

FEDERAL GAME LAW CHANGE

New Act Prohibits December Hunting on Larger Streams.

AFFECTS THE MISSOURI RIVER

No Shooting of Migratory Birds on This Waterway at Time Specified Between Blinn and Nebraska City.

(From a Staff Correspondent)

LINCOLN, Oct. 6.—(Special.)—Game Warden Gust Rutenbeck has received a copy of the new federal game law passed by the present congress.

One provision of the law which has heretofore allowed an open season on migratory birds of one month during December, now entirely cuts out the open season and makes it unlawful to hunt them at all in waters of main streams of the Mississippi river between Minneapolis and Memphis and also of the Missouri river between Blinn, N. D., and Nebraska City.

Gillan Talks of Dawson.

George C. Gillan of Lexington, formerly county attorney of Dawson county, while waiting for a chance to pass into the executive presence said that notwithstanding the dry weather up in his county, there was going to be a pretty fair crop. "Very frequently," said he, "I hear a farmer say that his corn will run from twenty-five to forty bushels to the acre, while his alfalfa will produce a good crop. Dawson county has a great crop of alfalfa this year and I think leads the state in production, according to reports sent out."

Timber in Nebraska.

Although Nebraska is considered a prairie state, according to figures prepared by the State Board of Agriculture, there are 362,745 acres of timber in the state.

Otoe county has the largest amount of timber, with 36,506 acres. Holt county stands second, with 19,808 acres; Cass county third, with 18,872, and Webster county fourth, with 17,511 acres. Of the counties reporting timber and Blinn has the least acreage of timber, each reporting but thirty-five acres.

Fish Planted in Blue.

Fish Commissioner O'Brien and Game Warden Rutenbeck were out with the fish car along the Blue river last week and planted fish at Milford, Seward and Utica and sent a lot to Erickson.

State Pays Some Bills.

It is evident that when Governor Morehead said that he intended to pay all the expenses at the governor's mansion that he did not mean it to include everything, a bill coming in this morning from a local plumbing firm attached to a voucher O. K. A. by the governor for $1.50 for cleaning out valves in the heating plant at the executive abode.

Judge Undergoes Operation.

Associate Justice J. E. Barnes of the supreme court submitted to an operation at a hospital in this city Sunday. The operation was successful and the judge is doing well this morning. He will probably be able to resume his duties in about two weeks.

Pool Has Bulletin Giving Information About School Land

(From a Staff Correspondent)

LINCOLN, Oct. 6.—(Special.)—A bulletin issued by Charles W. Pool, of the state bureau of labor and statistics, contains an article on the school lands of the state as follows:

Nebraska acquired, for the benefit of her educational institutions, 2,960,377.53 acres of land, and at the close of the year 1912 still owned 1,341,863.09 acres, all revenues from which are placed in the temporary school fund.

The permanent school fund is derived from the sale of educational lands, so-called estates and ten per cent of the purchase price of public lands sold within the state, and is invested in interest bearing bonds, the amount so invested at the end of the biennium, November 30, 1912, was $2,377,957.54.

On January 5, 1912, there were 7,150 school districts in the state and 350 graded schools, to say nothing of the many private and parochial schools, a list of which we have been unable to procure. These 7,150 schools employed 10,925 teachers, of whom 9,489 were females and 1,436 were males. The instructors received a total of $5,086,770.30, of which amount the females drew $4,877,979.26, an average of $51.31 per month, while the males drew a total of $208,791.04, an average of $76.02 per month.

During the school year 1911-12 a total of 28,230 attended school, of whom 14,286 were boys and 13,944 were girls. In 1910 the average wage paid male teachers was $28 per month; to females, $53 per month. In 1912 the average wage paid males was $76.02; to females, $51.31, the average wage paid in 1912 being the same as in 1911. The average wage which date a reliable record of such employment has been kept by the state superintendent.

The legislature of 1913 passed an act providing aid for agricultural high schools, and appropriated $15,000 to be divided among such schools. Each school is required to have at least five acres of ground under lease, or own that much, to be used for agricultural purposes before state aid is given. In addition to this school must have a department of domestic science and manual training, and the teacher in the agricultural department of the school must be one especially trained for this work. In a school approved by the state superintendent the state agricultural college. The schools designated by the state superintendent are as follows: Alliance, Alma, Aurora, Beatrice, Blair, Gothenburg, Hastings, Holdrege, Kimbark, Kearney, Lincoln, O'Neill, Pawnee City, Red Cloud, South Omaha, St. Paul, Stromberg, Tecumseh, Wahoo, York and Crete. The amount of money given to each school will depend on the equipment of the school and the manner in which the work is carried out by each school.

