GOVERNOR FINDS FRICTION
 County Officers in Copper Strike District at Outs.
 PROSECUTOR NOT CONSULTED

Says Sheriff and Board Made No Report of Arrests and Letter Admits that He Joined Miners' Federation.
 HOUGHTON, Mich., Jan. 6.—Governor Woodbridge N. Ferris of Michigan celebrated his sixty-first birthday today by plunging deep into the task of unraveling the copper strike tangle. He visited Sheriff James Cruse of Houghton county at the latter's home, because the sheriff is too ill to leave his bed.

Other officials having to do with the maintenance of law and order in this and Keweenaw counties came to the governor's room. After they had been questioned the state executive received representatives of the mining companies, of the Western Federation of Miners, business men and citizens generally.

Officials of Keweenaw county spent a bad hour with the governor. The state executive drew out that Sheriff John H. Epling and James A. Hamilton, prosecuting attorney, had not always been in harmony, the prosecutor saying he had never been consulted on any strike matter, and that no cases arising from arrests had been called to his attention.

COURT OF APPEALS AFFIRMS SENTENCES OF 24 IRON WORKERS

 clared to have personally assisted James McNamara in explosions at Salt Lake City. Porter J. Smith, of Cleveland, O., was chiefly implicated on McNamara's evidence. Paul T. Merrin of St. Louis, William E. Reddin of Milwaukee, Michael J. Hanson of Yankton, Pa.; Murray L. Pennell of Springfield, Ill., and W. Bert Brown of Kansas City are declared fully implicated by McNamara's evidence.

The other men refused appeal are Edward Smythe of Peoria, Ill.; George Anderson of Cleveland; Frank J. Higgins, Frank H. Painter of Omaha, Fred J. Mooney of Duluth, William Shupe of Chicago and Michael J. Cunane of Philadelphia. There is no ground for reversal of the judgments against any of them, the court of appeals declares.

Reasons for Reversal.
 In reversing the convictions of Tveitmo, May, Hottelhan, Sherman and Bernhard the decision says:
 "We are of the opinion that evidence is insufficient to make a prima facie case of co-partnership in the offense charged against any of them. Their sympathy and participation in the general objects of the organization may be assumed from the evidence, but we are not advised of proof of their actual participation in any of the offenses charged in the indictments."

Three Judges Sit.
 The arguments for the appeal were heard by Federal Judges Robinson, Baker and Seaman during several days following November 28, 1913. The government was represented by Charles W. Miller, district attorney of Indianapolis, and E. N. Zoline and P. H. O'Donnell of Chicago and Chester H. Krum of Indianapolis appeared for the defendants.

Conspiracy Plainly Proved.
 Concerning the conspiracy charges the decision reads:
 "Both conspiracy counts plainly aver a continuing conspiracy to commit continuous offense against the United States in the carriage of prohibited explosives as described. The contention that the purpose for which the explosives were to be used as not within federal cognizance is entirely outside of the issue. If the carriage of the explosives was the subject matter of the conspiracy its violation of the federal statutes would establish the conspiracy within the terms of the federal statute."

McCain was business agent of local No. 18 of the Iron Workers' association at Kansas City. Ray was president of local No. 112 at Peoria, Ill. Hottelhan was financial secretary of local No. 1 at Chicago. Sherman was president of local No. 22 at Indianapolis. Bernhard was financial secretary of local No. 44 at Cincinnati.

vised Ryan not to make a statement and that the latter would abide by it.
 Six of the men sentenced are in prison at Leavenworth, the others having been released on bail.
 The men in prison are: Herbert S. Hockin, Detroit, formerly secretary of the Iron Workers' union; John T. Butler, P. A. Cooley, New Orleans; France C. Webb, New York; M. J. Cunane, Philadelphia, and Murray L. Pennell, Springfield, Ill.

History of Trial.
 INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 6.—Harry Jones, secretary and treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, said he had nothing to say when told of the action of the United States circuit court of appeals at Chicago in the dynamite cases today. He said whatever statement the association would make would be given out at Chicago by President Frank M. Ryan.

Forty-nine men, mostly Iron Workers' officials, were placed on trial in the United States district court here before Judge A. B. Anderson October 1, 1912. Three of the defendants, Andrew J. Kavanaugh of Springfield, Ill., and Patrick Ryan and J. W. Irwin of Chicago, were dismissed on motion of Charles W. Miller, United States district attorney, on the same day.

The jury was sworn in October 5 and the state completed its side of the case December 1, when four other defendants, Spurgeon P. Meadows, carpenter, a business agent of Indianapolis; William K. Benson, former president of the Detroit Federation of Labor; Moulton K. Davis, former Iron Workers' board member of West Chester, Pa., and John B. Carroll, former business agent of the Iron Workers of Syracuse, N. Y., were dismissed at the request of Mr. Miller.

The defense completed its case December 18 and the arguments continued until December 28, when the case was given to the jury. The jury reported Saturday, December 28, finding thirty-eight guilty and two not guilty. Two of the defendants—Orrie E. McNamara, the confessed dynamiter, and Edward Clark of Cincinnati—pleaded guilty during the trial. The two men acquitted by the jury were Herman G. Seiffert of Milwaukee and Daniel Buckley of Davenport, Ia.

Judge Anderson passed sentences ranging from a year and a day to seven years in the federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., on the prisoners on December 28. Five of those found guilty and Edward Clark were given suspended sentences. The five were: James Coughlin, Chicago; Frank J. Murphy, Detroit; Hiram Kline, organizer for the Carpenters' union of Muncie, Ind.; Patrick F. Farrell, New York, and James Cooney of Lake county, Indiana. The thirty-three given sentences left here on a special train in charge of United States Marshal Edward Schmidt and a number of special deputies at noon on December 31 for Fort Leavenworth and began their sentences on New Year's day.
