Big Eaters Get Kidney Trouble

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health. When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with bicarbonate and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and brings in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Advertisement.

WYOMING READY FOR WINTER

Assistant General Manager Koller of the Burlington Returns. RANCHMEN ARE PREPARED. Burlington is Pushing the Work on Its Line East from Casper and Will Continue as Long as Weather Permits. Assistant General Manager Koller of the Burlington is back from a tour of inspection of the Wyoming lines, which he found in a most satisfactory condition for the winter season. All through the Wyoming range country Mr. Koller found ranchmen well prepared for winter. The hay crop during the last year has been abundant and large quantities have been put up. Then, too, owing to late fall rains, the range is the best in years, and now cattle, sheep and horses are doing well without being fed on hay. At Casper Mr. Koller found the town rapidly growing, owing to the development of the oil industry, and while there is no boom on, additions are being platted and lots selling about as rapidly as offered. New buildings are being erected in both the business and residence districts. The Burlington, says Mr. Koller, is pushing the construction of its line east from Casper and will continue grading toward Orrin Junction during the winter if weather permits. If present plans do not miscarry, the line will be graded from Casper to Orrin Junction, sixty-seven miles, by May 1, and a large portion of the bridge work completed. Track laying will follow immediately. Already the Burlington is doing a good business in and out of Casper, as well as to and from all the towns on the new line between there and Thermopolis. The principal business out of Casper right now is hauling crude and refined oil, two and sometimes three train loads going out daily. The oil is taken into the northwest country for distribution along the Northern Pacific and Great Northern, with a considerable portion of the refined product sent to Asia.

WYOMING READY FOR WINTER

Disorderly House Inmates Fined—Bertha Love, 508 South Thirtieth street, proprietress of a disorderly house, was fined $50 and costs in police court. Three inmates of the place each forfeited $10 cash bonds. Stella Marquette, 429 South Thirtieth street, was also fined $30 and costs, while four inmates each paid $25 fines. Messenger Ships With Cash—Nels Nelson, 212 South Twelfth street, employed as a messenger boy for the Reliable Messenger exchange, was given a $50 bill by his employers Sunday afternoon for which to secure change. Nelson failed to return and the police were notified. No trace of the lad has been found either at his home or about town. Rev. F. D. Tyner Is Ill—As a result of an exposure when he was awakened one night last week as the parish house caught fire, Rev. F. D. Tyner is suffering with an attack of pleurisy. He was unable to conduct services Sunday at St. Andrew's Episcopal church and is still confined to his bed at his home, 2843 Charles street. Union Pacific Calendars Appear—The Union Pacific calendars for 1914 have made their appearance and are along the same lines as former years, carrying the familiar old shield in red, white and blue. This year the company placed an order for 115,000. Sent in a single shipment they would fill one of the largest freight cars on the company's road. Gets Heavy Fine for Theft—Emma Walker, colored, residing in the Third ward, was arrested Sunday night on complaint of Felix Manabe, who stated in court that Emma engaged him in conversation at Tenth and Dodge streets, and while talking with him she stole $30 from his vest pocket. The Walker woman was fined $50 and costs by Judge Foster. Church Fair All Week—A most pretentious bazaar will start this evening at Holy Angels school, Twenty-eighth street and Fowler avenue, and will continue all week. Arrangements have been made for a musical program for each night with chicken dinners Tuesday and Thursday evenings. The promoters say the chickens are to be the real yellow leg variety and milk fed. Scales to be Buried Here—William Scales, the old soldier who died here last Tuesday while on his way from California to Washington, was ordered by the department at Washington to be buried here. Stack & Falconer, undertakers, were ordered to take charge of the body and it will be laid to rest in the Grand Army of the Republic circle in Forest Lawn cemetery. He was about 80 years old and has no known relatives. May Not Extend Cemetery—City commissioners, in committee of the whole, told the directors of the Bohemian Cemetery association that under the law their burial grounds could not be extended. The directors had purchased additional ground adjoining their cemetery and the residents protested against the burial of other dead in the neighborhood, the protest being based on an ordinance prohibiting extension of graveyards or establishment of new ones within the city limits. Would Make Them Better if They Could. The makers of Foley Kidney Pills know that they have absolutely the best combination of curative and healing medicines for kidney and bladder ailments and urinary irregularities that it is possible to produce. Mrs. O. Palmer, 525 Willow street, Green Bay, Wis., was seriously ill with kidney and bladder trouble. Mr. Palmer writes: "My wife is rapidly recovering her health and strength, due solely to the use of Foley Kidney Pills." You cannot take them into your system without good results. GUILD FINDS DOOR LOCKED

Former Commercial Club Commissioner Finally Enters Office. REPORTERS SEE HIM STAND Gets a Taste of How it Seems to Wait Outside While the Hands of the Clock Move Merely On. "The Man Without a Country." No, not quite. Only the man without a job. This was the temporary position of J. M. Guild yesterday when he arrived at the Commercial club headquarters, where he has been the commissioner for seven years. He walked into the lobby as boldly as usual. When he came face to face with his private door and found it shut, he remembered his resignation had taken effect Saturday night and he no longer had an official connection with the club. He hesitated before opening the door, for how did he know but that a new commissioner might be seated in his swivel chair? His hesitation attracted the attention of the large force of clerks that have so long been obedient to his word. Assistant Commissioner Ellis, condescended to come forward a few paces and ask: "Have you your card, sir?" Guild could not locate his card for a moment and during that brief spell realized how the reporters have felt every day of their lives when they approached the big glass door in the hope of getting a hastily interview with the commissioner. Time and again these excellent fellows have been compelled to stand in the lobby and wait until someone advised them Commissioner Guild was ready to see them. In the meantime the hands of the clock galloped merrily on and the paper was steaming on the press. Then just as it was too late for the boys to catch the afternoon edition the smiling features of Guild would appear under his private door. "Come in," he would say. The boys would file in and get tipped off to the fact that the club has been "big sticking" the charter, manhandling the gas franchise or maybe dreaming out a match ordinance. So the reporters enjoyed seeing Mr. Guild stand out in the lobby for a brief moment, waiting to be admitted to the big, sacred door. Then the door was flung open and Guild walked in to clean
