Come Tomorrow with Five Dollars

Copyright, 1912, by Stone & McCarrick, Inc.

and come with the expectation of having one of these magnificent pianos or player-pianos sent home

COME here tomorrow. Tuck a five dollar bill in your pocket before starting. And come with the expectation of beginning right then and there to own one of these fine pianos. You will be surprised—agreeably surprised. We expect you to be. For you will see a piano, which in design, in finish, in tone and in action will equal—if not surpass—those of your friends and neighbors which cost three hundred and fifty to three hundred and seventy-five dollars: And even up to four hundred dollars!

We don't care how skeptical you may be. You will see that these instruments are the biggest kind of bargains at the price ($248.75), to say nothing of the many other advantages you get in the plan through which they are now being sold.

You will see that these are just the kind of pianos you have been picturing in your mind for your home. You will see at a glance that these instruments will grace any home. That they will correspond with any modern room, it matters not how beautifully appointed.

In fact, you will be so delighted with them that you will be irresistibly compelled to select one for your very own.

The whole proposition gone over again

¶ In order that you will know this whole proposition just as well as we know it, we will go over it again.

¶ First, we are going to sell three hundred pianos for two hundred and forty-eight dollars and seventy-five cents each, which under the usual methods of selling—sell at three hundred and fifty dollars each.

¶ Instead of selling them on regular terms of twenty to twenty-five dollars down and ten, twelve, fifteen dollars a month, you pay but five dollars as an initial payment and the remainder at the rate of only one dollar and twenty-five cents a week—and the piano is sent to your home at once.

¶ A joint guarantee, signed by both the manufacturer and ourselves, is handed to you in writing, which guarantees the material and workmanship of the piano for five years from the day you make your purchase.

¶ You can get your money back at the end of thirty days' trial of the piano—if you wish.

¶ At the end of the first year's use of the piano, should you wish, you can exchange it for any other new piano we sell of equal or greater value. This gives you a whole year to fully satisfy yourself, that the piano is all you wish it to be.

¶ And, should you die before all of your payments have been made, all future or unpaid payments will be cancelled voluntarily.

¶ If you wish, you need not take the full one hundred and ninety-five weeks' time in which to pay for your piano. You may pay in less time. This is wholly optional on your part. But for each and every week you do shorten the life of your agreement, you can earn a cash dividend or cash premium of fifteen cents.

¶ Included, without extra charge, are a late style scarf and stool to match the piano.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Public Museum Project is to Be Boosted by Lecture.

GILDER WILL DELIVER LECTURE

Efforts Are Being Made in Magic City to Secure Appointment of Another Motorcycle Policeman.

The South Omaha public library museum project is moving along nicely. Everybody is working for success. The museum committee, having the installation of the museum in charge, is planning several things with a view of getting the desired $1,000 needed to put in the cases and buy a few curios to start with. Offers of loans and donations are coming in. The museum committee will be pleased to have anyone desiring to loan curios to the museum or give them outright to communicate the fact as soon as possible to the librarian.

The committee Monday will send out over 500 circular letters to citizens of both South Omaha and Omaha asking for cash donations in any sum pleasing to the givers. Every cent will be used for museum purposes. A liberal response is anticipated.

On Friday evening, November 28, at the high school auditorium, beginning at 8 o'clock, Robert F. Gilder, archeologist of the Nebraska university, will give a lecture illustrated with pictures on the prehistoric man. Some of the material, such as charts, to be used by Mr. Gilder has been in use in Harvard university up to yesterday, when they were wired for by Mr. Gilder. His talk on the stone age will be most interesting. A general invitation is extended to everyone to attend this event. No admission will be charged. Those who attend will be privileged to deposit in a receptacle as they pass from the building such sums as they wish, which will be used for museum purposes. Children under 12 years of age will not be admitted unless accompanied by their parents or older ones. It is hoped by the committee that the auditorium will be filled.

Treat for School Children.

Particularly should school children attend this lecture. It will be of great benefit to them. Mr. Gilder donates his time, making no charge for the lecture, as he is interested in the South Omaha museum, he having opened the home of a stone age man at Seventeenth and P streets recently, to obtain therefrom the first relics to be installed in the library, aside from arranging to loan the library over $1,500 worth of ancient relics dug up in South Omaha and elsewhere some time ago by a South Omaha man.

The museum committee will arrange to give other lectures if need be to help raise funds.

A tag day for South Omaha is being planned. The date has not yet been fixed. Maids and matrons interested in South Omaha will have charge of the sales.

Later on a bazar may be held, all depending on the way donations come in and what is made off of the Gilder lecture and the tag day campaign.

The museum cases will be substantial and not of the cheap variety, as they will be needed as long as the library lasts.

The installation of the library museum is not to cost the library fund a cent. The money must be raised by public-spirited people.

John Sedelak, an Omaha iron worker, was robbed of $25.00 yesterday afternoon at Railroad avenue and Paul street, South Omaha. Sedelak had just received his money for the week and came to South Omaha to seek an afternoon's pleasure. He says he visited the saloon of Anton Oliwicki in Albright. He told Captain of Police John Zaloudek last night that he had been robbed while visiting in the Magic City. The police took the matter under their care.

