

BENSON IS AFTER THE ROUTE

Wants the Lincoln Highway to Run Through That Village.

IT WOULD CUT OFF ELKHORN

Big Meeting is Scheduled for Waterloo for Wednesday Evening by Good Roads Boosters of That Section.

Business men and live wires in Benson are pulling hard in an effort to have the Lincoln Highway directed through their town instead of going through Elkhorn. As the minute details of this kind are not yet all worked out, there is a possibility that such minor changes may yet be made, although the Elkhorn people have regarded it as a settled fact that the highway was to pass through their town. The present tentative route is from Omaha to Elkhorn and then to Waterloo. Benson people are very anxious to have the road come through their town and then pass on to Waterloo. This difference in distance is said to be slight. In deciding upon the final route the condition of the road, the hills, the distance, and possibilities will be taken into consideration.

State Consul Fredrickson is planning a big booster meeting for Waterloo Wednesday evening. The boosters of Elkhorn and Valley are expected to be there. Fredrickson and Harry Lawrie of Omaha are to be the speakers. Lawrie is the county consul for Douglas county.

Mr. Fredrickson has just received an official outline of the route from coast to coast, with a "log" giving the exact distances between all points along the route. It was prepared by F. H. Tracy, official engineer of the road. It also contains a preliminary survey of the condition of the roads, showing what per cent of the road between any two given points is paved, macadamized, graded or worked in any way.

Omaha Art Guild Will Help Entertain the Visiting Teachers

One of the chief features of the entertainment for the thousands of visitors to the convention of the Nebraska State Teachers' association, in session here November 3 to 7, inclusive, will, it is expected, be supplied by the annual exhibit of the Omaha Art Guild at the public library. The favorable criticism that has already been recorded the work of Omaha artists this year seems to warrant the confidence of the committee as to the impression that will be made upon aesthetic "school wharves."

Four hundred visitors filed through the exhibit rooms at the library Saturday, the opening night of the art show, and more than 200 persons took advantage of their leisure Sunday afternoon to visit the art exhibit. The greatest throngs, however, are expected during this week. The exhibits may be viewed every afternoon and evening this week, including Sunday.

Many artists who never before have placed an exhibit are this year showing their work. In all there are about twenty exhibitors. Everything from crayon drawings to pretentious oil portraits are displayed. Several of the paintings have been purchased by visitors. Among these are water colors by Miss Augusta Knight, art instructor at the University of Omaha, and Miss Lillian Ruderford, South Omaha. Both were sold to M. A. Hall. The portrait of T. H. Tibbels, by J. Lauris Wallace, also has been sold.

If any note of disappointment has been voiced by visitors to the exhibit of the Omaha Art Guild, it has been not concerning the character of the work shown, but desiring a scarcity of the black and white drawings. Assurance has been given that more of this popular variety will be exhibited next year.

REARRESTED AS SOON AS DISCHARGED BY JUDGE

One Enright, residence any lodging house, was haled before Judge Foster, charged with vagrancy and also on suspicion of having accomplished the majority of the plumbing robberies from vacant houses that has been keeping the police busy for several weeks.

Enright, who at one time was a plumber, received a jail sentence of thirty days in July. While he was incarcerated the plumbing thefts ceased, but as soon as his release was accomplished, the jobs became decidedly numerous. Judge Foster discharged the man and Chief Maloney promptly rearrested him on suspicion.

SCALY PSORIASIS ON ARMS AND LIMBS

Small Dots Grew Larger. Scales Formed. Looked Horrible. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

Troop H, 6th U. S. Cavalry, Camp McCoy, Sparta, Wis.—"I was troubled with psoriasis for nearly two years. Pustules on my arms and limbs were affected mostly with it. It appeared in scaly form, breaking out in very small dots and gradually grew larger and white scales formed when about the size of an ordinary match-head. The looks of it was horrible, which made it very unpleasant for me. It itched a little at times. I tried several remedies, but the trouble seemed to grow worse instead of better, and I tried several treatments which cured me for a month, but it always broke out again. One day a friend sent me the advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment to the paper and I sent for a sample. They helped me, so I purchased two more boxes of Cuticura Ointment and some Cuticura Soap and they completely cured me. It took three months for Cuticura Soap and Ointment to completely cure me." (Signed) Walter Mahony, Oct. 22, 1912.

Although the Cuticura Soap and Ointment are most successful in the treatment of affections of the skin, scalp, hair and hands, they are also most valuable for everyday use in the toilet, bath and nursery, because they promote and maintain the health of the skin and hair from infancy to age. Sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 25-p. 9th Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. 7, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

As to Crooked Lawyers—Two More Letters

FROM THE COMMITTEE:
OMAHA, Oct. 31.—Victor Rosewater, Editor of The Bee: On receipt of your letter of October 15, in reply to the committee's of October 13, the Committee of Inquiry of the Omaha Bar association requested Mr. Francis A. Brogan to appear before it and enlighten the committee with regard to your reference to him.

