

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Eagles Bazar to Open This Evening and Continue a Week.

STOCKMEN VISIT LINCOLN

Hard Time Party at Seymour Lake Club is Enjoyed to the Fullest Extent by the Members of the Club.

The Eagle Bazar will open this evening at the grounds near the club house, Twenty-third and N streets. The bazar will continue for a week and will close next Saturday night. A large tent has been erected as a display hall, where the merchants of the town may display their wares and merchandise.

Stock Yards Men to Lincoln. Traffic Manager Bill Shellberg of the Union Stock Yards company, with several hundred stockmen and exchange men, left this morning at 8 o'clock for Lincoln to visit the state farm.

Hard Time Party. Seymour club held an old-fashioned hard time party last evening at a sort of post season function. Decorations and arrangements reflected the Halloween season.

Church Services.

Brown Park Baptist. Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Hilldale Baptist church Sunday school at 9:30 p. m. United Presbyterian church, William A. Pollock, pastor. Bible school, 9:45 a. m. Public worship, 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Young People's Christian union at 6:30 p. m.

First Christian church, Twenty-third and I streets, Rev. W. J. Haate, pastor. Bible school at 10 a. m. Preaching and communion at 11 o'clock. Song service and sermon at 7:30 p. m.

United Presbyterian church, Twenty-third and H streets, Rev. W. A. Pollock, pastor. Bible school, Twenty-fifth and H streets, Rev. F. H. H. pastor. Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Morning service at 11 o'clock. A report from the state convention will be given.

Magie City Oastup. Frank Keegan will leave for Broken Bow to be gone a few days. For Rent—508 North 21st, 5 rooms and bath, modern except heat. Inquire at 510.

GRINNELL.—Stephen P. Sparks of this city has claimed a residence in the state, having come with his parents to Lee county in 1837, seventy-seven years ago.

GRINNELL.—The body of Cornelius R. Hicks passed through Grinnell on Wednesday for his old home at Montezuma. He died at the home of his only living son, Ed Hicks, at Fort Collins, Colo. He was 78 years old and had lived in this county since 1852 until 1913, when he went to live with his son. Funeral services were in charge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

Colds are Caught in October That Last All Winter

In most parts of the United States October is the pleasantest month of the whole year. And yet October has special liabilities for those who are subject to catching cold.

Man Who Encouraged Suicide Pact Found Guilty of Murder

MURFREESBORO, Ark., Oct. 18.—F. G. Farrell, a blind spiritualist charged with first degree murder in connection with the suicide pact that resulted in the death of Mrs. T. J. Turner and Miss Rhoda Carter at Glenwood, Ark., September 16, was convicted of murder in the second degree today.

During the trial T. J. Turner, the husband, admitted giving poison to the two women after the three had agreed to die together to end their despondency. He took some of the drug, but recovered. Turner said Farrell had encouraged the suicide pact through the medium of seances at the Turner home. At these seances he said his adopted son, who died in Mexico seven years ago, would return and appeal to them to commit suicide and join him.

HORNETS SPIKED THE GUN

Mosby Failed to Capture Supply Train Because of the Little Insects.

Colonel John S. Mosby, commander of the partisan rangers, who was a dashing service in the southern cause fifty years ago, is living now in the city of Washington. One of the really amusing incidents that passed under his notice during the war he told long ago. In the summer of 1864, when General Phil Sheridan was in the valley of the Shenandoah, he found himself much harassed by Mosby, who was continually cutting off his supply trains. An army can not fight on an empty stomach, and Mosby knew it. He also knew how, with his small force, to neutralize the strength of an army more than five times his number, for by rushing from point to point and making sudden attacks miles apart, he kept a large proportion of the union troops in constant chase of him.

One bright morning Mosby heard that a long supply train was winding its way down the valley. He soon the rangers, in their gray uniforms, were gathered at the forks of the valley pike, watching for the head of the wagon train to appear. Presently a cloud of dust was seen rising far up the road, and, as the wind blew it aside, the confederates caught sight of a line of men in blue escorting a caravan of lumbering wagons drawn by mules. Instantly Mosby gave the order to run a little higher up on the side of a hill and unlimber it. As soon as the gun had opened fire the rest of the men were to make a cavalry charge and throw the train into confusion.

