

BACK TO MEET THEIR KING

Plans for Home-Coming During Week of Ak-Sar-Ben Festivities.

SAMSON SOON TO ISSUE EDICT

All Former Nebraskans Are to Be Ordered Back to the Chief City of the Kingdom of Quivers.

"Dad" Weaver, the right-bower to King Ak-Sar-Ben XX, and known to all knights as Samson, has evolved a scheme that has been submitted to the board of governors individually, but not as an organization.

The scheme evolved by "Dad" Weaver has been suggested to the Commercial club, the secret and civic societies of the city, and all of the members pronounce it the real thing.

The club and society boosters are not only going to do some letter writing, but they are going to supply "Dad" Weaver with the name of every man, woman and child who has formerly lived here.

While "Dad" Weaver will not estimate the number of former Omahans whom he will bring to the foot of the throne of King Ak XX, he modestly puts the number at 5,000, and an attendance of 10,000 would not surprise him.

For the old Omaha boys and girls who return to do honors to the king, "Dad" plans that they will not have a dull minute during their stay here.

Then, too, "Dad" proposes that at some central place in the city a big hall be rented for the week. This he proposes to have seated in order that it may be a rest place and one where gatherings may be held for renewing old friendships and establishing new ones.

Should the board of governors approve the plans of "Dad" Weaver, he will immediately thereafter commence his campaign, and letters will be started to every part of the United States where a former Omahan can be located.

Good Cooking Right Thinking Right Living Go Hand in Hand

"The nation's problems today are problems of the home and by the same token they are women's problems."

—President Wilson

The ECONOMY ADMINISTRATION BOOK was written by 450 of the most prominent women in America to promote Economy and Scientific cookery.

ECONOMY ADMINISTRATION COOK BOOK

RECIPES OF Mrs. Champ Clark (Wife of the Speaker of the National House of Representatives) MISSOURI

Mrs. Clark, next oldest congressional hostess in point of service in Washington, was born in Caloway County, Missouri, the daughter of Joel Davis and Mary McClung (McAfee) Bennett, descendants of English and Scotch pioneer settlers in the Colonial South.

In the early days in America, when the cost of living was not the problem it is to-day, materials were both cheap and good, and cookery correspondingly lavish.

About the same time he brought French cooks to the United States, Mr. Jefferson introduced rice to the Southern States.

(Mrs. Clark's splendid article occupies three pages in the Economy Book and is entirely worthy of this distinguished lady.)

is for those who believe in the simple principles of democracy, and especially the simple and natural life. In our country we are getting farther away from nature every year.

The health and happiness of the people depend particularly upon two things, namely, wholesome foods and good cooking. Both are difficult to find at the present time, but under the reign of true economy the food supply will improve and the cooking be rendered more serviceable.
