"Wire for Us and We Will Wire for You."

1914 MUST Prove a "Step Lively" Year for THIS Establishment.....

We OUGHT to be satisfied but we are NOT! This $57,000 plant and THIS force is the LARGEST west of Chicago; our work is famous not only throughout Omaha, but in all the states surrounding; yet, we must do STILL better cleaning and make STILL greater strides during 1914. Our thanks to those who have made all this possible. Favor us and we will sit up nights trying to please you. Same instant service as usual if you'll call Tyler 345.

SOME AFTER CHRISTMAS BARGAINS

Fine New Year's decorations for your home, or presents for those Old Santa Claus failed to put on his list. We've just passed through the greatest 10 days' sale ever experienced by this house—so the selection is not so broad, but what you find is yours at a rare bargain.

Art Novelties, Statuary, Grass Goods, Silver Pieces and Everything in Music. A few choice Pianos at prices that will make you glad you waited. Maybe it will pay you to hurry.

A New Year Dawns!

For us the year 1913 was a record-breaker. There are two reasons for this tremendous growth of business.

First--The housewife has awakened to the fact that it is easier, cheaper and generally better home economy to send the family washing to a reliable laundry.

Second -- Our faultless "FAMILY WASH SERVICE" at 6c per pound, all flat pieces ironed, together with our perfect system for laundering collars and shirts have won on their merits.

DIRECTOR OF ARTS BACK FROM EUROPEAN TRIP.

J. B. TRASK.

Cable, the plaster models made by many of America's greatest sculptors are being enlarged to heroic proportions, finished in imitation Travertine marble and prepared for installation upon their pedestals. Thousands of applications for exhibit space have been received from all parts of the world assuring exhibits of the highest selective character—many of the exhibits will range in value from $50,000 to $250,000. These applications coming from all parts of the globe are an earnest of unprecedented displays in the arts, sciences and industries. Commissions appointed by the president of the United States are meeting with enthusiastic receptions abroad and are the recipients of signal honors.

Palace of Arts at Panama Exposition Marvel of Beauty

In appreciation of the enormous intrinsic value of the exhibits that will be discovered in the palace of fine arts, that structure will be rendered as safe as it is possible for the skill of man to make it. The palace will be built as though it were intended to stand for ages. It will be a "Class A" fireproof structure of concrete and steel. The only wood employed in the building will be in the floors where the hardwood is to be laid "slab" in the cement. Located about 400 feet to the west of the central group of eight main exhibit palaces, the palace of fine arts will rear its picturesque pile. It will be 1,100 feet long, describing a graceful arc which will enclose a rotunda of great architectural symmetry and will be fronted by the still waters of an artificial lake backed by trees. For its central motif the palace of fine arts will have a low dome, rising from a unique base. Stretching in a majestic curve to the north and south will be the colonnade, the terminations of which will be the main entrances to the building. The domed and circular rotunda will be enclosed in the arms of this colonnade and thus will be the dominant note in the composition. The architecture is early Roman with a harmonizing strain of Pompeian and Italian forms—the latter appearing mainly in the garden details. A quiet of artistic ease will be secured through the combined efforts of architect and landscape gardener. In cost the palace of fine arts will stand about $600,000 or more than the cost of any other exhibit structure on the 625 acres of exposition territory, with the possible exception of the palace of machinery, the huge bulk of which has brought its cost to a figure a trifle beyond that of the palace of fine arts.

Exposition City Rising by Leaps at the Golden Gate

At no time since the beginning of actual physical work upon it, in March, 1912, has the site of the Panama-Pacific International exposition presented such a scene of activity as at present. The great exhibit palaces now rapidly rising and the numerous lesser structures of many kinds combine to form an exposition city of striking effect, in the process of making. Each day reveals progress in its evolution that is little short of amazing, when the vast scope of the undertaking is considered.

In the center of the site paralleling San Francisco harbor for more than one mile is to be seen a vast net work of timber, the huge frames of the central group of exhibit palaces. A road sized army would seem lost beneath the huge beams, girders and trusses. Thousands of men employed by different contractors, each of whom is striving for a record, is at work. As the frames are added to, each day records a visible change in the exhibit palaces.

Curious visitors, who nowadays are arriving in great numbers, leave with the deeply settled conviction that President C. C. Moore's promise that the exposition palaces will be ready for occupancy several months before the opening of the celebration on February 20, 1915, will be fulfilled to the letter.

Exposition Notes.
Construction is proceeding with prodigious rapidity. All of the eleven main exhibit palaces are under construction. Flowers are now blooming in the gardens, and hundreds of thousands of others are being nurtured and tended in the exposition's conservatories and flower beds.

Thirty-one foreign nations have announced their intention to officially participate in the exposition and thirty-five states have selected sites for state pavilions. It has been estimated that $60,000,000 will be expended at the Panama-Pacific International exposition exclusive of the vast wealth represented in the exhibits of the world.

Work is progressing on the five great interior courts of the main group of exhibit palaces. The fire-proof walls of the courts are being built rapidly, the walls of the courts of the four seasons being practically completed.

The freight ferry slip is now in daily use, receiving car floats bearing cars, which are conveyed by the exposition engine over the terminal railroad track, the main line of which, and many of the branches have been completed.

The transplanting of trees and shrubs from the nurseries is progressing, the groves of cypress and other trees are to be seen upon the grounds contributing to the final park-like appearance that will characterize the exposition long before 1915.

The landscape engineering is progressing rapidly. The exposition site, which a few months ago was a waste of sand dunes, rubbish and gravel, now shows many acres of greenward, the grass growing luxuriantly in the south and north gardens, in the concessions district and elsewhere.
