Gilt Edge Investment Close Down Town Reduced from $8,000 to $7,500

Without exception, this is the best investment property offered on the market this year for the money. It's a very substantial two-story and basement duplex apartment building with pressed brick south front, ONLY FIVE BLOCKS from the court house, built less than three years ago and occupied continuously by the same tenants since completion, without the loss of a dollar, the actual rental being $810 per year, to the owner. This rental could be considerable more, but the owner wisely preferred permancy of tenants to top-notch rentals. Both apartments are strictly modern in every detail, with large rooms; commodious floor plan, and each have separate inside, as well as outside, entrances to basements. A new duplex building just across the street, identical in size and floor plan, was recently sold for $8,250 - conclusive evidence that our price for the south front building, just reduced from $8,000 to only $7,500. is very low. No trade will be considered. Owner must raise money. Would like half cash, but will consider a moderate payment down and balance on easy terms. Don't miss this opportunity for a clean, permanent and safe investment for your money. See us or call us up now and we will arrange to show you the property.

Liverpool Closes Little Lower in Face of Increase.

WEATHER FAVORABLE TO CORN Senson is Doing Much Toward Ma> turing of Late Crop of Yellow Cerent, Which Would Be Spotled Otherwise.

OMAHA, Oct. 14, 1913. The Liverpool wheat market was 14014d The Liverpool wheat market was '49'4d lower yestercay, as a reflection of the large world's shipments, which are expected to be piaced before the apeculative world soon, coupled with a further pronounced increase in the visible supply of the United States and possibly Canada. The Chicago Moard of Trade was closed to business, it being Columbus day, a legal holicay, but there was a good sprinkling or speculators in the corridor as well as in the various offices throughout the building and they were beartah iegal holicay, but there was a good sprinkling or speculators in the corndor as well as in the various offices throughout the building and they were bearish in their ideas of wheat. There are men in the trade who believe that wheat has been pressed into a position which may prove too low in the near future and they are quiestly accumulating the deferred futures. The buying power in wheat, however, may be called rather tame, while the selling is urgent. The fact that hedging sales against the northwestern wheet crop, as well as that of Canada, have been exceptionally light of late, shows that holders are not satisfied with present prices and that they intend to demand a premium over the present rulling rate. Cash wheat was light lower.

One noticeable fact that I avors the wheat holders in the world is the pronounced leasening of cash wheat upon the market, not only at Chicago, but at interior points as well. This has driven millers of the interior into the large markets, as they have been unable for some time bast to secure ample supplies at home to keep their machinery in metion. The present weather is more favorable for the maturing or corn, and it is also favorable for handling the old crop. Samples of new corn were shown in one of the private offices yesterday from down state and it was as firm as any corn ever grown, and a little further deiny will enable it to grade contract without question. There is a large open interest in the December corn, and future values will hinge principally on weather conditions throughout the belt, coupled with the attitude of the producer in disposing of his grain. There is no export trade in corn at this time, and the eastern shipping call is of light volume. Some of the belief that oats will sympathize with corn in its price changes. The visible supply of oats is a large one and the amount of that grain held at Chicago is cumbersome. Some of the most conservative speculators here are advising caution on the bear side of the market. They advance the opinion that with corn sc General Leveling of Prices of Last BULK OF SELLING IN MORNING While Securities at No Time Ur-

Prices on Board of Trade. CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Wheat prices tum-bled today to the lowest point so far on bied today to the lowest point so far on this year's crop.

Bearish cables were what chiefly smashed the market and left the close nervous, %@de down. Corn showed a net loss of %@% to %c and oats a drop of 10 1%c. In provisions the outcome varied from 17%c decline to an advance of 3%c.

Bears seized control of wheat right at the start. The Liverpool market had undergone a sharp setback, owl g to heavy shipments from the Black sea and because of increased selling pressure from Australia. In addition, the crop reports from Argentina continued to be a ports from Argentina continued to be a ports from Argentina continued to be a flattering character.

