

By MELLIFICIA. Wednesday, October 8, 1913.

SPECTATORS were disappointed at the Ak-Sar-Ben ball, for not a diaphanous gown was worn on this occasion; one of the spectators had her opera glasses and told me so. The French fashion books have had columns and illustrations by the score, and travelers returning from the larger cities of the east and of Europe have had much to say about the new gowns, but the western woman is probably too modest to appear in them.

One modest young matron said, "Well, I am not criticising anyone. I started to the ball with my new gown, which is made rather tight around the hem, so that there was a slash of perhaps three inches; in fact, I made the dressmaker sew up the slash almost entirely, but when I returned home the slash reached to the knee; the dressmaker had only basted the seam!"

One of the visiting women had rather a ludicrous experience—she had ordered new shoes, just the exact shade of her gown, but the shoes being new, were not very comfortable, so she donned an old pair of bronze slippers belonging to her hostess and planned to change just before leaving for the ball. Imagine her surprise later in the evening at the Den, when she glanced down at her feet and discovered her friend's old slippers.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you, drink lots of water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, natural salt which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 300 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a teaspoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with bicarbonate and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent little-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

DISMISSED ON ONE CHARGE. REARRESTED ON THREE

Samuel Falter, pawnbroker, 314 South Tenth street, was brought before Judge Foster, charged with petit larceny. The complaint was filed by Herman Klehn of Fremont, who testified to the effect that he purchased a watch for $15, which, according to Falter, was a bargain at that price.

Albert Edholm and Fred Brodegaard, called in to give expert testimony on the article sold, stated that the watch was worth barely a fraction of the price. Falter was dismissed on the charge of petit larceny, but a new charge of obtaining money under false pretenses was filed against him. A hearing on the new complaint was set for October 14.

TEACHERS TO HAVE MUSIC

State Association Will Be Given Extraordinary Treat.

COLLEGIAN QUARTET TO SING

Will Wander Around Various Division Meetings and Give Selections—Mme. Galski to Close Entertainment.

For the first time in forty-eight years the Nebraska State Teachers' association will furnish a quartet to sing to the teachers as they work out their educational problems. After considering the employment of yodelers, orchestras, wandering fiddlers and cabaret performers, the committee compromised on the high class Collegian quartet and the same was instructed to wander around the city from one division to another and sing whatever song would most please the visitors.

In addition to this quartet the Commercial club has secured Mme. Johanna Galski to sing at the closing meeting.

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National Suffrage society, will deliver an address before the teachers and it is rumored it may be the cause of an attempt to instill an aggressive suffrage spirit into the association. A resolution endorsing woman suffrage and a call for the ballot for women of the state may follow Dr. Shaw's address if the will of local suffragists gains control.

Local Educators to Speak.

When this forty-eighth annual convention of the teachers of the state meets the first week in November the visiting teachers will be confronted with an array of program talent the like of which has not heretofore been seen. Following are some of the speakers:

State Superintendent M. P. Shawkey of West Virginia, Miss Katherine D. Blake of New York, Prof. T. P. Giddings of Minneapolis, Dr. Alexander Meiklejohn of Amherst college, Hon. O. T. Corson of Ohio, Dr. Nathaniel Butler of Chicago, Prof. E. R. Hedrick of the University of Missouri, Dr. Anna Howard Shaw of New York, Chancellor Samuel Avery of Nebraska.

Meetings of the several divisions of the association have been arranged and the preliminary program announces the subjects to be discussed and the speakers. The general meetings will be held in the Auditorium and in churches; the division meetings in churches and schools.

Local educators who appear on the program are: Dr. D. E. Jenkins, Anna L. Peterson, W. A. Yoder, Effie Reed, Walter N. Halsey, Ellen N. Frankish, Mary Sullivan, Dr. R. W. Connell, Dr. H. M. McClanahan, H. A. Senter, Dr. E. Holovitchner, C. G. Linn, Edith I. Haight, Mrs. Nora H. Lemon, Edith Tobitt, C. E. Reed.