The rangers jerked the gun into position and began to swab it out. Suddenly the man with the swab gave a shrill yell, seized the seat of his pantaloons, and fell down the hill and out into the road. Almost the same moment the other men at the gun abandoned it. He seemed to be fighting the air as he disappeared over a stone wall. The sutler's wagons were creeping nearer, and Mosby did not know what to think of such extraordinary conduct. He ordered four more men to the gun, but hardly had they reached it when they, too, yelled, began to beat the air madly with their hats, and took to flight. Spurring his horse over the stone wall, Mosby rode toward the gun, but his stay was short. The howitzer stood just over a hornet's nest, and those busy insects were resenting the intrusion. They had repelled the invaders on foot, and now they swarmed on Mosby's horse till the maddened animal tore off down the pike on a run. Then they turned their attention to the rest of the troop.

Their attack was so sudden that the rangers gave up any idea of standing by the guns. They scattered far and wide, and it was an hour before they returned. When they did, the wagon train had safely vanished in the distance. So the hornets saved the day for Sheridan—Youth's Companion.

Pointed Paragraphs.

Spot cash isn't always spotless cash. And a woman is known by the acquaintance she cuts. It won't help to make a long face when you're short. Bachelor maids are spinsters who haven't given up hope. Every time a girl goes away from home she has a perfectly lovely time. If a man is always making new friends it's a sign his old friends are true to him. What has become of the old fashioned women who had a bad omen for every dream? If you are attempting to make a name for herself a girl should learn to make bread. Wives feel the need of an excuse for being married, and some spinsters for not being. It sometimes happens that a boy learns some very good habits by pot following in the footsteps of his father.—Chicago News.

Pointed Paragraphs.

A love match has to have its flares. Snores of a day dreamer occasionally attract attention. Make hay while the sun shines, but shuck corn on damp days. If there is any temptation within a mile of him, a man will find it. A man who is always making new friends it's a sign his old friends are true to him. What has become of the old fashioned women who had a bad omen for every dream? If you are attempting to make a name for herself a girl should learn to make bread. Wives feel the need of an excuse for being married, and some spinsters for not being. It sometimes happens that a boy learns some very good habits by pot following in the footsteps of his father.—Chicago News.

Will It Come to This?

The Patron—What's the price of beef today, Zeb? The Butcher—Seven dollars for choice cuts. But you'll have to eat it on the premises. The Patron—Why so? The Butcher—Can't take no chances on getting away with it. You'd be slugged and robbed afore you'd gone fifty feet. Last night I sold a young fellow half a sausage an' this mornin' his body was found in the ravine. How much? "Half a pound." "All right. If you'll wait till I get th' steel shutters up I'll fix it for you."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

BERG SUITS ME If You Have Not Already Do So This Week

Visit our new departments--Our entire second floor, 132x75 feet, devoted to women's wear exclusively. It's a dream. Gowns--Wraps--Furs--Millinery

Did You Ever See Such Values

Is a convincing expression from visitors to our new Women's Ready-to-Wear Department, recently opened at this live and popular store—notwithstanding our disappointing delay in introducing the beauties and conveniences of this superbly appointed salesroom. The collection of dainty wearables we set forth are truly wonders of tailoring craft, exquisite colorings and genuine money's worth. Monday we are featuring Suits, Coats and Dresses, not in numbers at a given price that makes them common, but exclusive designs that gives individuality to the wearer.

Suits for Monday

Are strictly tailored, demi-tailored, slashed and draped skirts, elephant sleeves, elongated shoulders—sash effects and Russian types—in serges, eponges, brocades, diagonals, two-tones and chevots, in all popular colors.

Dresses for Monday

Are styles in long and short sleeves, Medici collars, high and low collars; the new Blouse types and Mandarin sleeves, in every new color.

Coats for Monday

Are pluses, boucles, two-tones, Matelesse, diagonals and Balkan lamb, mostly in 3/4 cutaway styles. Some with the new elephant sleeve. Trimmed with button frogs, and piping, of self materials and velvet. We have made the entire assortment a one-price attraction. Your choice at $25.00 each.

