVOLVED Point Comes Up in Trial of Midwest Oil Land Cases and Circuit Court Decides to Ask for Opinion.

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 30.—The United States circuit court of appeals for the Eighth district will ask the United States supreme court for a ruling on the question of the right of a president of the United States to withdraw public lands from entry.

This request is made in the Midwest Oil company case before the court of appeals for argument at the present session. It involves the ownership of oil lands in Wyoming.

In making his announcement Judge Hook stated that the court had determined upon this course "because of the important issues involved." Upon the determination of a president's right to withdraw public lands is said to hinge the ownership of extensive tracts of oil lands in Wyoming.

The outcome of the present case is expected also to have an important bearing on litigation involving public lands in other states.

Affects Many Large Tracts. Rich oil lands in California, aggregating an estimated total of more than 1,500,000 acres, have been entered upon since the withdrawal order by President Taft September 25, 1909, and prior to the withdrawal act of congress of June, 1910.

Title to all of this land is involved in the present suit, according to William Denman of San Francisco and Ernest Knaebel of Denver, special assistants to the attorney general of the United States. The Wyoming land involved totals about $6,000 acres.

Mr. Denman stated that the certifying of issues to the supreme court is highly satisfactory to the government and that it probably will bring a final decision a year sooner than had been expected.

The Midwest Oil company and others similarly situated assert that the withdrawal of the lands by President Taft as illegal and that all entries made before the act of congress are void. The contention of the government is that the president was authorized to withhold the land from entry, especially since the withdrawal order he specified that the land was needed by the nation to furnish oil for use of the navy.

Will Prepare Questions. The court today invited counsel for both sides to assist in preparing a list of questions to be submitted to the supreme court. When opinions in answer have been received the case will be argued in the United States circuit court of appeals and a decision rendered.

A recent decision in the United States district court in Wyoming was contrary to the government's contentions in the Midwest case. The court decided that the president was not authorized to withdraw land from settlement. From this decision the government appeals.

The man was once before entombed, a fall of coal in a mine at Ashland holding him a prisoner for many hours.

The town fell into the hands of the Albanians and the prisoners were sent under escort to Tirana.

North Platte Land Will Be Opened Up On the Date Fixed

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—(Special Telegram.) A proclamation opening to homestead entry 30,000 acres of forest reserve land in Grant and McPherson counties and a bill legalizing the system prescribed for the opening were signed by President Wilson today.

Registration will be made at North Platte, Valentine and Broken Bow October 15. On October 15 the drawing will be held at North Platte. On November 17 the fortunate entries will make entries on their land, Broken Bow and North Platte being designated for this purpose.

When it was proposed that the forest reserve be opened to settlement, October 1 was agreed upon as the date. Subsequently the validity of regulations that might be made for the opening was questioned and the passage of a special bill was necessary. Its signature today made possible the opening of the lands on the day originally set.

Los Angeles Man is Shot by Former Wife

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 30.—Rising from the breakfast table to answer the doorbell, Frank Ivy, a real estate dealer, was shot, probably fatally, today by his first wife in the presence of his second wife and their two babies. After firing two bullets into her divorced husband's abdomen, Mrs. Ivy dropped the revolver, Ivy picked up the gun and fired a bullet at the woman as she ran down the street.

Mrs. Ivy the first is now in jail, with a bullet wound in her leg. The shooting, according to all accounts, was the result of a quarrel over the divorced couple's 13-year-old daughter. The girl was given to the mother ago. Recently the child was taken from the mother and sent to Whittier reform school.

Mrs. Ivy blamed her husband for this and now has a suit pending against him in the superior court.

FAILURE TO PAY ALIMONY GROUND FOR EXTRADITION

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 30.—Willful failure to pay the divorced wife money for a dependent child, awarded to the mother, constitutes an extraditable offense according to Attorney General Owen. Under this opinion Governor McGovern has signed extradition papers for the return of John Starck, a Madison plumber, to the hospital on September 22 "on the advice of her physicians."

The Earl of Gifford, who was in the residence, succeeded in saving many of the valuable oil paintings and some of the finest furniture. No evidence was found to connect the suffragettes with the fire.

MAY BLOCK CURRENCY BILL Bristow Says There is Little Chance for it This Session.

DEMOCRATS ARE BADLY DIVIDED Hitecock, Reed and O'Gorman Are Off the Wilson Reservation—Several Minority Reports Are Probable.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Currency legislation loomed today as a paramount issue in the senate side of the capitol, with the administration tariff law within a few days of the statute books. A series of conferences at the White House and at the capitol endeavored to bring some sort of order out of the confused situation surrounding the administration currency bill in the senate banking and currency committee.

After Chairman Owen and Senator Shafer of the committee had discussed the situation with the president, they conferred with other members of the committee. None of the democratic members of the committee would venture a prophecy as to the course of the bill, but Senator Bristow of Kansas declared that he believed there was little chance of currency legislation at this session of congress.

Police Find New Clue in Rexroat Murder Mystery

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—Acting on an entirely new clue, State's Attorney Charles H. Hadley of Wheaton, at the head of a dozen Chicago detectives, today laid siege to a building in Hyde park, where they hoped to apprehend the slayer of Mrs. Mildred Allison Rexroat, the Tango teacher murdered near Wayne Friday night.

