is all it takes to start you

No firm or combination of interests can afford to sell pianos like these continuously upon these terms. No house could go on from day to day, month in and month out and give such liberal conditions of sale. The profits are too small-and no house can continue in business unless it makes some profit. In our first announcement we likened this sale to an "excursion."

And as it has been like an "excursion" in its economies, so it is in the fact that railroad companies can not run excursions continuously. They have to charge full fare most of the time.

Tomorrow, and up to Saturday night, you can take advantage of this extraordinary opportunity by making a small initial payment of five dollars. You can secure a piano for two hundred and forty-eight dollars and seventy-five cents, worth three hundred and fifty dollars, or a player-piano for three hundred and ninety-five dollars, worth five hundred and fifty dollars. You start to own and enjoy your instrument then and there-or as soon as it arrives, if it has to be ordered for you. The balance you pay so as not to be a strain upon the flattest purse (one dollar and twentyfive cents a week, if you take a piano, or two dollars a week if you take a player-piano) while you secure conditions which you yourself must say can never again be equalled for liberality. You had better benefit by this opportunity by placing your order with us before Saturday night-to be delivered when you wish.
