Picture Play at the Hipp—Henry E. Dixey will be seen at the Hipp theater, beginning today for three days in "Chelsea 7760." This is the third of a series of special picture plays being shown at this theater. To Meet at Chicago—Most of the Burlington officials have gone to Chicago, where today will be held the annual family meeting for the purpose of discussing traffic matters pertaining to the system. The meeting will continue two days and end with a banquet. G. N. Laumann Speaks Here—George N. Laumann, professor of rural economics of Cornell university, the greatest authority on rural credit, will be the principal speaker before the Nebraska Farmers' congress which will be held in Omaha, December 9 to 12. Was Not in the Romance—Through misinformation Miss Katherine Chester, who is playing a piano at meal times in a local cafe, was made a party to a romance printed in Sunday's Bee. On the contrary, Miss Chester says, she did not share in the episode related. Fined on Vagrancy Charge—"Gus" Wick, alias Andrew Wade; Charles Wick and Lillian Brooks were each fined $25 and costs in police court on a charge of vagrancy. Charles Wick formerly was partner in an establishment of considerable notoriety, conducted at Ninth and Dodge streets. Mrs. Franci is Recovering—Mrs. A. F. Franci, 1911 South Thirtieth street, wife of Police Officer Franci, is recovering from an operation for tumor, which she was forced to undergo last Tuesday at St. Joseph hospital. Dr. R. B. Harris, who has charge of the case, declares the operation highly successful. Guild to Take a Rest—J. M. Guild, commissioner of the Commercial club, will leave Wednesday for Excelsior Springs, where he will remain for a few days to rest prior to leaving for Dayton, O., where he has accepted a similar position to the one he holds here, at an advance in salary. He will leave for Dayton about November 15. Says Mistake is Made—Will Banick of Wilton, Ia., was arrested by Officers Heil and Deverese on suspicion of having passed a number of worthless checks for small amounts on local merchants. Banick asserts the officers have made a mistake. He will be held until several of those who have been stung by the worthless paper can pass on his identity. Street Cars Heated—Street railway passengers are enjoying heated cars. The city ordinance requires that November 1 the street railway company shall commence heating its cars. However, inasmuch as waiting until this date, fires have been kindled in all the stoves and the heating will continue so long as the weather remains cold. Hull Buried Under Avalanche—G. A. Ploess for Teachers to Visit—Many suggestions are being received from members of the Nebraska State Teachers' association by E. V. Parrish, manager of the bureau of publicity of the Commercial club, for the trade excursions which are held during the conventions. The stock yards have been named and also the O'Brien candy factory, Iken Biscuit company and the newspaper plants of the city. Hull, 612 South Seventeenth street, employed by Charles Thompson, contractor, was buried beneath an avalanche of dirt while excavating in the rear of 1811 Farm street. Fellow workmen extricated the man from the heap and summoned a physician. His condition was such as to necessitate his removal to St. Joseph's hospital. He is thought to have sustained internal injuries. Teacher Thrown from Wagon—William Smith, a teamster, 1024 North Twenty-first street, employed by the Nebraska Fuel company, was thrown from his wagon at Eighteenth and Howard streets, directly beneath the wheels of the vehicle. Fortunately the affair was empty and aside from severe bruises and cuts the man is thought to have escaped serious injury. He was attended by Dr. Fitzsimmons and removed to his home in the police auto.

President Shakes Finger at Naughty Photographer

On Board President Wilson's Special Train, Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 27.—Thousands of southern folk gathered in great cheering throngs today to welcome President Wilson to Dixie land as he sped through North and South Carolina and Georgia en route to the Southern Commerce commission at Mobile, where he will speak. "It's like coming home again," said the president. Mr. Wilson shook hands with many but refrained from speeches. President Wilson was startled as he was shaking hands with a crowd at the railroad station here by the loud explosion of a photographer's overloaded flashlight. The photographer was ejected from the trainshed. President Wilson ceased shaking hands and turning to the photographer shook his finger and said something that could not be heard. The president refused to comment on the Mexican situation. Secretary of the Navy Daniels, who also will speak at Mobile, discussed the naval program informally with the president.

Filings for Claims to Be Made at Hyannis

D. Clem Deaver of the Burlington's homekeeping department has gone to Chicago, but will return Wednesday and immediately thereafter go to Hyannis to assist the lucky ones in locating their claims on the forest reserve. Hyannis is the point named by the government where filings will be made for the land drawn at North Platte, or at least all of that within the reserve. There will be 321 claims to be located. Hyannis is within three miles of the reserve. Home-Keeping Women Need Health and Strength. First Shovel of Dirt for the New Hotel

EXCAVATION IS STARTED FOR THE NEW MILLION-DOLLAR FONTENELLE HOTEL AT EIGHTEENTH AND DOUGLAS STREETS.