$25

We Received Saturday A big shipment of Broadcloth Suits, the material that holds fashion's favor just now, and are offering them, in all the season's popular colorings, in a moderate range of prices. Berg Clothing Co. ISH & DOUGLAS.

A Woman is as Old as She Feels

Is one of the truisms that surely hold good—and do you know we have a knack of wonderfully improving your looks and make even the years seem less with to extol, to beautify, enhance every line and make one whole harmonious picture, mellow and pleasing. Come in next time you're down town and find us ready to make good, and at a price that will seem small for so great a service. Beautiful Hats anywhere, from— $3.50 to $25 Or better if you wish.

A Hat to Fit Your Face

BELLIS CASE SPITE WORK

Mrs. Jennie Dabinn, Late of Kiev Tells of Accusation.

BODY DRAGGED NEAR HIS HOME

Kept Many Months in Dungeon, Denied Access to Counsel and Friends Intimidated as Sought to Aid Him.

Perhaps there is no person in America that is better acquainted with the case of Mendel Bellis, the Jew accused of being the murderer of little Yushinsky than Mrs. Jennie Dabinn of 807 Jackson street. Mrs. Dabinn recently came to this country, and besides being acquainted with Mendel Bellis, worked as a domestic in the house of Zittivis, one of the owners of the brick yards where Mendel Bellis was employed.

According to her story, the Jewish people of Kiev believed the whole affair to be a put-up job. A number of Russian people employed in the brick works found the body of young Yushinsky, and to get even with Bellis, who was foreman of the brick works, took the body and placed it near the home of Bellis, who lived close to the brick works. Several hours after the body was found, Bellis was arrested and accused of the crime.

The hardships endured by Bellis are most difficult to believe, says Mrs. Dabinn. "He was refused bail and for nearly seven months no one was allowed to see him. No member of his family, nor lawyer was permitted to interview him. His eyesight, never too good, was practically destroyed from being kept in an underground cell in the large jail at Kiev. He also became deaf and sick, contracting a cold which nearly caused his death.

Numerous attempts were made to secure his bail, but without avail. Some of the most influential Jews in Russia pleaded his cause, but without success. His former employers and even Rabbi Aronson were refused the privilege of bailing him out. His family meanwhile was being taken care of by one of the owners of the brick works, Mr. Zittivis. Because of his father's arrest, the eldest boy became partly insane. At times he would not come home for several days at a time. Whenever anybody would knock on the door he would hide under the table, fearing that the police had come to arrest him.

"Many prominent lawyers of Russia were disbanded for trying to take his part. In a short time it became so that other lawyers would not try to defend him for fear that they would also be disbanded. All this time Bellis had had only a small preliminary trial with no friends to testify in his behalf. "Bellis was greatly respected by his friends. He was known as a steady worker and rather well educated. His children, of whom there are four, were sent to school. As the Russian laws do not permit over 10 per cent of the students going to public schools to be Jews, Bellis out of his salary paid for sending his children to school."

Rips Silk Skirt to Swims.

A pretty young woman, wearing a thin lavender silk skirt, a white silk petticoat, lavender silk stockings, white kid pumps and a large white lace hat, who said she was taking a Maudeville of Franklin avenue, the Bronx, saved herself from drowning in the Sound of New-York Neck when a canoe upset. The youth who was with her had difficulty in keeping afloat until help arrived. Then she struck out for open island, refusing aid from the crew of a launch that rescued the young man. She waved her hand of the launch and swam with a rapid overhand stroke. When the girl reached the island she climbed the rent in her shirt and started for the home of a friend in New Rochelle without waiting for her escort.—New York Herald.

Will It Come to This?

The Patron—What's the price of beef today, Zeb? The Butcher—Seven dollars for choice cuts. But you'll have to eat it on the premises. The Patron—Why so? The Butcher—Can't take no chances on getting away with it. You'd be slugged and robbed afore you'd gone fifty feet. Last night I sold a young fellow half a sausage an' this mornin' his body was found in the ravine. How much? "Half a pound." "All right. If you'll wait till I get th' steel shutters up I'll fix it for you."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Drawing Cards at KILPATRICK'S for Monday!