NEBRASKA'S RESOURCES BIG IN SPITE OF THE DROUTH

COUNTY SUES FOR INTEREST

Furnas Ex-Treasurer's Case Reaches Supreme Court.

MONEY HELD OUT OF COUNTY

No Safe Place Provided in Precincts of County and Official Placed Cash Where He Drew Interest Upon It.

(From a Staff Correspondent)

LINCOLN, Oct. 6.—(Special.)—The state supreme court has been appealed to by the county of Furnas in a case in which suit was brought in the district court of that county against former County Treasurer Berton F. Moore claiming that the latter had loaned county money to certain individuals during his term of office from which he received interest and had failed to turn the same over to the county.

Mr. Moore set out in his defense that the county provided no secure place where he could keep the money after all of the depositories of the county had received their full share and that he was compelled at his own expense to find some place to put the money where it would be safe and that under those circumstances he had a right to place it where he considered it would be safe and as he was responsible for its safety he had a right to receive the interest.

Yetter Company Appeals.

W. L. Yetter & Co. of Omaha appeal to the supreme court from a judgment secured against them by John W. Walters in the district court of Douglas county in the amount of $7,500 for injuries received while unloading a car of wall paper from a car on the track of the Chicago & Great Western in Omaha. Walters claimed in court that in hurrying to get the car unloaded that night he slipped on some snow which had drifted into the car and was permanently injured. He sued for $15,000.

To Draft Roads Bill.

A good roads convention comprising delegates from all of the state has been called to meet at St. Louis, November 19 to 21, at which the principal business will be to draft a good roads bill to be submitted to congress for passage.

Arrested Bank Note.

The state auditor's office also received a communication from F. C. Leary of Indianapolis, Ind., saying: "I have a bank note issued by the Bank of Tekamah, Neb., in 1859. I want to know if you will redeem the bill if I should send it to you."

According to Secretary Royce of the State Banking Board, there is no recourse for Mr. Leary in the way of cashing in on the bill, as at the time it was issued there was no state banking board and consequently the banks were not under jurisdiction of the state. He cannot collect from the men who ran the bank at that time, because the bank has gone out of existence and the law of exemptions would bar him. The only way he can possibly get his money is to depend upon the good nature of the former owners of the bank to redeem the bill.

Ames Team Pleased

Gophers' Score Was Not Much Larger

AMES, Ia., Oct. 6.—(Special.)—Surprised at the Cyclones holding the Gophers to so low a score as 25 points rather than being surprised at defeat, Coach Hubbard started out this afternoon with his catalogue enriched by the weaknesses and defects of the line as shown up at Minneapolis Saturday, on two weeks of readjustment and more hard work in preparation for the first of the Missouri Valley conference games, that with Washington university at St. Louis a week from next Saturday. The coming week-end is the open date of the schedule and scrimmage will go straight through the two weeks excepting only Sunday, when the grind probably will be reduced to the form of a hike to have the squad in good order for an early start next week.

The coaches are glad that the squad got away from Minneapolis in good order physically. The wet field is given credit for the absence of casualties on the hospitality list. The kicking tactics that both lines resorted to on account of the sloppy gridiron saved the line from a lot of butchering.

Tiernan, left end, who bore the brunt of Minnesota's around the end slashing offense, is given credit for playing his end exceedingly well in the face of the odds he was up against. He plowed into the Gopher backfield, which tore around his position, and time and again broke into and seriously hindered the battering offense of the lumberman's backfield.

Cubs and White Sox Begin Battle Today for Chicago Title

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—The first game to decide the base ball championship of the city of Chicago will be played here tomorrow, starting at 2 o'clock, between the Chicago teams of the American and National leagues.

The weather forecast is for clear skies. Both teams had their final workouts today and each is in fineettle for the crucial series.

President Comiskey of the American league club indicated that "Big Ed" Walsh, who has been the mainstay of the American leaguers in the previous series between the two rival clubs, would be in the game tomorrow. Walsh has been of little use this season on account of a strained ligament in his pitching arm. He visited a surgeon in Youngstown, O., and was assured he would be as good as ever. Walsh has worked cautiously since his visit to Youngstown and Friday he told Owner Comiskey that he was anxious to face Manager Evers' team.

Special Agents Mathews and Cashman of the Union Pacific detective force have been spotting the men and today with the assistance of Detectives Sullivan and Leahy visited the Sibilier home and found most of the stolen merchandise, amounting to about $500. The authorities will investigate the records of the brothers still further and feel satisfied that a number of other robberies will be traced to the pair.
