MOST MODERN BANK PLANNED

Architect Has Submitted Plans for United States National Bank.

NOT TO BE AN OFFICE STRUCTURE

Temporary Offices Will Be Secured Across the Street While the New Building is Being Erected.

F. A. Henninger, the architect, has drawn up a tentative plan for the new United States National bank building and has presented it to the board of frustees of the bank for approval." plans have not been approved as yet, but it has been fully decided that the bank will erect a three atory building, malnly for its own occupancy. The plans as submitted contemplate an extension of the present building on the forty-four feet that stretch to the west of the present building, and of a similar pattern.

The plane call for a revised outside and inside. The exterior will be of Ohio sandstone, while the internor will be finished in marble. The first floor on the Farnam street side will be devoted to the savings department, while the Sixteenth street side will be devoted to stores. The main entrance to the banking room will be from Farnam in the west end of the building.

The second floor is to include the entire banking room. The plan of the inside of the banking room is to be changed to give a lobby extended into the west wing and make the banking room one of the largest in the middle west.

The third floor will provide one or two private offices and the working room. Victor B. Caldwell, vice president of the bank, declared that although no plans were as yet approved it had ben definitely decided that a large office building would not be erected so that Mr. Henninger's tentative plans would not diverge greatly from any plans that might be adopted.

"Mr. Henninger's plans," said Mr. Cald-well. "are exfelient, and we will consider They will make the building one of the most typical banking buildings in the country. Large in size, uniform in design, with the banking room occupying one solid floor. We believe it will be much more satisfactory from the banking point of view than a large ten or twelve-story building."

The stores across the street are being vacated to give the bank temporary quar-

Three of the Ten Who Try to Break Jail Taken to the Pen

Three of the ten prisoners in the county jail who attempted to effect a delivery Sunday night, including Marvin DeLor. the ringlender, were taken to the penitentiary at Lincoln to serve sentences already imposed by the district court. Deptrty Sheriff Hopkins was in charge of the guards who made the trip.

DeLor, who is believed to have originated the plot and to have induced others to ttempt to carry it out, will serve an in determinate sentence of from two to sever years in prison for robbing C. J. Duff of Council Bluffs last spring. Tom Shelton and William Warner, allas Williams, sened to three years each in prison for burglary and robbery, were the other two

G. F. BIDWELL IS VISITING

George F. Bidwell, former general manwarr of the Northwestern lines west of the Missouri river, but now retired and living at Hollywood, Cal, is in the city for a few days. Mr. Bidwell is enthusistic over California and is of the opinion that the state is cutering upon a season of prosperity that is going to be unprece dental. He has a ranch and a country home just across the street from G. W. Wattles and is devoting considerable of his time to growing fruit, not for the

According to Mr. Bidwell the citrus fruit promises a good yield and with prices higher than heretofore, growers are going to make much more money than during several years past.

Council to Push Plans for Locust Street Viaduct

Oity Commissioner Thomas McGovern was instructed by the city commission used it induce Mr. Harrier to divide his to confer with President A. L. Monier estate into two equal bequests to the of the Union Pacific railroad and find hospital and to a niece, while close relaout the reason the Union Pacific refuses to concur in the plans for the construction of a viaduct on Locust street. The Missouri Pacific and the Chicago, Minneapolis. St. Paul & Omaha roads are WITH HIS OLD FRIENDS ready to proceed with the construction of the viaduct. These roads are willing, it understood, to build a thirty-six-foot viaduct, although the plans call for twenty-eig feet.

Union Pacific officials have intimated that they were ready to bear their share of the cost of a viaduct twenty-six feet wide. City Commissioner J. B. Hummel protested to the council against insisting on a wider viaduct.
