SEPTEMBER CIRCULATION
50,085

State of Nebraska, County of Douglas, ss
Dwight Williams, circulation manager of The Bee Publishing Company, being duly sworn, says that the average daily circulation for the month of September, 1913, was 50,085.

Subscribers leaving the city temporarily should have The Bee mailed to them. Address will be changed as often as requested.

In the case of the Volturino, man is again incalculably indebted to the wireless.

Open season for broken bones and dislocated joints on the grand old gridiron.

The new tariff promises to reduce the cost of pickles. Oh, fie. Stop your tickling.

"A soft answer turneth away wrath," except when dealing with a Mexican dictator.

The cranberry crop is the latest to be threatened with shortage. Oh, you poor turkey!

When the Wabash makes a new earnings record, other roads may look up and take notice.

To the visiting librarians and library workers: If you don't see the book you want, just ask for it.

Al-Sar-Ben might put on a Mexican revolution for the next year's election. No charge for the suggestion.

If our lawyer friends are on the square about a house-cleaning, there is nothing to stop them from getting busy.

The demand for the non-burnable, all-steel railway car may be enlarged to include a non-burnable ocean passenger steamship.

It seems a shame to take the money away from the poor coal man. Let his delightful Indian summer last as long as it will.

Itch in the Sulzer Case—Headline: "Here has been nothing but hitches from the start, but for which there would have been no case."

Heaven continue the species of that man whose wife wants a divorce because "he is too old-fashioned."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

But not that species of woman. "Character assassination" has no excuse, but exposure of corruption and crookedness in either high or low places does not come within that definition.

Whether Omaha's ball team changes hands or not by next season, here's hoping it changes enough so as to give us a team more up to requirements.

Some prison schools are better than public schools is the declaration of one of the speakers at the Prison congress. Not better than our Omaha schools.

Reputable lawyers should regard the black sheep in their fold with as much disdain and contempt as a reputable doctor should look upon the quack in his profession.

Mr. Jim Hill has just donated $20,000 to St. Olaf's college in Minnesota, which, we hope, may indicate new and brighter views of life on the part of the famous old lubricious prophet.

Huerta has a recall all his own, by which, when 110 deputies displeas him, he simply gets the hook and throws them in jail and becomes the house of deputies, himself, which must make Porfirio Diaz, in the glowing sunset of his life, turn green with envy.

We salute our English friend with the compliments of the season, that one who took up a column in a Boston newspaper to prove that base ball was both badly stupid and unpopular.

Him we salute with the suggestion that he "legally run his monocoed optic over the figures compiled at the box office of the recent world's series for additional proof of his unassailable position.

Probably What He Intended. Huerta's assumption of what is practically a dictatorship must have contemplated the very situation it has provoked. He is surely too shrewd a man not to have foreseen the effect it would have had upon the attitude of foreign nations.

The United States announces withdrawal of its approval of Gamba's presidential candidacy, together with its inability now to regard the forthcoming election in Mexico as a legal procedure. The Spanish ambassador, as dean of the diplomatic corps at Mexico, summons a conference of his fellow diplomats for consideration of the much-vaunted coup d'etat.

Which Target. The usually amiable World-Herald, our own democratic United States senator's personally owned and conducted newspaper organ, pours forth in double-column heavy artillery an ugly charge "the character assassin."

Responding to the Call. Land still has a magnetism for men, as the rush for the government registration offices in Nebraska shows. Many thousands are availing themselves of the chance for a quarter section or section of land in the North Platte valley or upper country being thrown open to homesteaders.

Canal on Time—Tells Next. The first boat rode the waters of the Panama in October, 1913, as former President Taft said it would. The canal ditch is completed ahead of time, in line with his predictions, and also true to his warnings.

People Talked About. The late Adolphus Busch of St. Louis was the twenty-first child of his parents. In this instance the last was first as a coin-reaper.

Chicago's confessed murderer, Spencer, insists on an early execution. The authorities agree to accommodate him as quickly as the formalities can be observed. Eagerness to please is the long suit of prosecuting officers.

Woonster's Complaint. SILVER CREEK, Neb., Oct. 14.—To the Editor of The Bee: I have a grievance against you, and since I have now given the brethren time to cool off some, I treat you will let me make my complaint.

Colonel Henry Watterston of the United States is reported to be renewing his youth abroad and accumulating robust health. He was at a dinner at an American banquet in Paris last Saturday night.

Colonel Otis in Los Angeles has had his share of trouble, but there is Colonel Blithen of the Seattle Times with three fires in nine months. When will people learn that neither bombs nor torches can muscle a free press?

Looking Backward This Day in Omaha

COMPILED FROM BEE FILES

Thirty Years Ago—

The newly elected officers of the Young Men's Christian association are as follows: President, P. C. Himebaugh; vice president, Dr. O. B. Wood; treasurer, J. W. Bell; corresponding secretary, A. C. Kennedy; recording secretary, C. E. Reynolds; directors, First Congregational church, W. A. Taylor, St. Mary's Avenue Congregational, Jay Northrup; First Presbyterian, Warren Swisher; Southwest Presbyterian, J. L. Welshans; North Presbyterian, Rev. F. S. Blaney; First Methodist Episcopal, Frank Johnson; Eighteenth Street Methodist Episcopal, Dr. E. L. Hart; South Methodist Episcopal, N. M. Merrill; Baptist, Wallace Shano; Christian, George H. Kerr; Swedish Lutheran, M. S. Larson; German Lutheran, Dr. P. R. Laitenrin.

