

New Silk Crepe de Chines

Twenty-five Beautiful Colors

We are proud of this collection and justifiably so, when these silks are the most fashionable and the scarcest on the market.

Fortunately, we foresaw the trend of fashion before it became difficult (really almost impossible) for manufacturers to fill their orders.

We selected every shade and color which had beauty and serviceability to recommend it, and we want you to have the pleasure of seeing them Wednesday.

WILSON OPPOSES FREE TOLLS

President Objects to Clause Exempting Coastwise Ships.

ACTION IS EXPECTED SHORTLY

Executive Takes Position that Provision is a Discrimination Which Violates the Hay-Pauncefote Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—That President Wilson is opposed to the exemption of American coastwise ships from Panama canal tolls was flatly asserted at the capitol today by those who know what took place at the conference last night between the president and senate foreign relations committee.

Senators who talked with the president said today that Mr. Wilson fully explained his position on the tolls question; that his views incline toward the contentions of Great Britain, and that he would make public his attitude in the near future.

What the president may recommend was not disclosed in today's reports of the White House conference, but it was pointed out that one way would be to repeal the exemption provision of the act, and another the passage of the Adamson resolution to suspend for two years the operations of the exemption clause, and thus demonstrate whether the canal would be self-supporting without tolls from American ships.

It was said today that the president was not adverse to toll exemptions as such, but that he was strongly of the opinion that they would be a discrimination which would not agree with the provisions of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

Lifting the embargo on arms for Mexico was also discussed at last night's conference. Some senators favored it on the ground that it would hasten hostilities to a conclusion. One senator said today he believed the president was inclining more and more to that view and might lift the embargo soon.

After their talk with the president on the Japanese question that officials in Japan were friendly to the United States, but were being pressed by radicals.

The dispute between the United States and Great Britain terms on the construction of Article 3 of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, which provides:

"The canal shall be free and open to the vessels of commerce and of nations observing these rules on terms of entire equality, so that there shall be no discrimination against any such nation or its citizens or subjects in respect of the conditions or charges of traffic or otherwise. Such conditions and charges of traffic should be just and equitable."

"The British contention has been that this clause of 'entire equality' was to be taken literally, but the Panama canal, which providing equality of tolls on ocean-going traffic, exempted American coastwise vessels from the payment. Sir Edward Grey, British minister of foreign affairs, protested against the exemption as contrary to the language of the language of the treaty.

Mr. Knox, while secretary of the state under the Taft administration, replied to Sir Edward Grey: But the attitude of the present administration has not been generally known up to the time of the president's conference with senators last night, according to the view they obtained, Mr. Wilson supports the view of equality of treatment under the treaty.

KAISER HAS ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION IS ELABORATE

Emperor William is Fifty-Five Years Old Today.

PROCESSION OF MANNED MILITARY BANDS IS FOLLOWED BY DIVINE SERVICE AND ARMY OFFICERS.

BERLIN, Jan. 27.—Emperor William celebrated his fifty-fifth birthday today here and vigorous in body and mind and able still, as was shown by his recent wood-chopping exploits, to undertake the physical work of a man in the prime of life.

All classes of his subjects joined in observing the day, celebrations being held by university and technical school students, by academies of arts and sciences, by army and navy officers, civic organizations and by municipalities and veteran associations throughout the empire.

The day in Berlin was ushered in with the traditional sounding of a choral from the castle dome by a corps of trumpeters at 7 a. m. The "grand reveille" by massed military bands, which marched from the castle to the Brandenburg gate, the whole length of the crowded Unter den Linden and return came next.

After divine service in the royal chapel, his majesty held a birthday levee and received the congratulations of his ministers, the ambassadors and ministers of other countries, the high military and naval authorities and court society generally.

In the progress of the diplomatic corps through the Linden to the castle, always a great attraction for the spectacle-loving citizens of Berlin, the United States ambassador, James W. Gerard, in an automobile and wearing civilian attire, without gold braid or decorations, was an inconspicuous figure among the foreign representatives, all in gorgeous uniforms, riding in carriages of state. His majesty had a cordial greeting for Mr. Gerard and conversed with him for several minutes.

The levee was followed by a customary military event, the giving out of the pass word for the day, which is always "Long live to his majesty." The emperor, attended by his six sons and followed by a glittering staff, walked from the castle to the guard house near the arsenal, where all the officers in Berlin were assembled for the ceremony.

