

WOODROUGH QUITE LIKELY

Rumored that Young Omaha Attorney May Run for Congress.

SEEMS TO BE RIGHT IN LINE

His Record in Past and His Present Standing with Political Powers Bid Fair to Put Him in Race.

Bryan-Wilson democrats are doing some little talking now of the possibility of running J. W. Woodrough of Omaha for congressman from the Second district.

Woodrough is a young lawyer who has become popular recently, especially since he made his great soap-box campaign during the Wilson campaign in Omaha.

Woodrough had never made an open-air political talk until someone prodded him to the sticking point.

He then waxed loquacious, mounted a soap box and made a straight-from-the-shoulder speech.

He had pretty good success, as such successes go. That is, he was not slain with a brick.

He took courage. The next night he moved his soap box and spoke at another corner. Again he had success.

Also, one night at a called meeting of the so-called "silk-stocking democracy" of Omaha, Woodrough, as president of the Woodrow Wilson league, advocated a new county convention to select delegates for the democratic convention at Grand Island.

He pointed out that that persistent rumor would have it no other way than that the Dahlgren democrats, who had been appointed as delegates to the Grand Island convention were not duly chosen according to the rules of convention procedure, therefore, he wanted to know if the rest of the democracy of the town would sit idly by and let the bunch send a delegation to Grand Island that did not at all represent the democracy of Douglas county.

Some of the "silk stockings" were enthusiastic with him, but the meeting adjourned without any action on the matter.

Dahlgren Delegation. The result was that at the Grand Island convention the Douglas county delegation was a Dahlgren delegation.

Everything that came up in favor of Bryan was opposed by the solid plianz from Omaha, which announced in a deep voice "one hundred and fifty, no."

Now the question is, how will Woodrough stand with the Dahlgren democracy? Not so bad, say some, for while he has often been against them, he is a clean little fighter.

Then, too, the question is asked, if only he and Lebeck should enter the race for the democratic nomination, what would happen? The Dahlgren democracy may not waste Christian kisses on Woodrough, but they have made it plain that they are not strong for Lebeck said.

In the same time Lebeck said to have lost much of his support from the churches on account of his vote on the Webb-Kenyon bill, the bill against the interstate shipment of liquor for illegal purposes.

Grand Jury Must Look Into Ferries and School Lands

In accordance with a state law never amended it will be the duty of James P. English, who will be the presiding judge of the district court February 2, to instruct the grand jury, which will be organized on that date to investigate any river ferries in the county and to determine whether trespassing on school lands exists.

Since there have been no ferries nor school lands in Douglas county for many years it is anticipated that the jury may disregard these instructions.

The last grand jury, which sat from February 4 to April 10, 1912, cost the county $1,023.20, according to figures compiled in the office of the clerk of the district court. The expense was divided as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Fees and mileage $1,023.20; Bailiff 216.60; Witnesses 382.50; Total $1,682.30.

Hummel Will Have Skating Places for All the Kiddies

If the cold weather will continue for a few days Park Commissioner J. E. Hummel will have provided skating ponds for every boy who owns a pair of skates.

All parks are being flooded in the hope that the water will freeze into ice of sufficient thickness to furnish skating places.

"I've flooded the parks several times," said the park commissioner, "and warm weather has prevented the water from freezing. If this cold snap keeps up for a little while we'll probably succeed this time."

The little lakes in the parks are being increased by addition of large quantities of water and wherever there is available depressions in parks or property owned by the city Commissioner Hummel is filling them with water.

I. K. Pond to Speak Here This Noon

Irving K. Pond, president of the American Institute of Architecture from 1910 to 1911, is to address the Omaha Commercial club at the public affairs luncheon this noon. Mr. Pond is an architect of Chicago.

He had the supervision of the building of a number of the largest buildings in Chicago. He is to speak on "The Architect's Relation to the Community." In a general sense this will be a city planning talk, and yet will be treated from both a broad and a technical standpoint.

Bankers Return from Regional Bank Hearing at Chicago

The committee of five bankers of Omaha and South Omaha who went to Chicago, to the hearing before the organization committee of the new regional bank system, have just returned to Omaha, full of pointers as to how to proceed in the hearing when it comes Omaha's turn to be heard before the committee at Lincoln.

Those of the committee were Luther-Drake, W. H. Burchard, H. C. Bostwick, M. T. Harlow and F. H. Davis.

This committee did not get a hearing in Chicago. They say they did not ask to be heard there, as they were not scheduled for a hearing there. They simply went to be present at the hearing at Chicago, where Chicago and other large cities of the central west were heard.

It is likely that this committee will make up largely the personnel of the committee that is to be heard before the organization committee at Lincoln soon. H. W. Yates is one that will be added to the committee, however, as he has been working for some time preparing a brief which is to present the case of Omaha in its claim as a favorable location for a regional bank.

Gives Bail for Boys Who Stole Auto, Now Own Car is Taken

Dr. H. W. Fitzgibbons' whose automobile was stolen Tuesday night from in front of the Carlton hotel, thinks that he is being poorly repaid for a kind deed of last week when he put up bail for two of the lads arrested for taking autos without the consent of the owners.

He does not think, however, that his machine was taken by the boys he befriended.