Card No. 1. If you need Dress Goods or Cloaking, in duty on woolen stuffs is not effective till January 1st, 1914. We have anticipated the reduction in many cases, and this inures to your profit. A splendid collection of Colored Dress Goods, worth $1.25 and $1.50, on sale Monday at 98c yard.

Our entire stock of Heavy Cloaking—reduced to meet the change in tariff.

Monday the Last Day For the present, on which we will take orders for Dresses—made to measure. If you need a dress, therefore, be measured Monday. $7.50 for the making, and you buy material at reduced prices also.

Just Received An importation of fine French Challies, printed by the best printers in the world. The styles are exceptional, and cannot be bought elsewhere in this part of the country.

Attention Also Directed of Wool Crepes and Silk and Wool Poplins. $1.25 per yard on Monday. More than a dozen shades and colorings to select from.

Card No. 2. Monday. Closing out two lines of Corduroys and Velveteens—both reduced below the price at which similar goods will sell under the new duty.

Two complete lines of Crepe Meteors and Crepe de Chine go on sale Monday—$1.95 instead of $2.50.

New Kimono Silks, just hot off the griddle for the holidays.

Card No. 3. Halloween Specials. For the Dead Paper Sets, Cloth Doylies, Napkins, Plates, Favors, etc.—all these at Stationery Section.

Linen Sale Monday Breakfast Cloths of linen, each. All linen hemstitched Damask Cloth, $4.98 instead of $6.00.

Blankets, Blankets and Then Blankets!

We have had some real warm statements and some remarkably tall stories recently on BLANKETS, their purchase and sale. No attempt will be made to compete. Nor is this to be considered a challenge. In the days of the Duello, one of the rules of the game was a duelist could only challenge an equal.

Monday we will sell a Beacon Blanket at $2.98 instead of $4.50, and on Blankets this is one occasion when it may pay to see KILPATRICK'S LAST.

THOMAS KILPATRICK & CO.

Everybody Reads The Bee Want Ads

THIS WILL DO FOR CARD 4—

To the President of the Board of Education: For your information will state that we announced a week ago that we would cash all teachers' warrants at par. This we have always done—and the older teachers know that at a time when neither banks nor business houses would take warrants except at a discount (and were even loath to do so then), we cashed all teachers' warrants at their face value. Will the good Doctor please remember this? Paid Advertisement.

Damask at 98c Monday, instead of $1.25. Napkins to match, large size, $3.49 instead of $4.

Card No. 5. From the second floor. Underwear Department. Crepe de Chine is extensively used nowadays for undergarments. All silk, soft and clinging, it lends itself admirably to the present vogue. Washable is an additional advantage. Extensive assortments to show you. Gowns of Crepe, trimmed with Irish crochet edge—$5 Monday, usually sold at $6 each. Exquisite pieces hand embroidered and daintily trimmed, prices ranging up to $15.00 each.

For DANCING you must have a soft petticoat to wear with the frock. Crepe de Chine, lace trimmed, is on regle. We show some smart ones: $3.95 instead of $5.00—and then we have them up to $14.50.

We Fit Corsets And you will be comfortable after the fitting.

Leatherette and Washable Gloves—lower priced than you will find in most places.

Do Not Forget to look in window at display of Italian Silk Underwear. Then inspect the quality, at the department. You can match gown, hose, etc., perfectly.

Our Ready-to-Wear Section Contains the best—Best in quality, best in assortment, best in style. When we say style, we mean style that matches with decency. If you have to have a Suit, a Waist, a Skirt or a Cloak, you owe it to yourself to look at what we are showing before you buy.

A wonderful array of fixins' of all kinds for Infants, Misses and Minors generally.

Take your children with you when you come to shop. One of our greatest pleasures is found in the children. Affection actually has gone into selecting their wearables. And why not? The children of today are the men and women of tomorrow—the mothers and fathers of the future, whose store this will be when we are gone—

As it is Your Store Now