Want Cycle Officer.

Mayor Tom Hoctor is making a strong effort to raise enough money to place a motorcycle cop on the police force in South Omaha. The board had an efficient motorcycle cop, but because he did not belong to the proper tribe he was ousted. Motorcycle Officer Drummond held the respect of the citizens generally for his devotion to duty and his energy and bravery. He was removed by Commissioners Devine and Donahue, presumably because Mayor Hoctor had appointed him on the recommendation of Chief of Police John Briggs.

Death of Jesse Dammett.

Jesse Hammett, aged 60 years, will be buried this afternoon at 2 o'clock from Allen chapel, Twenty-fifth and R streets, to Laurel Hill cemetery. The deceased was a brother of Mrs. Joe Ballew, one of the prominent colored citizens of South Omaha, and a member of the Magic City police department. He died last Wednesday at Fort Dodge, Ia.

Stoves and Ranges.

Only few more days before we move. You better take advantage of our low prices on stoves. They go at factory cost. Koutsky-Puvilk Co.

Co-ed Uses Clever Ruse to Catch Those Who Stole the Pies

A great deal has been said lately in regard to the great detective abilities shown by Steve Maloney and the veritable Sherlock Holmes, but when it comes to ferreting out a real mystery, Miss Myrle Coffman, a sophomore at the University of Omaha can show them some new stunts. Miss Coffman lays no claim to being a "sleuthess," but her marked powers of observation and her keen penetrating mind, put an end to one of the most daring organized band of looters in the city. Not only did she cause the robbers to flee to cover, but she so badly disrupted their forces as to leave no possible chance of their ever reorganizing.

For the last few months (in fact ever since foot ball season started), things began to mysteriously disappear from the domestic science department of the university. And strange to say the things that disappeared were usually delicacies that were good to eat. Taken as a whole the lost articles were not worth so much when compared to monetary values, but when a fair co-ed has stood over a hot gas range baking a nice juicy apple pie or has put the afternoon in making a cake to show her proud parents, the loss of such an article would almost be enough to start most any rumpus. Things continued to disappear until Miss Coffman got busy, her scheme was as unique as it was effective. She made up two fine large apple pies using plenty of cinnamon and other spices in the making up to give plenty of flavoring to the pies, incidentally including 10 cent's worth of grated garlic.

The garlic told the tale and thirty minutes after the pies disappeared Miss Coffman could be seen casually engaging some of the young men in the halls of the school in conversation. Several of the young men succeeded in making themselves fit applicants to the ananias club, but the girls gave them no chance to back-water. Later the abashed young men were haled before the co-eds and to a man confessed up their part in the affair.

Eddie Simon's Dope Was Slightly Mixed

Eddie Simon, member of the state legislature, used up the best part of an hour telling Gail Raingold, proprietor of the Carlton hotel barber shop, that Nebraska would beat Iowa on the foot ball field. Finally he succeeded in inoculating Raingold with some of his enthusiasm.

Half an hour later he returned and said that he's like to make a bet of $10 on the foot ball game. "I don't care which team I bet on."

Raingold promptly offered to bet on Nebraska and Simon as promptly took him up. After the bet was clinched, Simon went about telling his friends, between laughs, how hard he had to work to "frame" a bet, since Iowa was the acknowledged favorite before the game. He laughed at Raingold's foot ball ignorance.

At 5 o'clock, when the complete score was in, Simon was nowhere to be found.

NEBRASKA PRISON PRAISED BY EX-CONVICT WRITER

"Hell in Nebraska" a book on convict life in the state penitentiary, written by Walter Wilson, a former convict, is off the press and copies were received in Omaha yesterday.

The most interesting part about the book is the title. Instead of tales of torture it praises prison conditions in Nebraska. A few cases of torture are described, but scores of instances are told where guards and wardens did kind acts for their charges.

RESINOL CLEARS BAD COMPLEXIONS

Quickly, Easily and at Little Expense

Pimples and blackheads disappear, unsightly complexions become clean, clear, and velvety, and hair health and beauty are promoted by the regular use of Resinol Soap and an occasional application of Resinol Ointment. These soothing, healing preparations do their work easily, quickly and at little cost, when even the most expensive cosmetics and complicated "beauty treatments" fail.

And the best of it is you need never hesitate to use Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment. There is nothing in them to injure the tenderest surface. Resinol is a doctor's prescription which for eighteen years has been used by careful physicians for all kinds of skin affections. They prescribe Resinol freely, confident that its soothing, healing action is brought about by medication so bland and gentle as to be suited to the most delicate or irritated skin. Resinol Soap (25c), and Ointment (50c and $1.00), are sold by practically every druggist in the United States. For trial free, write to Dept. 27-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md. Avoid so-called "substitutes" for Resinol, which are generally of little value. Buy it in original blue package.—Advertisement
