BRIDGE CONTRACT IS RE-LET
 Standard of Omaha Takes Hold of North Bend Problem.
TEMPORARY STRUCTURE FIRST
 What Will Cross New Channel, Which Will Later Be Diverted to the Old Bed of the Platte River.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
 LINCOLN, Oct. 23.—(Special Telegram.)—The controversy over the completion of the work on the bridge across the Platte river at North Bend has been settled by reletting the contract awarded to an Omaha company which was unable to complete the work because of the shifting of the channel of the river from the north to the south side, leaving the bridge covering a part of the river where there was no water.

This condition necessitated the filling in of the new channel and the turning of the water back under the bridge in the old channel.

State Engineer Price was notified today that the contract had been re-let to the Standard Bridge company of Omaha, which will build a temporary bridge across the new channel and later divert the water to the old bed. The new channel will then be filled up.

It is expected that the work will be completed by the first of the year.

New University Campus.
 Four tentative plans have been prepared and submitted to Chancellor Avery for the rebuilding of a new university campus. Two of these cover the downtown proposition with the additional six blocks to be purchased and two cover the proposition at the state farm. Neither plan submitted covers the cost and the matter is still up in the air as far as relates to the cheapest way to get out of it. The plans were drawn by a Chicago firm of architects.

Dr. Shaw May Make Address.

Kearney Feels the Rush.
 KEARNEY, Neb., Oct. 23.—(Special.)—For the last week the restaurant men of this city have been compelled to put on an extra force to serve the large number of motorists on their way to and from the registration offices of North Platte. Hundreds of Kansas cars are making their way through the city and there seems to be no let up to the steady flow of traffic to the western city. A feature of the auto parties is the presence of so many women. Auto garages are filled to capacity each evening and many cars are being repaired by automobile men here, while the owners go by train to the registration offices.

 SEWARD, Neb., Oct. 23.—(Special.)—A thief drove away the new Ford automobile of David Lehman while he was attending services at the Amish Mennonite church, four miles southwest of Milford, Monday morning. When Mr. Lehman went to get his car he found the stall empty, but a bicycle had been left where the machine had been. The thief was reported to Sheriff Gillan at once and he traced the thief through Crete and Sprague to within four miles of Lincoln, when the trail was lost.

ITCHED AND BURNED TERRIBLY
 Face All Covered With Eruption. Unable to Get Rest. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

583 No. Union St., Aurora, Ill.—"My ailment started with a little pimple and it always itched and burned terribly. I scratched, and in a few days my face was all covered with sores. It ran up to my eyes and the day after I could not see out of my right eye. I was unable to get any rest. I couldn't go to bed, being afraid of getting the clothing all soiled, although I had my face all bandaged.

"I was given two jars of salve but it kept getting worse. It was something like a running sore because every time I used some of the salve I had to wrap bandages around my neck to keep the water and pus from running down my body. After I had the trouble two months my mother told me I should try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I wrote for a sample and in a few days I received these and washed my face with the Cuticura Soap and put on some Cuticura Ointment and the next morning my face felt cool and somewhat relieved. After using the sample I bought some Cuticura Soap and Ointment at the drug store. I followed this treatment just twenty-six days and after using one cake of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was cured."

(Signed) George Miller, Jan. 1, 1913.

Cuticura Soap (25c.) and Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are sold everywhere. A single set is often sufficient when all else fails. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 25-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Fainting Bertha is Released from Hastings Asylum
 HASTINGS, Neb., Oct. 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Promising to reform and hereafter follow the straight and narrow path, "Fainting Bertha" Libbecke, who is said to have been arrested in more cities than any other woman, was released from Hastings asylum this morning.

Two years ago she was convicted of shoplifting in Lincoln and was sent to the penitentiary, where she became so unmanageable that she was transferred to the asylum for the insane. She declared today that she was cured to work an Omaha electrician, but before she will permit him to lead her to the altar she proposes to demonstrate her complete reformation. She will visit her mother in Omaha for a few days and then go to Council Bluffs to visit other relatives.

By strictly obeying the asylum discipline she has convinced the officials that she is sincere in her intention to hereafter keep on the right side of the law.

CASS COUNTY TRAIN SERVICE UP AGAIN
 (From a Staff Correspondent.)
 LINCOLN, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—In an effort to settle the controversy between the Missouri Pacific Railway company and the people of the western portion of Cass county, who applied to the railway commission asking that the railroad be ordered to put on an extra train between Union and Plattsmouth in order that they could go to Plattsmouth, the county seat of the county, and back the same day, the railway commission has tried to settle the matter as follows:

They have asked the Missouri Pacific to run its train from Falls City to Louisville into the latter town at 9:30 in the morning, fifteen minutes earlier than the present train reaches the town. The Burlington has been requested to run its train from Ashland to Plattsmouth into Louisville five minutes later. In order that passengers going to Plattsmouth may make connections. In case the Missouri Pacific train is late they will be required to hold the train ten minutes. The latter road will be allowed to make up the time between Louisville and Plattsmouth.

However, the Burlington refuses to grant the request, claiming that they will be compelled to hold their main line train at Oread for the Ashland train as connections are made there at the present time very closely.