Mr. Brogan promptly complied and stated that he, with Mr. William Baird and Mr. E. P. Smith, were appointed a special committee by the judges of the district court some time in 1912 to investigate certain complaints made against certain members of the local profession practicing in Omaha, and that this special committee carefully investigated all complaints received and reported to the judges of the district court recommending proceedings against one lawyer, and that such matter is still in the hands of the judges of the district court, the special committee having no power to do more than to make and file its report.

This Committee of Inquiry, on the other hand, is one appointed by the Omaha Bar association and makes its report to such with regard to the subject matter of the report made by the special committee to the judges of the district court.

The Committee of Inquiry, however, is desirous of knowing any facts, which apparently are in your possession, with reference to illegal unprofessional conduct on the part of certain members of the legal profession from the veiled references which you have made in editorials appearing in The Bee from time to time since the editorial entitled "What Omaha Needs."

The Committee of Inquiry again urgently requests that you promptly place before it such facts as you have and such complaints with regard to any member of the bar, and the same will receive immediate attention by the committee. If you desire to appear before the committee, it will sit at a time and place suiting your convenience; or, if you prefer that a time should be fixed, Monday, November 3, at 1:30 p. m., is named, and the place 824 Omaha National Bank building. CHARLES S. ELGUTTER, Chairman.

TO THE COMMITTEE:
OMAHA, Nov. 2.—Mr. Charles S. Elgutter, Chairman Bar Association Committee of Inquiry—My Dear Sir: Pardon delay in answering your letter due to unavoidable pressure of other business.

The information you now give confirms the substantial basis of my charges, and supports the position I have taken, namely, that with indisputable evidence of unprofessional conduct in possession of the bar and the court no disbarment has resulted, and that until a start at housecleaning is made in good faith with the material at hand it is useless to furnish further facts.

Aside from this, however, much of the evidence of crooked work by lawyers is of public record on the court dockets or journals, available equally to you as to me. In one case an order in contempt was procured by a member of your own committee, but subsequently dropped when part of the misappropriated money was coughed up.

Since my last communication Mr. Baird, who served as chairman of the special committee appointed by the district judges, has told me that the time limit of his committee expired nearly a year ago, and did not cover any of the crooked work done since then.

Since your letter further says that your association and committee has no power except as a self-constituted body, nothing remains for me under the circumstances but to repeat that "I have nothing to communicate to your committee in secret different from what I have to communicate to the public at large through the columns of The Bee, in which this subject will be freely discussed from time to time as the exigencies may require."

Thanking you again for the courtesy of your invitation, I am, very truly yours, VICTOR ROSEWATER, Editor of The Bee.

Suffragists Are Busy Electioneering at Teachers' Meeting

Local suffragists threw an electioneering squad into the lobby of the Rome hotel yesterday, when Omaha teachers began to register for the meeting of the state association.

Suffrage societies, it is understood, are combining to boost Miss Kate McHugh of the Omaha High school for president. The teachers vote as they register, nominating the candidates from whom officers are later chosen.

Although the registrars looked with disfavor on the "vote pullers" at the Rome hotel yesterday, when Omaha teachers began to register for the meeting of the state association, they were without power to keep them "100 feet from the polls." The suffragists charged into the registering teachers with enthusiasm.

Some of the teachers said they were sure the vote on the candidate for president was being divided. A large number favor Chancellor Samuel Avery of the University of Nebraska for the head of the association.

Lieut. Hayes Asks to Be Retired on Police Pension

Lieutenant Thomas Hayes, who has been a member of the police department since 1888, has asked to be placed on the retired list. He will be eligible for a pension of $50 a month under the police retirement law.

Police Commissioner J. J. Ryder will submit Lieutenant Hayes' resignation at the meeting of the city commission Tuesday. Lieutenant Hayes has been eligible for retirement on pension for three years.

Farmers Hold Back All Kinds of Grain

With the grain exchange, last week was about the highest in the history of the organization, so far as receipts were concerned. Owing to low prices and in anticipation of advances, farmers held their grain back and but little stuff came to market. Omaha dealers held to a similar idea and forwarded only in limited quantities. About all of the stuff that moved went south and was put in on orders taken long ago.

While the figures on receipts and shipment for October are not complete, it is stated that they will fall considerably below the corresponding month of last year, which was one of the best that has ever been experienced by the exchange.

CHECKERS ON CONDUCTORS ARE TO BE CHANGED

November 1 the Northwestern discontinued the service of the White audit system, which furnished auditors for checking passenger train collections. From now on the company will employ its own men as auditors. About twelve men will be required, who will report to the general superintendent.

The Northwestern was one of the first western roads to adopt the White system, which consists of carrying spotters on passenger trains to see that conductors turn in the cash fares collected. The reason given for the change is that conductors are less inclined to resent auditing by fellow employees than by men employed by a private agency and that the work can be carried on more successfully by the company itself.