Subjects to be discussed at the division meetings indicate the teachers will attempt to point the way for a more "practical" education for school children.

Zancanella's Suit for Heavy Damages Gets Second Trial

The second trial of the $15,000 damage suit, brought by Fortunio Zancanella against the street railway company as the result of an accident July 14, 1900, which caused the loss of his leg, has begun in Judge Sutton's district court. A jury gave Zancanella a verdict in the first trial, but the supreme court sent the case back for another trial.

When the case was pending in supreme court Zancanella, hobbled to Lincoln in a snowstorm to learn the cause of a delay which he could not understand. The accident occurred at Twenty-fourth and G streets, South Omaha. He has since been again injured in a street car accident and has another suit pending against the company.

Attempts to Unload Insane Man in Omaha

An argument ensued at the Union passenger station yesterday between the local authorities and Second Assistant Superintendent John C. Evans of the Oregon State insane asylum, when the latter attempted to leave John Davis of Winona, Minn., in Omaha awaiting the arrival of his relatives, who agreed to be here to care for Davis. Evans is taking thirteen insane persons back to New York; their native state, and in the party had the Minnesota, of whose charge he was to have been relieved here.

Two officers were dispatched to the depot to watch the car and see that the undesired man was not unloaded against the wishes of the local officials.

Taking Toll of Babies.

Each season of the year takes its toll of the babies, and to watch and safeguard them from common colds and coughs is a matter of importance to their parents. To keep Foley's Honey and Tar Compound in the house and use it promptly is to save the little ones from the serious effects of these colds, to ward off croup, bronchial coughs, hoarseness, stuffy, wheezy breathing and violent coughing spells. It is absolutely free of opiates and may be given to the little ones with no fear of harmful results. Refuse substitutes. For sale by all dealers everywhere.—Advertisement.

Smooth, Hairless Skin Follows This Treatment

(Toilet Time) Among the home beauty helps, none perhaps is more important than that which will free the skin from obnoxious hairy growths. A simple method to rid the skin of unsightly hairs is to make a paste by mixing powdered talcum with water and applying for about 2 minutes, then washing off. With it comes every bit of hair and when the skin is washed, it will be firm and free from blemish. Results are more satisfactory if the talcum is bought in an original package.

Couple is Charged With Violation of White Slave Law

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Houchans, alias Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton, 221 Leavenworth street, were arrested Tuesday afternoon by Detectives Dunn and Kennelly charged with a violation of the Mann white slave act.

The arrest was made on complaint of H. J. Swanker of Afton, Ia., who asserts that his 18-year-old daughter, Iona, was persuaded to accompany Houchans and his wife to Omaha, where it is charged the pair aided in her delinquency.

The girl, who is at present being cared for by Matron Gibbons at the police station, asserts that she came to Omaha with Houchans and his wife with the understanding that she would make big money at an honorable occupation. Before leaving Osceola, Ia., where she was employed as a waitress, she wrote her father to the effect that upon arrival in Omaha she accompanied the Houchans from one boarding place to another. While here she took the name of Iona Brown.

Her father suspicious of his daughter's letter, hastened to Omaha, where, with the aid of the local detective department, he soon located the residence of the trio. Dunn and Kennelly, detailed to the case, waited their opportunity and Tuesday afternoon succeeded in finding the three together at the Leavenworth street address. Houchans and his wife will be turned over to the federal authorities, while the Swanker girl will be held as complaining witness against the pair.

REV. AND MRS. SUNDERLAND ARE VISITING THEIR SONS

Rev. James Sunderland, D. D., and wife, of Oakland, Cal., are spending this week in Omaha enroute to the coast, visiting their sons, James A. and Ralph E. Sunderland.

Dr. Sunderland has resided in California for more than twenty years, having been active in the Baptist ministry until a few years ago, when the temporary loss of his sight from cataract made it necessary for him to give up the work. His interest in Omaha is very keen, as he has been a frequent visitor at the homes of his sons.

