things. Councilman John Cavanaugh was able to collect a bet from Councilman Tom Alton, who, at the meeting asserted that there was no sidewalk on the south side of Q street from Twenty-seventh to Thirtieth streets. Cavanaugh won two cases of beer and the bet was paid at once.

In order to make the city more inviting to travelers, Mayor Hector has asked the Union Pacific railroad company to keep the local depot open day and night. The depot opens into N street and it has been stated that many travelers pass up the Magic City because the depot is closed at night. A conference between the Union Pacific officials and the mayor has been arranged for this afternoon.

As a result of the agitation in the newspapers Mayor Hector was able to announce that the West Q street car service would be increased by two additional cars, giving a schedule of seven-minute service instead of ten-minute service. The mayor stated that the present service was 20 minutes, but that the street car company would establish a traffic map at Twenty-fourth and N streets to check up the schedule, service and traffic on the Q street line.

For improvements on the library property the Library board last night made a demand for $55.32. Gus Hedgren asked the city council to reimburse him for $400 tax receipt investment, which he alleges was lost through the negligence of a former city clerk.

Beaten Up in Saloon.
Pete Minko and Al Hinkle, two brothers residing at 256 South Twentieth street, are laid up as the result of a beating which they assert was administered to them Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the saloon of Louis Kvasnicka at 2412 Q street. Pete Hinkle was so severely beaten that he had to be attended by a doctor. The case was placed in the hands of Attorney Dean Rieger yesterday and it is probable complaints will be filed.

The Hinkles were released from jail Sunday after being arrested for being drunk Saturday night. On Sunday they claim that they went to the saloon of Kvasnicka on invitation of a friend. It is asserted that the attack was made after an argument with the proprietor of the place. The Hinkles say that eight or ten men were in the saloon at the time.

"Oh, they were just switches, and I did not bring them along," testified Police Officer Joe Ballew yesterday in a police court trial of a fight between Frank Krasnicki and Anton Malopetro of Thirty-eighth and L streets. The switches it appeared were used with telling effect upon the heads of the combatants some days ago. Attorney Benar insisted upon getting a description of the "switches." One was a broomstick about three feet long and the other was said to be even more substantial than the broomstick.

"Some switch" commented the attorneys.

Hartnett Taken Ill.
Councilman Henry Hartnett, widely known and respected among the politicians of South Omaha, was taken ill yesterday evening after a committee meeting at the city hall. He was accompanied home, where his condition grew worse. Physicians were called and at a late hour last night he was said to be in a serious condition. Hartnett has served two terms in the city council from the Seventh Ward. He has won the reputation of being honest and devoted to the interests of the small home owners and laboring element, regardless of party.

Fling Gives Sketch of Count di Cavour's Diplomatic Abilities

Dr. F. M. Fling lectured on Count di Cavour and his efforts toward the establishment of the Italian union yesterday afternoon at the high school auditorium. Explaining the delicacy of the situation which existed prior to 1859, Dr. F. M. Fling told of how the external influences were welded together and the internal forces combined through the generalship of Cavour, then minister. He declared that the minister finally worked himself to death, carrying besides his own, the burden of responsibility of some five or six other ministers.

The text of the lectures given by Dr. F. M. Fling will be given on February 16, instead of February 9, as formerly announced. That will be the last of the present series of lectures.

Mayor Said to Have Declared Game at Twenty-Fourth and Q.

J. W. MURPHY OWNER OF PLACE

City Attorney Murphy Says Will Prosecute if Mayor Will Swear to Complainant—Owner Knows of No Gambling.

Irritably commenting upon a news article yesterday, Mayor Hector is quoted as saying that the only gambling house he knew of was in a building at Twenty-fourth and Q streets owned by J. W. Murphy. The place has been run as a pool hall for some time and it is said that a game operated there for some time. But several weeks ago, due to the influence of church people in the southeast section of the town, the gambling was cut out, it is asserted.

When the matter was communicated to City Attorney H. C. Murphy yesterday he stated: "If the mayor has knowledge of such law violations it seems to me that it is incumbent upon him to get busy and prosecute the place. If he will swear to the complaint I will file it and prosecute the case."

Fred Schmidt, the proprietor of the place, said last night, "There is no game here."

J. W. Murphy, owner of the building, said, "I am not called upon to police the city. If the mayor knows of any violations in any property owned by me or anyone else it is up to him to enforce the law. I know of no gambling in my property." J. W. Murphy is a prominent stockman, heavy property owner and is highly respected.

Students Lack Concentration.

From actual investigation I find that many students in the high school apply themselves intensely to their studies about ten minutes out of a forty-five-minute period," stated Prof. S. W. Moore of the South Omaha high school at a mass meeting yesterday forenoon. Principal Moore said that the pupils were mostly interested in getting through school, and that with the least possible exertion. He said that lack of application and concentration was the cause of the flunks and low grades. The speaker said that out of a forty-five-minute study period it took the pupil twenty minutes to get settled and fifteen minutes to get ready for recitation. The other ten minutes were spent on the lesson.

New Hotel Planned.

Plans for a $45,000 five-story modern hotel, facing the Q street viaduct, are prepared and E. M. Eckman, owner of the land, has announced that the building operations will begin soon. A hotel, modern, and convenient to the Union Stock yards, has been projected for a long time. The new building will cover a space 40 by 70 feet, and will be five stories high. The lower floor will be used as offices by the Eckman company.

Doctors Now Agree On Eczema Remedy

Confirm the Statements About D. D. D. Prescription

Geo. T. Richardson, M.D. In my opinion D. D. D. should be applied in all cases of skin disease—an immediate relief to the itchy, & calm to accented nerves, soft, soothing, yet a powerful agent, a strength to the general system.
Dr. Una Holmes: "D. D. D. is as near a specific for eczema and the dreaded psoriasis as is quinine for malaria. I constantly prescribe D. D. D. also for salt rhusm, tetter, barber's itch, pimples, all forms of itching eruptions, scales, sores."
Dr. Ira T. Gabbert: "I freely admit that D. D. D. reaches cases and permanently cures them, more efficaciously than mine."
Dr. Gabbert's words are of special significance. He is known as one of the first skin specialists in the state.
