braska farmers estimated is per cent of the crop in their state would be fed to live stock. Favorable weather for the Argentine harvest was offset by continued advices that the yield there was short-poor in quality, and of light weight. Further-more, the chances of winter killing by the recent freeze in the fall sown fields south and west of Chicago were steadily kept in mind by traders. On the other hand, bearish goasip was current that eastern roads in the United States would loan all the cars required this winter to move grain to Atlantic ports. Realizing sales on the swells acted as an additional check against a more substantial upturn. Corn was under heavy selling pressure most of the day, but in the last half hour the market raliled, owing to signs that pt offerings were going into strong hands. Reports varied as to whether supplies from farmers showed any decided increase because of improved westher. Commis-tion house buying steadied oats, but ship-ments from Canada were said to be again a factor in the east, and there were con-tinued liberal receipts in the Canadian northwest. $1,000 to Lodges, Schools, Hospitals, Churches and Societies-A Detroit Roadster to Women and to Children under 15 years of age—A Pony, Cart and Harness to Children under 15 years of age, exclusively—Pianos, Diamond Rings, Watches, and a host of minor prizes.

The Omaha Bee's big voting contest is now well started. It will be omed along to a successful finish.

BEMERSES—To secure these prizes you are not required to go to extra expense. The manufactured products are all well known. They are noted for high quality. They can be bought from practically every dealer in Omaha and the surrounding country. Save the labels—that's all.

The enterprising merchants who are co-operating with The Bee to distribute these handsome and useful premiums will give you M. & M. voting coupons at the rate of One Vote for each One Cent cash purchase. Thus, through The Bee, these manufacturers and retailers are offering you a special inducement to purchase their products and patronize their stores.

The contestants in this campaign are limited to organizations, women married or single), and to children under 15 years of age. (married

There is only one way to get these premiums—buy the manufactured products listed in The Bee from time to time—ask your friends to buy them; patronize the merchants who give away M. & M. voling coupons. Save every label and every coupon. Bring them to the CONTEST DE-PARTMENT and get a voling ballot for them.

All you have to do is out and mail or bring	NOMINATION BLANE.
