MRS. SULZER BORROWS CASH

Governor Gets Loan from Brokers to Aid Him.

EXECUTIVE ALSO SPECULATED

Books of Stock Exchange Firm Show that He Lost Large Sums of Money During Three Years' Trading.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Mrs. William Sulzer had borrowed money from the Carnegie Trust company of New York, and it was to aid her in her financial difficulties that she borrowed from the stock exchange firm of Harris & Fuller. This was the explanation which Melville B. Fuller, head of the firm, a witness, today at the impeachment trial, said the governor made to him.

The books of the stock exchange firm of Harris & Fuller, with whom Governor Sulzer dealt for three years, were changed two days before his inauguration so that it appeared that instead of his account being a speculative one, the firm had merely loaned the governor money, according to evidence adduced at his impeachment trial today.

How Books Were Changed.
Melville B. Fuller, head of the firm, who produced the books, testified that a "cross entry" had been made in the governor's account under date of December 30, 1912, showing that the firm had loaned him $40,000, or the debit balance against the account on previous stock transactions. These dated back to early in 1910, and there was put into evidence letters showing that during that time the firm had repeatedly called on the governor for more margin because of the steady decline of the stock involved in the account. Some of the securities Mr. Sulzer had bought through the firm, others he had deposited as margin against those he had bought, and at the same time had borrowed money on them. His total borrowings, including the $40,000 debited against him in the "cross entry" transaction, amounted to $180,000, according to the books.

Why Entry Was Made.
The "cross entry" was made, Fuller testified, because his partner thought "it would not be wise to have stock floating around the street in Governor Sulzer's name."

Otherwise, as is frequently the case in margin accounts, the stock might find its way into the collateral put up in the firm's transactions with banks.

Attorney Kregel for the impeachment managers, intimated that this "cross entry" was not made on December 30, 1912, but at a later date. The books showed that on June 15, 1913, another "cross entry" had been made after a check for $5,000 given by former Governor A. E. Sprague of Montana had been paid into the account and the balance on the stock had been credited and interest charged. These latter transactions reduced the governor's debit balance to about $35,000 and the second "cross entry" showed that on that date the firm had made the governor a new loan of $35,000. Joseph Choate, former ambassador to Great Britain, and Henry White, former ambassador to France, were spectators at the afternoon session.

When Fuller resumed the stand he identified a note written by Governor Sulzer to his partner in return to the Sprague check. It read:

"That Governor Sprague says is agreeable to me."
Fuller said that the Sprague message related the account and that the outcome of the conference was that Lieut. Governor Joseph L. J. Josephthal of the militia, a member of the governor's staff, took up the account on July 15.

Josephthal came, he said, with a card from the governor asking him to close the transaction.
"Please carry out the suggestion of the bearer and oblige me," it read.

"The suggestion was that we transfer the account to him," said the witness. "We refused to do so until the governor presented a proper order."

"Did he present the order?"
"He did."

Kregel produced the order. Fuller said he had never seen it until it was produced before the Fraxley investigating committee and could not say whether it was the same now as at the time it was presented. It was dated July 14, 1913, and read:

"Please deliver to J. M. Josephthal the securities held as collateral for my loan on payment of balance due thereon."

It was signed "William Sulzer, for Mrs. Sulzer."

"Did Mrs. Sulzer ever have anything to do with this account?"
"No."

"Did she at any time ever call at your office?"
"No."

"Did your firm ever have any communication from Mrs. Sulzer?"
"No."

"Did she ever pay any money to your firm in connection with this account?"
"No."

FATHER BRONGEST'S BROTHER IS HONORED

Rev. Henry Brongest, S. J., of St. Louis, brother to Rev. M. Brongest, S. J., pastor of St. John's Catholic church, Omaha, was the central figure at a large celebration in the Missouri metropolis Sunday. Father Brongest had completed twenty-five successful years as pastor of the St. Francis Xavier's church there and upon the occasion of the anniversary was given a warm welcome by Archbishop J. J. Glenn. There was also a beautiful program of sacred music given in his honor.

READY FOR BARS TO FALL

Sixty-Seven Million Dollars in Goods in Bond in New York.

COMPETITION AMONG IMPORTERS

Rivalry to Get Merchandise First on the Market After Tariff Bill is Effective Has Become Intense.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—A practical demonstration of one result of the new tariff law will be given almost as soon as it is signed by President Wilson. Huge quantities of foreign-made merchandise were imported and will be thrown on the markets at large centers throughout the country.

For the last two months importers have been storing goods in bonded warehouses, to be there until they may be admitted under the lower rates to be provided in the new law. Figures compiled by the Journal of Commerce show that goods in bond in New York alone on August 31 were valued at $7,301,000, and since that time the total has increased largely.

"While we were in a way prepared for a holdup of imports," said a warehouse man today, "I never dreamed the goods would accumulate as they have."

Keen competition exists among importers to be first on the market with goods brought in under the new law and arrangements have been made for distribution in the shortest possible time after the law is in effect.

While it is said that in some cases decided changes would be made in wholesale prices, no estimates were obtainable as to the probable effect on retail prices.

Statistics of the goods on hand in New York bonded warehouses show that the largest amounts of money are represented in linens, hats, silk dressgoods, tobacco, wools, champagne and sugar.

Cavalry and Field Artillery Being Rushed to Border

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Sept. 30.—Two squadrons of the Third cavalry, one machine gun platoon of the Third cavalry and Battery C of the Third field artillery are being rushed in three special trains to Eagle Pass this afternoon. No definite reason was given at department headquarters regarding the movement.