The board will probably call a hearing in which the Burlington will be required to make a showing why it should not hold its train to accommodate passengers for Plattsmouth.

The Burlington railroad has been granted permission to take off trains No. 4 and 11 between Red Cloud and Oxford beginning November 1 and lasting until May 15, 1914. These are the summer trains and it has been customary to take them off during the winter months.

Crossed off
 Forty or fifty years ago (plenty of persons now living will remember this), when you settled your bill at a store, the merchant drew a big cross across the face of your account to show that your account had been settled. This gave rise to the expression of "crossing off" one's account—a form of check which is still widely used in business to indicate that your account has been paid in full. We mention this, as the term "crossed off" aptly fits the case where a person, having bought one of these pianos on this co-operative plan, dies before completing his payments, his account is literally "crossed off" the books.

And, in the same way, the longer you own it, the less it will have cost you per month for its use. Figure it any way you wish, it is hard to see how pianos of the exceptional value of these will have cost you over a dollar a month for their use, it matters not how long you own one, whether it is ten years, fifteen years, or even twenty years.

All of the features of this co-operative plan are carried out in offering player-pianos, with the single exception that the terms on player-pianos are two dollars a week instead of one dollar and twenty-five cents a week.

The various makes of pianos for this co-operative sale were personally selected by Mr. W. M. Robinson and upon arrival are being tested and inspected by Prof. Jean Gilbert Jones

When you begin to pay you begin to own your piano and in event of death all unpaid payments are immediately cancelled

WHEN you pay your very first five dollars, you begin right then and there to own one of these beautiful pianos. You also begin right then and there to get the pleasure out of it.

When you pay your first week's payment of one dollar and twenty-five cents, you have taken the second step toward ownership; the second week another step; the third week still another step, and so on, and so on, until the first thing you know you will be the proud owner of a fine three hundred and fifty dollar piano, for which you will have paid but two hundred and forty-eight dollars and seventy-five cents, without having missed the money.

But, now suppose that while you were still making your payments you should die. Ordinarily, it would be necessary for your family to keep up the remaining payments, or else lose the piano.

But not so in this case. These pianos are sold through our co-operative plan. This plan is a mutually helpful one. It is based on the principle of "you help me and I'll help you." So if you should die before you have completed your payments (it matters not how few you have made) the remaining payments will be cancelled "forthwith" (meaning immediately), and the piano turned over to your family free of any incumbrance whatsoever.

You thus save the piano for your family. Your family is relieved of all further obligations. The helpful co-operative hand reaches out and cancels the remainder of your indebtedness, and the piano becomes the property of your family without their having to make any other payments.

The value of these pianos as an investment

By investing in one of these pianos, you are acquiring a valuable property.

You are investing in something which will be worth something when you have paid for it. You are building up an asset, which, aside from the entertainment and pleasure you get out of it, will be worth something to you in dollars and cents, twelve, fifteen, or twenty years from now.

Remember you are buying three hundred and fifty dollars worth of piano value at a cost of only two hundred and forty-eight dollars and seventy-five cents. Taking the regular run of wear and tear into account, one of these pianos will be worth more after you have it fully paid for than you now have to pay for one, and at that time, you will have had nearly four years use out of it.

A column giving the whole proposition in brief paragraphs

First. You get a piano which is worth and sells regularly at three hundred and fifty dollars, for two hundred and forty-eight dollars and seventy-five cents, saving you at the outset one hundred and one dollars and twenty-five cents.

Second. When you finish paying for your piano, if bought in the usual way, you still owe from twenty-five to thirty-five dollars interest. Through this co-operative plan, when you have paid your two hundred and forty-eight dollars and seventy-five cents, you have finished paying. There are no further payments to be made, either on account of interest or for any other reason.

Third. Instead of paying twenty to twenty-five dollars as a first payment and ten, twelve or fifteen dollars a month as you will in a regular way, during this co-operative sale you pay but five dollars to join in this associate movement and then but one dollar and twenty-five cents a week.

Fourth. You get the strongest guarantee ever put on a piano; a joint guarantee signed by the manufacturers and ourselves, giving you protection for five years that is as safe as a government bond.

Fifth. You get the privilege of returning your piano at the end of a thirty-day trial and getting your money back.

Sixth. Within one year from the day you get your piano, though this co-operative plan, you may exchange it for any reason whatsoever, without so much as a penny's loss.

Seventh. All payments remaining unpaid are voluntarily cancelled in event of your death—thus leaving the piano free of encumbrance to your family.

Eighth. You get through this co-operative plan an opportunity to earn cash dividends for each and every week's time the life of the co-operative agreement of one hundred and ninety-five weeks is shortened. Through this privilege it is for you to earn cash dividends amounting in all to twenty-nine dollars and twenty-five cents.

Ninth. You are given opportunity to secure others to co-operate in this plan. This still further reduces the cost of your instrument.

Tenth. Under this plan a piano stool to match the piano, a late style scarf and delivery within one hundred and fifty miles of Omaha are included without adding any further expense to the two hundred and forty-eight dollars and seventy-five cents.

 NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The stock of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad today reached a new low record in the history of the company.
