

GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Bears in Wheat, Corn and Oats Are Put to Rout.

MAY OPTION IS TIED UP TIGHT

Future Wheat for That Month and the Cash Article Are Being Held by the Big Holders in Chicago.

OMAHA, Jan. 15, 1914. The bears in wheat, corn and oats were routed yesterday and made to see for the moment that they were on the wrong side of the market.

The matter of advertising the big holder of May and cash wheat at Chicago would be of no benefit to those who are short the wheat future.

Advances were shown of 1/16 cent in corn and the enormous proportions, with the shorts eagerly covering, and many of the longs selling in order to secure profits.

Provisions were strong and closed higher. The lighter hog movement was one of the highlights of the session.

Chicago Cash Prices—Wheat: No. 2 hard, 82 1/2¢; No. 3 hard, 81 1/2¢; No. 4 hard, 80 1/2¢.

Chicago, Jan. 15.—Although wheat advanced in the preceding session, there was considerable fresh buying due to belief that much of the crop would be required by Japan.

Notice of increased demand for Australian cargoes about the middle of the year, however, that buyers here learned of a more decisive impetus to action—namely, from an authoritative source that Japan was making aggressive inquiries in Australia and was likely to purchase heavily because of disappointing yields.

General loosening up in offerings from the country brought about the market of bear pressure on corn. Inseasonably mild weather that was expected to continue for several days, to the great relief, and so too did a lack of adequate shipping call.

OMAHA CASE USED AS TEST

Medicine Makers Appeal from Decision Under Drug Act.

SAY CONSTRUCTION TOO BROAD

Content that Right to Censor Circulars Describing Curative Powers of Remedies Not Included in Act.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The government's right under the pure food law of 1906 to censor circulars enclosed in packages of medicine on the market is to be passed upon by the supreme court.

The federal district court of Nebraska held that the medicine was misbranded under the pure food law. The manufacturer has appealed to the supreme court on the ground the pure food law deals with labels and not circulars, and furthermore that the law as interpreted by the Nebraska court is unconstitutional insofar as the court held that the law sought to give the government a right to pass on opinions as to the curative qualities of the medicines.