EAGLE PASS, Tex., Sept. 30.—All Americans in Piedras Negras have been instructed by Consul Blocker to leave for the American side before 7 o'clock tonight. The reason for the order has not been made public, but it is believed the American authorities intend to take a decided stand against the destruction of property, including the international bridge.

All Americans who persist in remaining in Piedras Negras after 7 o'clock tonight will forfeit the protection of the American government, according to notice sent out today by Consul Blocker, made public this afternoon.

BUSINESS ROADS ARE NEEDED

Representative Shackelford Throws Bomb Into Detroit Meeting.

TOURING ROADS NOT ESSENTIAL

Congressman Says Million Miles of Roads Connecting Farms with Railroad Stations Should Be Built in Five Years.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 30.—Urging support of "business roads" as opposed to so-called "touring roads," United States Representative Dorsey W. Shackelford, chairman of the house committee on roads, in an address before the American road congress here today, admitted he was "not in harmony with the dominant spirit" of the congress. He urged support for the "business roads" plan, which, he said, aimed for "cheaper transportation and lower cost of living."

"The 'touring roads' class," declared Representative Shackelford, "demands that the United States shall limit its road activities to the construction and maintenance of a few 'ocean-to-ocean' and 'across country' highways of great perfection and then leave the rest of the people to build their own roads, or do without, as they choose. The 'business roads' class believes that in dealing with roads we must keep in mind easy communication between the farms and the towns and the railway stations so the farmer may make his crops at less expense and the town dealer may get farm products easily and at less cost."

Too Much Centralization.
"The 'touring roads' class desires to get away as far as possible from local control. To accomplish this a bill is now pending in congress which provides that a new office shall be created—that of public highway commissioner, who shall keep his office at Washington, where he may not be influenced or even impressed by the yearnings of people among whom the roads should radiate. The bill also provides that all questions as to location, method of construction and maintenance shall be finally determined by the commissioner of public highways."

"If such a provision as that shall ever be written into a federal law, the joy-ride will, indeed, reign supreme."

Million Miles of Road Needed.
"It is not a road, nor yet a few roads that we want. What we must have is a general system of good roads extending throughout the length and breadth of the land."

"You want 50,000 miles of expensive 'touring roads' to be built in forty years. I want a million miles of 'business and postroads' to be built in five years. I appeal to you to withdraw your opposition to a people's plan, which we desire to pass through congress at the next session. Our plan will not be expensive and a vast majority of the people favor it."

SERIOUS CATARRH YIELDS TO HYOMEL

Be wise in time and use Hyomel at the first warning of catarrh.

Do not let the disease extend along the delicate mucous membrane, gradually going from the nose to the throat, thence into the bronchial tubes, and downward until the lungs are reached and you are in danger of consumption. Hyomel will effectively relieve all curable forms and stages of catarrh. It is so uniformly successful that it is always sold on money back if not benefited plan.

There is no other treatment for catarrh that is like Hyomel or just as good. None can take its place, none give such quick and sure relief and at so little cost. This treatment is breathed through a pocket inhaler that comes with every original outfit, thus reaching the remote cells of the air passages, killing the catarrhal germs and soothing and healing the irritated mucous membrane.

Begin the use of Hyomel today and you will soon find that the offensive breath, the droppings into the throat and the discharge from the nose, sniffing and all other symptoms of catarrh are overcome. The complete outfit containing inhaler and bottle of liquid costs but $1.00. Extra bottles of liquid, if later needed, 50 cents by druggists everywhere.

Diplomatic Corps Votes to Recognize Republic of China

PEKING, China, Sept. 30.—A vote favoring the recognition of the Chinese republic was passed today at a meeting of the diplomatic corps. The question of the date of the recognition will be discussed at a meeting October 2.

It was the intention to recognize the republic after the election of a president, which probably will take place October 8.

A committee consisting of members of both houses of parliament which is studying the laws relating to the presidency apparently favors a five-year term of office and the eligibility of the holder for re-election once.

The supporters of Provisional President Yuan Shi Kai assert today that his election is assured.

SEARCH EMPLOYEES' HOUSES

No Prosecutions Will Follow and None of the Working Force Will Be Discharged—McCollogue to Board of Control.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
DES MOINES, Sept. 30.—(Special Telegram.)—Sixty dozen pairs of asserted stockings were recovered by detectives from the houses of the employees of the Des Moines Hosiery mills following the discovery of wholesale thefts from the factory. Thirty dozen pairs were taken from one man's house. The remaining thirty dozen pairs were secured in searches or were returned by twelve employees. The company agreed not to prosecute nor discharge any of the employees.

Mason City Man Named.
The governor has appointed J. H. McCollough, a lawyer of Mason City, to be member of the State Board of Control to succeed the late Senator Wade and he will enter upon his duties soon. He is a life-long democrat and was a member of the state tax commission. He was strongly urged for appointment by men of all parties.

Iowa News Notes.
DENISON—Albert Kruthoff and Gus Hitz, two young Germans living a few miles southwest of this city, had a narrow escape from injury last evening. They were returning toward home driving a single horse. When about 300 feet from the Northwestern road the animal became unmanageable and dashed toward the track upon which a fast train was passing. The men jumped and the horse charged the engine, striking it at the drive wheels, killing the animal at once.
