

GUARDSMEN ASK AUTHORITY

National Association Decides to Apply for Initiative.

WOULD ORIGINATE POLICIES

Governor Morehead and Adjutant General Will Go to Plattsmouth to Pay Off Contending Marksmen.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Oct. 10.—(Special.) Adjutant General Phil L. Hall has returned from Chicago where he attended the national guard association. A resolution was passed directing the executive committee of the organization to draft a bill providing for the payment of members of the guard when on duty at their home stations. This contemplated the payment of members of the guard who turn out to drill and will require certain rules governing attendance.

Whereas, it was the purpose of this association when it recommended to congress the legislation under which the National Militia Board was established, to give to the militia representation in the War department, and to afford the head of such department, in dealing with militia matters, the right of an advisory board, composed of experienced militia officers; but

Whereas, under existing law and the conditions imposed upon it, such board is precluded from realizing the purposes for which it was designed and can render no appreciable service to the organized militia of the country; be it therefore

Resolved, That the executive committee of this association be and is hereby directed to propose to congress such amendment of the existing law as will give to this board the power to initiate and recommend to the secretary of war policies for the benefit and improvement of the organized militia, and the right to examine and submit recommendations upon all regulations proposed for the government of the organized militia; and if such legislation cannot be secured, then to seek that the provision in the law under which the board now exists be repealed.

Power Company Reports

The Nebraska Power company and the Commonwealth Power company have filed their reports of money expended during the month of September. The former spent $83,121, all for labor, while the latter paid out $210 for salaries, $56 for wages and $284 for taxes.

After Wireless Outfit

The adjutant general's office is making out a requisition for a complete wireless outfit for the engineering corps at Fremont. General Hall has been working for some time in an endeavor to get this corps equipped and it is with a great deal of satisfaction upon his return from the national guard convention that he announced the completion of the deal.

Marksmen Get Honors

General Hall will go to Plattsmouth tomorrow for the purpose of paying off the national guard marksmen who have been shooting on the range near that city. It is expected that Governor Morehead will accompany him and while there will make the award of prizes, medals and other honors which have been won in the shoot. He will also present the governor's trophy at the same time.

State to Put Cinders On Public Highways

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 10.—(Special Telegram.)—Cinders will be placed on the roads in the vicinity of the penitentiary instead of being sold at a loss as formerly. This is the instruction given Warden Fenton by Governor Morehead today, after examining a fine piece of road on which the warden had placed cinders this summer.

The governor has put in a day and a half on the roads and came in this noon to sign up a few documents in his office. When this was finished he invited newspapermen to inspect the good work being done on the roads south of Lincoln by the governor's farmers along the road and by Warden Fenton and his gang of prisoners.

A motion picture man accompanied the party and pictures were taken of the road gangs with the governor working the big road scraper or shoveling dirt with the men from the pen. In many places huge stumps which had blocked the road for years were blown up with dynamite.

Governor Morehead is enthusiastic over the working of the roads and said this evening that there was no reason on earth why Nebraska should not have the best roads in the country.

"All it needs is work and to have the men to do it and a little money and we have that, too," said the state executive.

"If I can have my way there will be something done in the making of better roads in Nebraska in the future," he added.

STATE HAS NO JURISDICTION OVER INDIAN CRIMINALS

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Judge Munger of the federal court this morning decided a case which will probably be the cause of considerable change in some cases to be heard in the future and may also affect some that have already been disposed of.

The judge's decision was made in the case where Edward Blackface, an Indian, had been charged with assault against his wife and the judge holds that the state has no jurisdiction over crime against another Indian, the crime taking place on a reservation owned by the federal government.

There will come up in the present term of court an appeal made by Henry Roy, an Indian convicted of assault upon an Indian girl on the Winnebago reservation and this opinion will probably have considerable effect in the case. It may also have some effect on the case of Nancy Wells, the Indian maiden who had just been paroled by the State Board of Pardon.

'HUNGER STRIKE' WON'T GIVE MILITANT FREEDOM

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The belief of the militant incendiaries that under the "egg and mouse" act they were assured speedy release from prison by "hunger striking" and could then repeat their offenses received a rude shock today by the announcement of the home secretary that Miss May Richardson, who has been in prison since October 4 on the charge of arson and who has been refusing food since her arrest, would not be given her freedom. The prison authorities have been instructed to resort to forcible feeding, if necessary, to prevent the women from starving themselves to death.

The home secretary says that the act will continue to be applied, as heretofore, to minor suffragette offenders whose crimes do not include acts of serious violence.

DEER MOINES, Oct. 10.—(Special.)—In response to an invitation from Joe Wall, chief of the bureau of uniform county accounts, a number of county auditors met for conference at his office today and went over the entire matter of the blanks to be enforced upon the counties by the state. The uniform plans were adopted some years ago, but not generally used. Now they are being revised with a view to making them adaptable to all the county business.

Logan Elected Secretary

Adjutant General Guy E. Logan, head of the National Guard of this state, was elected secretary of the National Association of Guardsmen at their big convention in Chicago, this week. The convention took steps to protest against the orders of the War department as to brigading the guard companies with the regulars and insisting upon a standard of strength and efficiency equal to the regular army. The reports of guard inspections in Iowa, however, show that the Iowa companies are already practically on the regular army basis.

Quarrel of Land Speculators

It develops that a great deal of the controversy over the drainage of Wall lake in Wright county, is a quarrel of land speculators and bankers. It transpires that a call for a convention of sportsmen at Dows is instigated by a banker who owns a considerable tract of land not farmed on the edge of Wall lake and who built some summer cottages in the expectation of booming the land and selling it off in small lots for summer resort purposes. The situation threatens to develop into a political movement.

Shippers in central Iowa have a case pending before the Iowa commission for changes in the Iowa classification affecting rates on a great many products moved in this state. The reductions asked are especially because of recent reductions ordered by the Interstate Commerce commission on the same articles in interstate traffic. This has left the Iowa rates for short distances prohibitive in character and the demand is now that these rates be reduced. The board will hear the matter at the regular November sitting.

Edward E. Steiner of Grinnell college will give a lecture on his personal impressions of Tolstol at the annual meeting of the Iowa Library association in Sioux City, commencing next Tuesday. The first plans for the eradication of the hog cholera from one county of Iowa as an object lesson for the whole state, proved a partial failure because of inability to secure all the facts necessary. Now the veterinary department will make another start and secure definite and complete information as to the existence of all hog cholera in Dallas county. Much work has already been done in eradicating the disease, but there is much yet to be done.