Crane of Clear Lake Has Classified the Knockers

CLEAR LAKE, Ia., Jan. 27.—(Special.)—Charles F. Crane, former president of the Clear Lake Commercial club and for years a vice president in the state association, evidently has little use for "knockers." At the big talkfest held here he relieved himself of the following:

"These chronic knockers, the kind that lack the ability to do anything themselves and ascribe an ulterior and selfish motive for every public enterprise, remind me of the old style one lung automobile. You can hear their exhaust afar off; they are always making a loud noise, but never get anywhere, and do not make progress themselves, but keep the main traveled path where others who do want to get somewhere have to turn out and go around. About ever so often they backfire with a loud report that always relieves their pent-up energy for the time being. They easily short-circuit, for every time they put their hands in their pockets and touch their pocketbooks their enthusiasm oozes out. Their radiator steams a little all the time, and any enterprise that seems liable to cause a raise in taxes, no matter how slight, causes it to boil over. Their carburetor is never working right, due to the mixture, which is mostly hot air and not enough of the real source of power. They have a blowout on the street corner about once a day. Their clutch is always slipping, for no matter how much energy is expended they never go forward. About the only mechanism that is always working is the reverse. Their backward movements are something wonderful, and you will do well to avoid being in the rear. The exhaust is indescribable, and in neighborhoods thickly populated with this brand of citizenship polecats have been known to commit suicide for very envy."

Nine Men Hurt by Fall of Cage in a Coal Shaft

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Jan. 27.—Nine men were injured, some of them seriously, when the engineer at Sanford Mine No. 1, four miles west of West Terre Haute, lost control of the mine cage at 7 o'clock this morning and it ran 200 feet to the bottom of the shaft high speed. All were badly bruised about the body and arms and one man, Charles Sherwood, it is believed, has suffered a broken back. The victims, nearly all of whom live in this city, were brought here and taken to their homes or to the hospital.

Threatening Letters Are Sent to Kenyon

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(Special Telegram.)—Letters threatening violence upon the head of Senator Kenyon of Iowa will probably be turned over to postoffice inspectors for investigation. Senator Kenyon sponsored the "red light" bill that passed yesterday, by which it is decided to abolish the "red light" district.

The letters were mailed in Washington, evidently after the passage of the bill by the house yesterday. Through the Iowa senator has not yet determined his course it is likely that postal agents in the Washington division will be asked to ferret out the senders of the threatening letters.

Senator Kenyon would not discuss the receipt of the letters today, even among his friends, and is not unduly alarmed. He showed a disposition early in the day to ignore them, but it is likely that after conferring with his friends he will take a different course.

JOSLYN BACK TO EXPLAIN

Head of Western Newspaper Union Reaches Washington.

SAYS HE ADVERTISED CANADA

Declares Matter Used Purely of Such Character and Was Not Contrary to Law but Matter of Business.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(Special Telegram.)—George A. Joslyn of Omaha, president of the Western Newspaper Union, accompanied by Mrs. Joslyn and Mrs. J. L. Farnsworth, arrived from Florida last evening and are registered at the Shoreham. Mr. Joslyn will appear before the so-called lobby committee of which Senator Overman of North Carolina is chairman, to explain certain statements made by President Smith of the American Press association with relation to the Western Newspaper Union taking advertisements from Canada.

Mr. Joslyn said today that he had not anything to explain; that whatever had been done had been done in the way of advertising pure and simple, and the newspapers handling the stories of Canada's opportunities were well advised.

THE HOUSE OF MENAGE

Shows New Spring Garments to Gentlemen Only.

The House of Menage announces that the new spring fashions now on display will be shown to gentlemen only. After reading this announcement, if any one decides to inspect our garments who does not appreciate garments of the character we are showing, who does not want individuality coupled with good values, who does not want exclusive models, we would suggest that there are dozens of stores in Omaha that sell ordinary garments. We do not. We are the only concern in this part of the United States that caters exclusively to gentlemen. Now let us explain.

In catering to gentlemen the most important essentials are the style of the garments and the service in showing them. Price is always a secondary consideration, but it should be and is considered by every thrifty person before a garment is decided on.

So you can readily see that after the two important parts are taken care of, our next aim is to give values that will bear comparison. We object very especially to quoting prices in our advertising from a comparative basis, but as yet it is hard to impress the real values that we are showing unless we do quote the regular and sale prices.

This week we are offering 100 spring suits. They are the prettiest styles that one can really imagine for spring wear. The prices are up from $5. The neobest coats—styles right from London—Are just in.