Praises Wharton and Omaha Postoffice

Postmaster John C. Wharton has received a letter from Daniel C. Roper, first assistant postmaster at Washington, commending him on the growth of the Omaha postoffice, as stated in The Bee last week. The letter follows: "My Dear Judge Wharton: I acknowledge receipt and thank you for your letter of the 3d inst., and the marked copy of The Omaha Bee. The figures to which you direct my attention are very interesting and I congratulate you on the growth of the service at Omaha and the manner in which you are handling it. You are fully justified in being proud of yourself and the Omaha postoffice. I have placed your letter in the file, where it will have due consideration in connection with your request for additional service."

The SEMI-MONTHLY MAGAZINE SECTION

of THE OMAHA BEE
All Star Artists Number

on Sunday, October 12th

"YES OR NO"

By Harrison Fisher

Mr. Fisher has "spread himself" on this charming picture, which is beautifully reproduced in colors as the cover design of our next Semi-Monthly Magazine. It shows an ideal Fisher Girl and a handsome suitor—the girl debating as to whether she shall surrender or whether she shall turn him down, so to say.

"THE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF THEIR ELOPEMENT"

By Charles Dana Gibson

At the age of seventy-odd the dear old couple shown in this picture are a bit antique after their fifty years of matrimony but—they are still in love. And this picture, in which Mr. Gibson, by the way, returns to the early style which made him famous, shows it. It's a heart-to-heart story drawn by the great American master in black and white.

"AN INTERLUDE"

By William Chase

Seldom is W. M. Chase persuaded to do a painting for popular publication—but he has made an exception in painting this $12,000 picture for the Semi-Monthly Magazine. It shows the dean of American painters at his very best—a picture full of charm and sentiment and genius.

"TWO BEGGARS"

By Howard Chandler Christy

Besides the two beggars, who are naturally a man and a dog, a typical Christy girl is gloriously portrayed in this full-page picture—one of the best things Mr. Christy has ever done. The girl, of course, is being besieged by the poor slave of a man, to say nothing of the dog.

"TOWARD THE PROMISED LAND"

By Andre Castaigne

This dramatic picture of the crowded steerage of a Transatlantic liner, is best described in one word—powerful. It's not only a story—it's a tremendous sermon, and it reveals with magic-lantern effect the character and surroundings of the fourth-cabin immigrant enroute to the New World.

"LORD STRANLEIGH ON THE HIGH SEAS"

(Short Story)

By Robert Barr

In Young Lord Stranleigh, Robert Barr has created one of the most fascinating characters in the whole range of contemporary fiction. America dearly loves a lord, it has been said, and Stranleigh is not only a lord, but a man and a Midas. Everything he touches turns to gold. This is the first of seven Lord Stranleigh stories, each complete in itself, dealing with the adventures of his rich young lordship in America.

"UNMARRIED HUSBANDS"

(Special Article)

By One of Them

This heart-to-heart confession, although made anonymously, is a slice of life made up both of comedy and tragedy. Most of our readers may laugh over it, being themselves happily married, but others may see in this candid confession a dim reflection of themselves that may prompt them to stop and take stock—to put the house in order.

"A LOG-ROLLING BONANZA"

(Short Story)

This story, by one of the foremost story writers in the language, starts in with a smile and ends with a laugh. Also with a surprise. The scene is laid in South Africa, simply because it couldn't be laid anywhere else; but the story is as plain and diverting as a Plain Tale from the Hills.

"POWER AND WEAKNESS WRITTEN IN THE EYES"

(Editorial)

By H. Addington Bruce

How important and reliable the eyes are as an index of character and ability is thoughtfully set forth in this interesting article. Most geniuses appear to have had blue or gray eyes, although enough of them, particularly painters and poets, have had brown or black eyes, to make it a question as to which color is a handicap or the reverse. Mr. Bruce has combed through history looking for brown and blue-eyed people to support his argument.