Visible supply stocks of wheat both European and domestic, made gains and thus formed an additional weight on prices. The Canadian visible, too, exhibited an increase, although of a less formidable sort. Diminishing of the receipts northwest was ignored, as statements were current that rural elevators were filled up, and that any accumulation now would have to be shipped to terminal cities.

Corn suffered from the bearish affects minal cities.

Corn suffered from the bearish effects of reported sales of Argentina corn at the seaboard and because of unusual weakness at Buenos Ayres. The fine weather of the last few days tended also to bring out decided activity on the selling side. Kansas dispatches told of pastures in spiendid condition with feeding demand likely to be indefinitely posting demand likely to be indefinitely posting demand likely to be indefinitely postioned. A huge enlargement of the visible supply total hindered any effort at a raily.

Weakness in ocarse grain as well as in the hog market deprived provisions dealers of all idea that important tupturns could be forced. Packers unloaded, especially iard.

For the two days the total is 17.158 head, being a falling off of over 2,000 head as compared with the same days hast week and the smallest in fact of any week for a long time back. Strictly good beef steers were in moderate supply again today, and the market was generally steady on that kind. On the other hand the medium grades were slow to a little lower. As high as $9.30 was paid for a three-load bunch of choice heavy steers from lows.

Stocker cows and helfers were in good demand and prices showed little or no change. On the other hand fat cows were slow to a little lower, but canners continue to command high prices.

Stock cattle and feeders were slow and anyhere from weak to loo lower. Some kinds possibly showed still more loss than that. The weakness was due apparently to the lack of a good buying demand from the country.

SHEEP-Receipts fell off a little this morning, there being only some 198 cars, or 28,000 head, reported in, which is a very moderate run for a Tuesday compared with the way the receipts have been running during the last couple of weeks. The supply on the corresponding day a year ago was much the same as that today.

The market on killing lambs started out slowly at about steady prices, the early sales including a four carlot at $7, which was top for the day. A fittle later trade seemed to become slower and toward the clone prices if anything, had a weak tendency, there being some sales that looked a trifle lower than the way the bulk of the lambs sold yesterday. A range of $6.85$\text{diff}.00 would take in practically all the fat lambs at all decent for killing on sale. It might be mentioned that most outside points reported a slow deal in the general trade.

Six or seven cars of fat wethers, among which were a few yearlings, and a couple of cars of fat ewes constituted the entire supply of aged sheep, and as most all buyers wanted some mutton offerings trade was active and prices were steady to strong. As ny resterday, fat ewes sold up around $4.25$\tilde{d}.80$ and a string of wethers brought $4.70$.

As is often the case, early in the forenoon the feeder trade was rather slow, but in the end trade acquired a little life, the supply being moderate and quite a few buyers coming in from the country. The bulk of the feeders sold in practilife, the supply being moderate an little a few buyers coming in from the country. The bulk of the feeders sold in practically the same notches as of late.

Water Rate Case is to Be Argued on Board's Demurrer

The case brought by Victor Rosewater, editor of The Bee, to contest the excessive water rates, has been set on the district court docket for today. In this case the Water board has been sparring for time, with technical pleas to delay trial of the merits, and has filed a demurrer denying the right of a consumer to seek redress in the courts in the manner proposed. The demurrer will be argued by Attorney Stanley M. Rosewater for the plaintiff and by Attorney John L. Webster for the defendant.

PERRY MAN TRIES TO RUN THE INFORMATION BUREAU

George Woods of Perry, Is., started homeward Monday evening, but got no farther than the Union station. George was arrested for intoxication and creating a disturbance which for a short per-iod bid well to stop the activities of the information bureau.

Not satisfied with the manner in which this department was being conducted he proceeded to drive those employed there into the open and take charge of the informing himself.

Officer Brown was summoned and su ceeded in impressing Wood with the error of his ways, and then deported him to the lockup, where Judge Foster freed his fetters and allowed him to depart.