Hadley and Sheriff A. A. Kuhn came to Chicago following a tip from a young man who asserted he knew the identity of the slayer, who is supposed to have used the name of Spencer. The informant said the murderer formerly lived at Bushnell, Ill.; that he worked as a "bouncer" at a dance hall three years ago in an amusement park where Mrs. Rexroat was employed. He said the man attended the dance at Oleson's academy last Thursday night, when Mrs. Rexroat agreed to go to Wayne on the south side of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad of false hair which Mrs. Rexroat carried in a suit case she took with her on her fatal trip.

That the murderer is a man who, from his familiarity with the vicinity of Wheaton, is believed to have once resided there, is the belief of the officers. That he must have learned of a similar murder about two miles from where Mrs. Rexroat's body was found, which occurred two years ago, is also their belief.

That he came to Chicago some time last Saturday is indicated by the finding yesterday in the yards on the south side of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad of false hair which Mrs. Rexroat carried in a suit case she took with her on her fatal trip.

John Wesley, Negro Bandit, Came to His Death by Own Hands

That John Wesley, the negro who came to death in Ed Maurer's cell, Sunday morning, in the battle with the police, died by his own hand, has been proved by the autopsy which was held over the body by Dr. S. McClenaghan. The coroner's jury returned such a verdict yesterday when it was learned that the bullet had been recovered and that it was of .45 caliber, fitting the dead man's own weapon.

The terrific force of the missile tore half of the burglar's heart away and lodged in his back. There was another wound in one of his legs and this one, together with a furrow plowed along his cheek by still another bullet was attributed to Officer Cunningham. Wesley was likely wounded before he committed suicide and he must have realized that his chances of escaping were mighty slim.

Officer Cunningham is slowly improving at St. Joseph hospital.

SURGEONS ARE VICTIMS OF BLOOD POISONING

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Two New York surgeons were in a precarious condition today from blood poisoning as the result of an infection incurred in the performance of operations. Dr. Robert J. Morrison, head of the faculty at Williamsburg hospital, was at the point of death. A needle with which he pricked himself carried an operation on a child Saturday carried an infection which has spread throughout his arm and brought on a delirious fever.

Dr. Emil Boehm, head of the second surgical division of Bellevue hospital, is also in a dangerous condition, the result of an infection received while operating on a patient at Bellevue last Tuesday for removal of a carbuncle.

SERIOUS RIOTS AT CALUMET

Special Car with Strikebreakers from New York Attacked. DISORDER IN DISTRICT GENERAL

Disruption of Order Against Picketing is Followed by Numerous Attacks on Men on Way to Work.

CALUMET, Mich., Sept. 30.—Shots fired in two attacks on strikebreakers and numerous fights between union and non-union miners, marked the copper mine strike today.

A special car with thirty men from a New York detective agency, brought here by the Alhreck Mining company to assist in breaking the copper strike, was attacked, presumably by strikers, when it arrived at Ahmeek before dawn. A number of shots were fired at the car and the fire was returned. The car windows were broken by stones hurled at them, but no one was hurt. When a barricade across the tracks prevented the car from reaching the mine it was brought back to Calumet.

A few hours later when the men returned to Ahmeek in automobiles, many shots again were exchanged. Only one of the automobiles was hit and as far as known no one on the other side was wounded.

Disorder rampant in the Calumet and Keweenaw districts today following the dissolution by Circuit Judge O'Brien of the injunction against picketing and interference with workmen by strikers. Attacks on men going to work were numerous and several arrests were made by military and civil officers. The strikers were wildly demonstrative and women sympathizers again were much in evidence. Two women were among those arrested.

Dinner pails were snatched from workmen and smashed on the streets and the officers were hooted. General P. L. Ahbey, in charge of the 200 state troops, considers the situation serious.

Not a man reported for work at the Mohawk mine this morning, due to threats by strikers last night. The mine fires died out and the town of Mohawk was without fire protection and water supply.

It is expected that the disturbances of this morning will lead to the application by the mining companies for a restraining order against intimidation and violence.

All Omaha and tens of thousands from Nebraska and western Iowa will be on hand this evening, for every indication is that the crowd will equal if not surpass that of any other year. If the floral parade of yesterday may be taken as any criterion there are more strangers within the city's gates than for any other fall festival. Farmers are all elated over the recent rains which have put the soil in most excellent condition for fall planting and are flocking to Omaha to celebrate by joining the merry-makers at the fall festival.

Parade Starts Early. The parade will leave the Den early so that a prompt start may be made from Sixteenth and Cumings streets. Twenty bands will furnish the music for the beautiful electrical pageant, which will be the prime feature of this year's parade. While beauty will be the principal aim of the floats a touch of comic will be added here and there to give life and to provide fun along the long line of march.

As usual the board of governors will be in the spectacle, following a platoon of police headed by superintendent of Police Hyder and Chief of Police Dunn. Mayor Dahlman will not have to hand over the keys of the city from a soap box or suspended by a rope from his window in the House of Dahlman because some loyal followers have provided a huge stand from which the keys will be presented with due eclat.

The evening performance of the wild west show at the Auditorium will be held until after the parade and all theaters announce that the curtain on their evening shows will not rise until the parade has passed.
