Bids on wheat in Chicago were still out of line, for the American grown grain and the business was said to have been at a standstill in consequence.

The feature of the wheat market at Chicago, as well as the controlling factor yesterday, was the heavy buying of the May future by the Armour Grain company. That concern is recognized as the largest holder of wheat in the Chicago market, and its officials volunteer information that wheat is worth the present price. The cash transactions in Chicago yesterday were only 35,000 bushels. Cash handlers report interior millers as again able to secure all the wheat needed from their local territory, and these interests are in the Chicago market only when farmers at home are too busy plowing for wheat to haul the grain to the mills.

some of the best authorities in the spring wheat country say that receipts of wheat in the northwest are to fall off sharply, and that arrivals at Minneapolis and Duluth are now mainly old sales.

Cash wheat was 1813c higher.

While the exportable surplus of corn of Argentina has been claimed all along as small, a cablegram received here yesterday stated that the southern hemisphere holders were pressing their grain for sale at New York on a basis of 73c. It is a difficult matter to secure the amount of the stocks of any grain in Argentina, pwing to the wide territory which has to be covered in order to secure figures.