Gas trenches are being opened on the side streets and the trench is awful. A plot of Plainview has been filed by Kountze Bros. It is situated on Saunders street opposite Judge Redick's residence. Mrs. C. E. Moody of Keokuk has joined her husband, who has opened a crockery store on Sixth and Davenport streets, and they will go to housekeeping at the northwest corner of Eighteenth and Lake.

Twenty Years Ago— The Bee's exclusive announcement of the order of the Union Pacific restoring eight hours a day and six days a week of work to hundreds of shopmen, who had been laid off brought joy to many hearts. Superintendent J. H. McConnell of the shops said the order was not spontaneous, but the result of long deliberation.

Ten Years Ago— The contract for paving Military avenue with concrete sixteen feet wide and for a distance of 1,500 feet, beginning where the asphalt pavement ends, was let to Hugh Murphy for $5,200. George A. Powell and Miss Catherine Scott was married by Rev. Charles W. Savidge at his home, 723 South Twenty-fifth avenue.

The late Adolphus Busch of St. Louis was the twenty-first child of his parents. In this instance the last was first as a coin-reaper.

Chicago's confessed murderer, Spencer, insists on an early execution. The authorities agree to accommodate him as quickly as the formalities can be observed. Eagerness to please is the long suit of prosecuting officers.

An Endorsement—Many Thanks.

OMAHA, Oct. 16.—To the Editor of The Bee: The Session of the Castellor Street Presbyterian church, while believing fervently for our fall festivities and hoping for their entire elimination in the near future, we, nevertheless, believe that the carnival of this year has been conducted on a higher moral plane than any in the years previous. We desire to express our thanks and appreciation to the Omaha Bee for its insistency upon seeing that there was no gambling on the grounds.

Pathfinder Reservoir and Dry Platte KEARNEY, Neb., Oct. 15.—To the Editor of The Bee: I notice in The Bee the article by Chief Engineer Davis in regard to the complaint of the misuse of the water by means of the Pathfinder dam. Mr. Davis says "the water rights of this stream, having been adjudicated by the courts of Nebraska." But it has never been adjudicated by any court that the riparian owners may be deprived either by the government or the state under contracts for the sale of water or otherwise, of water for domestic purposes, or a sufficient flow in the river to saturate the subsoil and maintain the ordinary water level beneath the low lands along the river. Yet this is exactly what has been done the last summer by the mismanagement of the food waters of the Platte river.

Omaha Examiner: At the command of Doc. Rosewater, a Bee sleuth, with an unlimited expense account, made the rounds of the boosting dens after 5 p. m. and found the lid lifted in nearly every place that he visited.

Central City Nonpareil: The papers are making a great deal of fuss over the Merriam paper which was read before the Missouri Valley Medical association held at Omaha recently, in which Dr. Merriam charged that 80 per cent of the surgical operations performed were needless.

Aurora Sun: Down at Omaha the Ak-Sar-Ben ball has created wave of indignation among the people who oppose the suggestive in dancing and in dress. It is said that the affair afforded almost unlimited opportunities for observation of beauty partially adorned, and that the most expectant onlooker was not disappointed. A well known lady of that city has since stated that the dance halls had never produced such a scene, so far as she had been able to learn.

the "saved." And, like the rest of those delectable individuals, should now be able to hug to my heart the delightful thought that I was "saved" with the Almighty, and with a supercilious and boiler-plate-throat air, look down on my plodding neighbors who were still hopelessly wending their melancholy way to perdition.

We heartily endorse the stand of The Bee in its editorial pages from time to time on the great moral issues effecting our community and state.

The Income Tax

GRINS AND GROANS.

All citizens of the United States, whether living at home or abroad, are subject to the income tax, also all aliens residing in the United States, and all citizens and aliens residing elsewhere who derive incomes from this country.

Individual incomes under $3,000 a year and joint incomes of married persons under $4,000 a year are exempt from the tax.

Income means all gains and profits from salaries, wages, business or profession of whatever kind, exceeding the exemptions fixed.

Returns must be made before March 1 each year and payments before June 30. For this year the tax will be collected on incomes accruing between March 1 and December 31.

Boreleigh (making a call)—Is Miss Robins at home?

"Be a good boy," said auntie, the militant. "And what then?" demanded the youngster.

"Auntie will take you downtown and let you see her throw a brick through a window."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Cleopatra let the sap bite her. "I expected snake cure would be handy," she cried.

"'Til give you something to eat, if you'll chop wood for it," said the woman positively.

"Yes, lady," replied Plodding Pete. "Only it will be cheaper to feed me in advance. Choppin' wood gives me a terrible appetite."—Washington Star.

Willie—Paw, what is the bone of contention?"

Faw—The jawbone, my son.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

"What sort of a proposal do you suppose that business admirer of hers made Gladys?"

"What was it?"

"I suppose he was negotiating for some real estate at the same time, for he asked her to give him the refusal of her hand."—Baltimore American.

"It's queer how fashions follow politics." "Do they?"

"Hadin't you noticed it? Why, no sooner did the political parties begin to split than the women came out in split skirts."—Buffalo Express.

THIS terrible disease has raged unchecked for years simply because symptoms have been treated while the vicious germs that cause the trouble have been left to circulate in the blood, and bring the disease back as fast as local treatments could relieve it.

C. E. Gauss, who experimented for years on a treatment for Catarrh, found that after perfecting a balm that relieved the nose and throat troubles quickly, he could not prevent the trouble beginning all over again.

On test cases, he could completely remove all signs of Catarrh from nose and throat, but in a few weeks they were back.