A few minutes after the big steam shovel was securely established in the northwest corner of the site of the new million-dollar Fontenelle hotel, the snarled crew threw over his big lever and the huge scoop slowly descended to gather up several cubic feet of turf, slowly ascended again and opened its huge jaw to drop the first shovel full of dirt into the little red dump wagon. No ceremonies attended the digging of the first shovel full of dirt and passing pedestrians did not even linger curiously when they heard the big engine snorting and sniffling proudly as it stuck its nose into the soft earth. The excavation is the first actual work on the part of the board of directors, and they promise that as soon as the excavation is completed the remainder of the work will be started as soon as possible, and if no unlooked for inconveniences or delays present themselves, the new hotel will be formally opened some time next year. The excavations are given sixty days in which to complete their work.

JAIL DELIVERY FRUSTRATED

Deputy Sheriffs Stop Attempt at Escape by Prisoners.

OFFICERS ARE BADLY BEATEN

Hanger and Pospichal Roughly Handled Before They Overpowered Ring Leaders of Gang.

A daring plot by twelve prisoners in the "bound-over" and "sentenced" tier of the Douglas county jail to escape by overpowering the jailers and fleeing the country in stolen automobiles was frustrated Sunday night only after Deputy Sheriffs Walter Hanger and John Pospichal were severely beaten. The officers, wielding heavy jail keys, beat the mutinous prisoners into submission and then finally confined the ringleaders in "solitary." Marvin De Lor, gun man and bandit, now under sentence for highway robbery; George Carlson, held for grand larceny; and Aldrich Meer, held by the federal government on a white slavery charge, were the ringleaders, according to confessions afterward obtained from others connected with the plot. Last Friday ten of the fifteen men held in the "bound-over and sentenced" tier made the plan to escape. All are held on serious charges, and several were already under sentence from court. Beside De Lor, Meer and Carlson were: Tom Shelton, sentenced to three years for burglary; William Warner, alias Williams, three years; Tom Owens, burglar; Tom Houtchins, white slavery; John Parker, grand larceny; Ray Smith, larceny from person, and Jack Clark, grand larceny.

Take Turns at "Cutting." These men obtained a deck of cards and each took a turn at "cutting." The two men turning up the lowest cards were to start a fake fight, and the others were to help the scheme by yelling and beating on the bars. Meer and Carlson each cut low cards. It was planned that the escape should be made on the Pospichal-Mahoney shift last night because of Mahoney's habit of going into cells alone and leaving the door open behind him. The first hit came when Mahoney got off last night and had Hanger to work in his place. Hanger is very careful, and never foolhardy in working about the jail. When the fake fight commenced Hanger

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

City Treasurer Martin Serves Notice on the Mayor and the Council.

PROPOSES TO COMPLY WITH LAW

Proposes to Place Royalty in Interest Fund Instead of Using it for Other Purposes.

City Treasurer Martin has filed with the city clerk a letter to the mayor and council, explaining that he will obey the mandates of the city charter, no matter what the mayor and council resolve and order to the contrary. A week ago the city council received about $300 from the electric light company as a royalty. Forthwith the council ordered the money placed in the light fund, after which the majority of the council, together with the mayor, lined up with the local head of the electric light company. Comes now the city treasurer with a notice to the mayor and council that he will not place the money in the light fund, because by so doing he would break the law, which states that all royalties must be placed in the interest and sinking fund. The letter of the treasurer will be read this evening at the meeting of the council and it is quite probable that the resolution will be rescinded. Speaking of the stand taken by him in the matter City Treasurer Martin said yesterday: "If I could legally obey the council and place the money in the light fund I would do so gladly, so as to increase the number of lights in the city, but the charter says just where the money must go and that is not where the council and mayor ordered it. I must obey the charter, which is the will of the people. My bond makes me liable for anything like misappropriating city money and if I were to place the money in the light fund and it were spent by the council, I would be liable on my bond to the city taxpayers. Therefore, I must, with great reluctance, refuse to obey the mayor and council in this matter. It is probably a mere misunderstanding and will be rectified at once, I dare say."

Hopes for a Church of United States

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 27.—"The dream of the Congregational church is the unity of the church of Jesus Christ." Rev. Oliver Huckel of Baltimore thus defined the church's position in an address today before the national council of the church. "The wisest method of church unity," he said, "is consolidation, with the preservation of the valuable points in each communion, and allowing all churches diversity in worship and work. Such a consolidation would lead to a great national church—the United Church of the United States." Rev. C. E. Jefferson of New York said America had four dragons to meet and conquer—greed, lust, worldliness and the atheism of force. He said the latter doctrine declares national greatness was founded on naval tonnage and holds that to put an ironclad in the oriental sea is a glorious achievement and that a nation's honor can be safeguarded by 32-inch guns.
