At the Theaters

Belleville quartet, and Frank Whitman as Shadow, his partner in crime. Billed as the master musician, Lambert is to be another feature of this week's entertainment. Famous composer he portrays, and made up to look like each of them, he not only plays their favorite compositions, but likewise depicts their mannerisms. A quintet made up of five attractive young women and a young man offer a musical act that promises to be exceptionally pleasing. Six pianos are used in the performance of the "Five Melody Maids and a Man." A separate instrument is allotted to each member of the company. They sing well in addition to their effective piano playing. Phila, assisted by a trio of boys and girls, sings, dances and offers an act of spirited entertainment, while Herbert and Nelson present in two scenes an amusing comedy sketch called "The Luckiest Day of His Life." Songs, dances and stories are the chief elements of their performance. The Swain and Osman trio do a comedy tumbling routine, styling themselves "Cyclone Bump Friends." Another athletic act is provided by Ballinger and Reynolds. One of them performs on a tight wire and the other on a slack wire. Joe Hurlig's "Ginger Girls" will be presented at the popular Gayety theater during the week starting this afternoon. Ed Lee Wrothe appears again as "Janitor Higgins." He really introduces himself as "Higgins" with so much realism that he succeeds in carrying his audience with him from his janitor station to the gold fields and back again. Jane La Beau scores heavily with the introduction of "My Seminole Maid," an Indian love story told in word, song and dance. Henry P. Nelson, as "Schnapps," a German summer resort keeper; Fay St. Claire and Luella Temple, two captivating comedienne; the Alpine quartet and Owen Martin will be among those who are most prominent in the support of the star. The musical portion of the "Ginger Girls" has not been overlooked and will present a program of a score of most tuneful ditties and ensembles. Twenty-four winning girls with tuneful voices and cheerful faces will complement the beauty rows of the show girls and the dancing specialties. Like all of the Hurlig shows this one will display a wonderful array of stage settings and gorgeous costumes. Every evening during the week's engagement Ed Lee Wrothe will officiate as doorman at the theater. Ladies' dime matinee daily starting tomorrow.

The bill at the Empress, beginning Sunday is headed by The Savoy and their acrobatic bull terriers. The act consists of four full blooded Boston bull terriers and three English bull terriers who in their specialty and they do a number of clever athletic stunts, such as bag-punching, etc. Skipper, Kennedy and Reeves, the singing fun makers, are good singers. Sampson and Douglas, an odd pair, presenting a great deal of song and dance patter, will feature quick changes and eccentric make-up. Gilbert and North present the comedy sketch called "The Beautiful Man and the Maid," and will complete the vaudeville offering for the week. The usual number of photo plays will be offered and will include an educational picture at every program. The regular hours for opening and for vaudeville shows will come into vogue, the show starting at noon with pictures, and the first matinee beginning at 2 o'clock. The second at 4:30, with pictures during the supper hour; and the second performance at 7:30, and the first evening performance at 8:30, and the second at 9:30 and the last one at 9:15. Some reserved seats are available. AUDITORIUM STOCKHOLDERS ELECT DIRECTORS MONDAY. A meeting of the stockholders of the Auditorium will vote Monday for the new board of directors for the ensuing year. The ballot box will be open from noon until 4 o'clock.
