

INSIDE GLIMPSE OF PAUL SUIT
Significant Depositions Filed by Attorneys for Brandeis.

SUPPORT BLACKMAIL CHARGE
Most of Witnesses Testify to Evil Ways of the Boy in the Case and of the Mother, Too.

Lawyers for Arthur D. Brandeis are pushing to have the so-called blackmail case brought against him by Mrs. Nellie Paul to trial, and to that purpose have been talking and filing depositions by the wholesale in the district court. The witnesses' affidavits are calculated to expose the true character of the plaintiff and her son, Clarence Risley. The depositions had been removed from the files by T. E. Brady, attorney for Mrs. Paul and are only now returned by him by order of the court to the office of the clerk, Brandeis' attorneys say they hope to get the case up for trial at the beginning of the new term of district court, which meets February 2.

From the depositions it is disclosed that sixteen witnesses testified in Detroit and Kansas City that Risley's reputation was extremely bad, and several implicate Mrs. Paul in his wrongdoing. The evidence is that the boy told his associates that he was his mother's "smart daughter," and that he had a plan to get money from an Omaha man. That Risley was known as "The Queen from Omaha," while playing minor parts in a theater in Kansas City is a statement made by the witnesses examined in that city. Three witnesses, who tell of having knowledge of his evil ways, testify that he was a notorious character there.

Charles C. Glover, who lives in Detroit, testified that last year Mrs. Paul went there to visit her son, and that the three with others of similar tastes engaged in places of bad reputation. On one Sunday, Glover testified, he went to the room occupied by Mrs. Paul and her son in the Hotel Tuller and found them both lying on a bed in negligee attire. Risley appeared demonstrative in his affection for his mother, Glover asserts. After his mother declined to go to New York with him, Risley called her vile names, the witness swears.

The burden of all the testimony is that Risley tried to make himself look like a girl, using powder and paint and dressing in a kimono and wearing a band around his head. They testify that he said he had learned his bad habits through his mother.

Harry Alkon of Detroit testifies that Risley told him his mother made a practice of beating people out of their money. Other Detroit depositions asserted that they had been implicated in Risley's wrongdoing are made by William Gordon, Morris Letinsky, Sam Bloom, Ben Kreil, Harry Popper, Claude P. McWethy, Ben Pinalver, Theodore Lipitz and Albert Levin. Witnesses in Kansas City whose depositions are on file are Curtis E. Mangold, Jack Warren and Thomas P. Flaherty.

Practically all the witnesses have frequented theaters, several being actors unknown to fame and supermen.

To Dam Loup River for Electric Plant

Contract to construct a dam across the Loup river near Genoa has been awarded to Mayo & Chamberlain, who are working their outfit to the scene of the work. The dam will multiply by nine-fold the amount of current now developed by the Nebraska Power company. The structure will be built out of reinforced concrete and will stand fourteen feet above the foundation bed, making a wall twenty-six feet high. Completion of the work is expected this year, and an equipment of 24,000-horsepower will be installed. Should the Columbus plant also be constructed, it will make a total horsepower of 30,000, and in that case the company will endeavor to bring electricity to Omaha.

HOW I CURED MY SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

A Friendly Scientist Showed Me How to Cure It Forever.

I WILL TELL YOU FREE HOW TO GET RID OF YOURS TOO

For a long time I was severely troubled by a hideous growth of Superfluous Hair on my face and arms. My face was indeed a sight from the appearance of it. I grew almost to hate myself for my unsightly appearance. I had tried every thing advertised for Superfluous Hair and I think I tried them all but never with any result, except to waste my money and burn my skin. But, notwithstanding all my years of suffering, today there is not a single sign of Superfluous Hair on my face, arms or anywhere else. I got rid of it through following the advice of a friendly scientist, a Professor of Chemistry at an English University. The treatment he advised is so thorough, simple and safe that I want every other sufferer in America to know it. It is a wonderful "cure" in my appearance and my happiness. And I gladly will my entire feeling of satisfaction and will tell honestly to all who are afflicted by it. I enclosed every trace of hair, never to return. If you are a sufferer and would like to have full details, just send along your name (including whether Mr. or Miss) and address, and a two-cent stamp for return postage and I will send you to full details the advice and instructions which I received from my friendly scientist. He will also send you a copy of his book "How to Cure Superfluous Hair" for a lady of refinement, and for years was well-known as a Society Leader in Durham, N.C.

County's Claim for Fees Against Smith is Up to Magney

Douglas county's claim of $6,500 for naturalization fees appropriated by Robert Smith, clerk of the district court, has been referred to County Attorney Magney by County Commissioner O'Connor, chairman of the judiciary committee. Mr. Smith flatly declined to pay the money into the county treasury, saying that the decision of the United States supreme court in the San Francisco case just handed down does not apply to him. "The supreme court decision unquestionably will influence my opinion," says the county attorney, "but I have nothing to say, until I have gone into the situation thoroughly."
