

ALASKA WEALTH OUTGLASSED

Four Nebraska Wheat Crops Worth More Than All Its Gold.

PREMIUM ON LABOR HERE

State Board of Agriculture Shows How the Returns from Farmers' Work Far Exceed Miners' Operations.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Nov. 23.—(Special.)—Many a Nebraskan has plunged into the frozen wastes of Alaska after the elusive placer mine. To all those who have rushed, shivered and lost the following comparison, compiled from figures on file in the office of the State Board of Agriculture, may prove interesting.

Since gold mining began in Alaska the gold placers of Alaska have yielded 7,888,000 ounces of fine gold. The value of the output is fixed at $124,800,000. This has been the total output of the mines from 1880 until the present time.

The Nebraska wheat crops of 1910, 1911, 1912 and 1913 sold for $175,975,218. In other words the wheat crop for a four-year period would pay for the entire output of the Alaska gold mines and there would be a balance of $29,875,218 in favor of Nebraska.

The wheat wealth comes from the surface of the ground. The placer mining is conducted under conditions most distressing.

The gold must be taken from the frozen earth for the Alaska climate is such that a few feet below the surface the frost is eternal. In Nebraska competency, ability and industry count in the wheat raising industry. In Alaska finding the gold is a matter of chance. Even after a paying mine is located the supply may run out at any minute.

IS MADE OFFICER TO GET MAN "STINGING" HIM

CHADRON, Neb., Nov. 23.—(Special.)—Harry E. Reische, member of the Nebraska legislature and cashier of the First National bank of Chadron, returned last night from Seattle, Wash., with a prisoner named Humphrey, alias Hayes. Six weeks ago the man came to Chadron, representing himself as a nephew of Ike Humphrey of Rapid City, a friend of Charles F. Coffey, president of the First National. Mr. Coffey made him a loan of $200, soon after which he disappeared. The newspapers contained an account of a man arrested in Seattle named Hayes that so accurately described Humphrey that Reische felt satisfied it meant the same man, had himself made deputy sheriff of Daves county and left Chadron for Seattle. All the members of the bank force identify the man as the one obtaining the loan, but it is yet to be proved who he is.

Gillette et al., the heirs and devisees of Emily M. Gillette, who conveyed to the parties now claiming to be the owners and in possession of the premises, H. Halderson of Newman Grove was the administrator. There is a dwelling on one lot and a business block on the other. It is alleged in the petition that Emily M. SEVERAL MORE DAYS OF MODERATE WEATHER COMING off the train, looking for the package with the baby. He then went entirely through the train searching for the baby, but gave no alarm and told no one, but continued his trip on to Creighton. Asked why he wanted to take the baby to Creighton, he said that the Creighton undertaker might bury it there. When asked by Mrs. Adams if she should go with him from the hotel to take the baby to the home he replied it was not necessary if she could fix it so he could carry it. Asked in regard to telling several persons that the baby was well after its death he said he did so to keep the news of its death from his wife.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Several more days of moderate weather with sunshine are in prospect for the country east of the Rocky mountains and the southwest, according to the weather forecast. Present pressure distribution indicates the approach of another disturbance in the far northwest, bringing with it rains over the north Pacific states the early days of the week, and probably local snows and rains over the extreme northwest a day or so later. After the middle of the week these unsettled conditions will drift eastward.

The northwestern disturbance will be followed by rising pressure and falling temperature, beginning by Tuesday or Wednesday, over the extreme northwest and extended eastward by the end of the week.

Over the middle and southern districts west of the Rocky mountains generally fair weather will prevail with somewhat higher temperatures early in the week.

Jewett closed his testimony at 10 o'clock and Mrs. Adams, the main witness was recalled to correct a few denials in the testimony.

HUERTA ORDERS HIS ELECTION OFFICERS INSTRUCTED TO SEE RETURNS ARE RIGHT.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The facsimile of printed instructions which purport to be those issued by General Huerta, in preparation for the recent presidential election in Mexico, has been received here. A translation of the document is interesting as showing some of the precautions taken by General Huerta to keep himself in power.

The instructions apply particularly to the state of Puebla and read in part as follows:

- 1. If any of the municipal presidents are in league with any of the revolutionary parties, they must be removed from office discreetly, so that there may be entire co-operation between the municipal presidents and the jefe politico.
- 2. It is especially advisable that the men appointed to supervise the polling shall be trustworthy persons who will unhesitatingly obey any orders given to them.
- 3. If there is still time, orders are to be given that booths intended to receive the votes of persons living on ranches shall not be installed in the towns or villages corresponding to the ranches, but in one of the ranches, so that the watchers may not attend, the principal object aimed at being to omit elections in at least two-thirds of the polling booths in each district. For this reason not more than two booths are to be installed in your district.

Blank ballots will be used in the polling booths which may be established, so that the absolute majority of votes will count in favor of the following result: President—General Victoriano Huerta, Vice President—General Aureliano Blanquet.

In spite of the fact that article 31 prescribes that the returns be sent directly to the chamber of deputies, the supervisors must be instructed to turn them over to the jefe politico, who will examine them, and if he finds that they are in accord with these instructions, he will return them to the supervisor with instructions to send them to the chamber of deputies. If the jefe politico finds that more than one-third of the polling booths in the district have been utilized, a complete liberty must be granted to citizens and political parties in all booths where votes are to be permitted to be cast, so that they may formulate protests as the protests are against violation of the law by parliament of any of the candidates in the electoral contest. In no case must such protest be allowed to interfere with the object set forth in part for these instructions.

If the examination by the jefe politico reveals that the returns do not correspond with these instructions, they will make whatever arrangements are necessary, so that the returns shall correspond entirely with the said instructions.

GOMPERS IS AGAIN ELECTED

Trade Union congress Matthew Wolf of the Photo Engravers' union was unanimously elected.

Mortimer Donoghue of Butte, Mont., was chosen delegate to the Canadian Trades and Labor congress.

A conference of delegates was held last night at which it was agreed to place John P. White on the executive board, as Samuel Gompers for the presidency. The election of Mr. Gompers today was unanimous, except that William Kieffer, delegate of the Utah Federation of Labor, asked to be recorded in opposition, as he had been instructed so to vote. His declaration was received with jeers and there was a great demonstration when Gompers was declared elected.

Convention Largely Attended. This removed all talk of opposition to Samuel Gompers for the presidency. The convention was largely attended by delegates and visitors. He announced that the executive council would meet in Seattle next Monday.

The honors of the closing hours were shared by President Gompers with John Mitchell. Shortly before adjournment a resolution was adopted instructing the executive council to draw up resolutions expressing regret at the retirement of second Vice President John Mitchell. There were long cheers while Mr. Mitchell went to the platform and shook hands with Gompers.

Mitchell made a farewell speech in which he exhorted the delegates to organize the unskilled men and the women workers and to help the children. For himself he said he was more interested in the organization of women.
