

SULZER ASSAILS TAMMANY

Impeached Governor Fierce in Denunciation of Murphy.

GIVES ADDRESS AT THE BLUFFS

Tells of Alleged Offers of Large Sums of Money if He Would Exit Out of Hand of Boss.

Former Governor William Sulzer of New York, at Council Bluffs, last night flayed Boss Murphy and characterized Tammany as a cancer on the body politic.

He would not say that Tammany was destroyed, but declared that if it was ever revived and restored to any degree of public confidence it would only be when it was freed from the taint of Murphyism, and then it would be an entirely different Tammany.

He sketched his five years in the New York legislature. Here he arose to the highest positions, including the speakership, and told of his eighteen years in congress. This brought him to the details of the state convention at Syracuse, where he was nominated for governor on the democratic ticket, and where he served notice, he said, that he would not be dominated by the bosses. While he was making this speech from the platform of the convention hall, Murphy was in the back room at the hotel picking out the candidates to be nominated. It was there that the fight on Murphyism began, the governor said. He told of the efforts of Murphy to corrupt him, he alleged, by the repeated offers of large sums of money for campaign purposes, and how he steadfastly refused.

Never Owned Him. "Someone asked Murphy if he thought I really believed what I was saying or would try to do what I promised," said the speaker, "and Murphy replied, 'I don't know; we have never owned him.'"

After the election and the governor's return from cleaning up his congressional work in Washington, Mr. Sulzer said, Murphy made repeated offers of what Governor Sulzer said were very large sums of money just prior to the inauguration, "telling me he knew I was in debt and that I couldn't live on my salary as governor. He told me I was the most popular candidate for governor and that he could be elected with less cost than any other man Tammany could ever hope to find and that he could afford to give me all of the money I wanted, referring to my $15,000 a year as governor as a chicken feed. He told me that no one but ourselves would know it, and that I could be governor as long as I wanted to. I refused."

Sent Agents to Sulzer. "Murphy was not at the inauguration, but sent his agents to me, prominent men they were, so members of the supreme court, who told me Murphy wanted me to do certain things. One of these was to appoint the man he wanted as public service commissioner at New York, when the commission had $500,000 worth of contracts to let. When I went to New York to see about finding the very best man available for the vacancy I was to fill Murphy demanded that his man Galvin be appointed. I had heard all about Galvin. He was just a part of Murphy. I refused and Murphy told me if I didn't allow him to dictate all of the appointments and promptly sign all of the bills his legislature passed that he would impeach me."

He declared then that he held the legislature in the hollow of his hand and that whenever he ordered them to throw me out, out I would go. He then told me I must appoint his man Davney state highway commissioner, a commission that had $60,000 a year to spend. I told Murphy all I wanted to do was to serve the people faithfully and honestly and that I was confident that they didn't want any Davneys or Galvins, and Murphy's reply was that it was Davney or war."

District Court in Colfax County

SCHUYLER, Neb., Dec. 2.—(Special.)—The equity session of district court opened Monday with Judge Hollenbeck of Fremont presiding. The first case set for trial is the case of Henning Johnk et al. against the Union Pacific Railroad company. T. O. Bailey et al. This case was commenced about one year ago, when the Bailey brothers, together with the railroad company, sought to put in a head gate at the head of the Bailey ditch and prevent the water of Shell creek coming down through the Bailey ditch at times of normal flow. An injunction was served upon the defendants by a number of farmers owning land below the Bailey ditch on the ground that if the water was forced to flow through the original bed of Shell creek it would inundate the lands adjoining it.

Harris and he gave no information of going up his school. He failed to return home and did not open up his school Monday. He was 26 years of age. County Superintendent R. C. Harris has experienced considerable trouble in the last few weeks with Jefferson county teachers. Five teachers have left their schools on short notice.

District Court in Madison County

MADISON, Neb., Dec. 2.—(Special.)—District court convened yesterday afternoon with Judge Welch on the bench. The afternoon was devoted to naturalization matters and making the docket assignments. Rev. Father Buckley of Norfolk and Jacob Henderson of Madison completed the final requirements of the government for their naturalization and they are now full fledged citizens of the United States. Jacob Henderson was of the impression until recently that his services as a soldier in the Philippines perfected his citizenship. Judge Welch granted divorce to Clara B. Warden, wife of William H. Warden; Frank Lamb, husband of Della Lamb, and Jennie Marsh, wife of George Marsh. The court will devote the remainder of the week to equity cases.

SHEA WANTS DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION FOR CONGRESS

ALMA, Neb., Dec. 2.—(Special.)—Monday morning Peter W. Shea, a well known merchant and politician of Orleans, announced that he is in the race for the congressional nomination on the democratic ticket. Mr. Shea is a staunch Bryan Democrat and was a delegate to the democratic national convention. A few years ago he was chairman of the county board and has always been active in politics. Harlan county will probably have two congressional candidates before the primaries as R. L. Keester, an Alma attorney and president of the local telephone company, is spoken of as a candidate on the progressive ticket. Upon being questioned regarding his candidacy he said he was not ready at this time to make a statement.

District court convenes at Alma December 8. There are two criminal cases on the docket and fifty civil cases. Carl Haecker, jr., had both bones of his right wrist fractured as he was endeavoring to crank his father's automobile.

BERTHA MASON WILL IS UPHELD AGAINST ATTACK

PAPILLION, Neb., Dec. 2.—(Special Telegram.)—Probate Judge Wheat handed down his decision today sustaining the will of Bertha E. Mason will, holding with proponents on every point at issue. This case has occupied the attention of the court for six weeks or more. It seems that Mrs. Mason, who formerly resided at Marshall, Ill., was possessed of some $50,000, $30,000 of which was willed her by her late husband after his death. She made her will devising about $20,000 to her husband's relatives and charitable institutions; of the balance, one-half to her sister, Florence L. Moore; one-fourth to Louisa Tryon, and one-fourth to W. D. Waite, being her brother and sisters. Mrs. Mason committed suicide by drowning in the Missouri river this summer near Bellevue. Mrs. Moore submitted the will for probate, to which W. D. Waite, her brother, protested on the ground of insanity and undue influence, also claiming Mrs. Moore an unfit person to handle the estate.

Damage Case Settled Out of Court. YORK, Neb., Dec. 2.—(Special.)—A case was settled yesterday in county court without litigation. Last summer a cream tester for Swift and company at McCool Junction threw some acid onto Forest Lincoln, a lad 12 years old, which struck him in the face, burning him severely. The amount of damage asked was $50. Swift and company sent a check for that amount to County Judge A. G. Wray, who turned it over to the guardian.

DAVIS NEED NOT SET OUT REASONS IN COMPLAINT

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Dec. 2.—(Special Telegram.)—Representative James A. Davis of Omaha has won his point before the railway commission in the complaint made before that body that the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company should put into effect a six-for-a-quarter rate on the lines in that city, the commission deciding this afternoon that Mr. Davis would not be obliged to make his complaint more specific as to charges, a contention made by Attorney John L. Webster and President Wattles before the commission a week ago.

In overruling the motion of the company to make the charges more specific as to why the rate should be made, the commission says that it is not a judicial body, but it is required to look into the complaint made by Davis and not the complainant's duty to set out all the facts in his complaint.