The police are taking earnest steps towards stopping the nightly thefts of valuable cars. Tuesday night Emergency Officer George Emery, armed with a large bore shotgun, scoured the city, hoping to encounter the thieves.

Patrolmen have orders to shoot on suspicion and the automobile association is assisting the department in every way possible.

John Guild, aged 69 years, is dead at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Anna D. Chapman, 1008 South Twenty-eighth street. He had been ill for several months.

He is survived by two sons and one daughter. They are John M. Guild, formerly commissioner of the Omaha Commercial club, now executive secretary of the Greater Dayton association, Dayton, O.; George R. Guild of Omaha and Mrs. Anna D. Chapman of Omaha.

Two brothers also survive him, Dr. George R. Guild of Aurora, Ill., and D. S. Guild of St. Louis, Mo.

Mr. Guild was born at Amroboth, Scotland. He came to America with his family in 1837 and settled first at Plattsmouth. Later the family removed to Omaha where Mrs. Guild died in 1905.

The funeral is to be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Chapman home at 1008 South Twenty-eighth street. John M. Guild is expected to arrive from Dayton this morning. Two brothers of the deceased, from Aurora and St. Louis, are also to arrive for the funeral. Interment will be in Forest Lawn cemetery, where the body of Mrs. Guild is buried.

LAD LOCATES STOLEN BIKE, BUT IT IS GONE

Walter Putter, 3355 South Twenty-second street, the 14-year-old high school lad who suffered the loss of three stolen bicycles in the last six months, discovered Tuesday his latest bicycle, which was stolen last Saturday night from in front of the Unit-Docekal drug store, was taken by a small boy who is in the second or third grade of the Kellogg school, and that the boy had hidden the wheel behind a signboard for fear of his parents learning of his theft.

During the night the wheel was stolen from behind the signboard by some other person and is still lost.

Putter refuses to divulge the name of the lad who stole the wheel, even though it was by means of the wheel that he delivered packages to earn money to help him secure his education. "I don't want my father and mother to find it out and get him into trouble," said Putter, "so I won't tell his name or make his parents pay for it. Maybe I'll find it, anyhow."

FRANK LAKE BOUND OVER TO THE DISTRICT COURT

Frank Lake, a Havens' hotel roomer, has been bound over to the district court on the charge of breaking and entering the home of John J. Lambier, 233 Cass street, on the night of January 15, and taking away $25 worth of jewelry, clothing and other valuables. The police arrested the man several days ago and recovered a great deal of stolen property from him.

The "Mischief Maker" and its Work. Each year the month of January numbers its list of victims from influenza, la grippe, bronchitis and pneumonia. La grippe coughs seriously weaken the system and when they hang on, are a sign of general debility. The use of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound will promptly check the cough, heal the inflamed air passages, prevent the development of a gripple to a more serious condition. Keep it on hand. Contains no opiates. For sale by all dealers everywhere.—Advertisement.

REV. C. W. SAVIDGE DECLARES BERTHA ACTUALLY FAINTED

Rev. C. W. Savidge wishes the readers of The Bee to know that when Painting Bertha got into difficulties with the police at Des Moines, when she was suddenly stricken on a street car, there was nothing out of the way about it. Bertha was really ill for once.

Savidge says Bertha is now completely purged of the last trace of her demon inhabitants and is really living an upright life.

"She has a watch, new clothes, and $12 in the bank that she actually earned," says the devil banisher, "and she is justly proud. I am afraid that if she is not given encouragement now, the treatment she received in Des Moines may make her despondent and cause a recurrence of the devil's."

Library Will Have Seventeen Stations in Operation Soon

With the opening of four more library deposit stations or branches of the public library, during this week and next, a total of seventeen will have been put into operation. In addition to these, six more branches will be started later. For all of these only new copies of the best books are provided.

Edward Rosewater school will receive its supply of books for a deposit station Thursday and will immediately start issuing the volumes to the school children and other residents of the neighborhood.

On Saturday stations will be opened at the Hanscom Park pharmacy, Park avenue and Woolworth street, and at the Dundee pharmacy, Fifth street and Underwood avenue. Train school will receive its books and start library circulation on Thursday of next week.

The deposit stations already established by the public library are located in all parts of the city, in stores, schools and factories.

Several Sunday schools have asked the library to establish branches in their churches. These requests had to be refused by Miss Edith Tobitt, the librarian, because the necessary books are not on hand and cannot be bought with the available funds.

Omaha People Only Thought it Was Cold Here Yesterday

In spite of the fact that both masculine and feminine Omaha shivered at getting up time yesterday and on the way to the street car, the government thermometer has not achieved the zero mark here yet this winter. At 8 o'clock the temperature was 11 degrees above zero. This is the lowest mark recorded during the last twenty-four hours, and is 3 degrees above the former low mark for the winter, which was 3 degrees above zero.

A cold north wind, accompanied by a flurry of snow, Tuesday night made many believe that it was the coldest night of the winter, and Colonel Welsh, local weather forecaster, was called upon many times to settle wagers on the temperature.

Warmer weather in the mountains west indicates that a rise in the mercury may be expected here Thursday, though the cold wave, which extends over the upper valley, will likely prevent any moderation in the temperature tonight.
