FEDS RAIDING MINORS NOW

Tinker Says Inroads Into Lesser Organizations Begun by Outlaws.

KILLIFER CASE TO BE FOUGHT

Six of Stars of Giant-White Sox World Tour Unassigned and Effort to Be Made by New Circuit to Get Them.

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—The Federal league has turned its attention to the clubs of the big minor leagues and has begun to raid some of the teams, according to Joe Tinker, manager of the Chicago Federals. With the exception of a few major leaguers still wavering practically all the players in the American and National leagues have decided on which side of the fence they would stand when the season opens.

Not only are players now in minor league outfits being raided by the Federals, but those who may receive their ten days' notices of release from major to minor league clubs will be offered contracts by the new circuit.

Developments today in the Cole case convinced Manager Tinker that the pitcher belongs to the New York Americans, and no attempt will be made to force him to carry out the contract he made with the local Federal league club.

It was found that Cole had practically accepted terms with the Yankees before he signed the contract with Tinker. Manager Tinker said, however, the Federal league will fight the Killifer case to the limit, and protested that Killifer would play ball with the Chicago Federal team or not at all.

Word was received today that six of the stars of the Giant-White Sox world tour are still unassigned and an effort, it was said, would be made before the embarkment of the last leg of their trip to line them up for the Federals. Crawford of Detroit and Speaker of the Boston Americans, are among the unassigned men, it was said.

Association Boys to Stage Big Circus

A circus will be given by the boys of the department of the Young Men's Christian association, Saturday, February 21. Two performances will be staged, and the production is already being prepared and rehearsed in all its details, from muscled ringmaster to elephant water carrier, from the caparisoned camels to the charmed snakes.

"Bigger and better than ever" is the announcement about to be posted upon the billboard of the junior association. This will be the ninth annual circus, and all the attractions of the previous shows will be on hand, with many new ones. One of the latter will be the association's double military brass band, directed by Dr. A. D. Laird. There are over sixty members trained into quite a commendable musical organization.

Another added attraction will be an aggregation of tame and intelligent pets gathered from the twelve wards of this city.

Another feature will be an exhibit of water animals. Twenty boys are being trained by an expert swimmer, and it is expected that their part of the circus will be one of the most interesting.

Give Your Blood A GOOD Searching Bath

An astonishing record of actions blood poisoning is daily brought to our attention. And most if not all these conditions could be averted were the blood purified, toned and purified in advance by that wonderful remedy known everywhere as S. S. S. Few people realize how quickly the system becomes infected with the acids and ferments from unclean food, constipation and inactive kidneys.

The medicinal properties of S. S. S. are relatively just as essential to well balanced health as are the nutritive properties of the acids, grubs, fats and sugars of our daily food. And if you will bear this fact in mind and get your blood under the dominating influence of S. S. S. you will not only drive out these impurities that cause rheumatism, catarrh, eczema, pimples, boils and skin eruptions, but you will feel the thrill of health that can come only from a purified blood.

BALL PLAYERS WINTER HERE

Numerous Well Known Professionals Make Omaha Their Home.

MAJOR LEAGUERS ON THE LIST

Ragon, Who Pitches for Brooklyn, the Two Williams Brothers and Gibson Head This City's Players' Colony.

Although the casual observer might express the opinion that Omaha is not a propitious locality for a base ball player to while away the long, wintry months, the fact is this city might almost be called a harbor for the inactive ships of the ball diamond between the months of October and March. For every year the month of October heralds the arrival of dozens of exponents of the national game while the brisk breezes of March carry them toward the sunny southland where they prepare for the six months of effort on the athletic field.

Every one of these ball players who make Omaha their winter home acknowledge this city as their permanent home. Many claim like California and Florida harbor ball players for the winter in greater number than does Omaha, but the athletes are merely transients and do not consider them as residences.

Of course Omaha's colony does not boast of any experts like Cobb, Jackson, Speaker or Wagner, but there are a few stars of the first magnitude and a whole basketful of league stars and satellites, and even the big leaguers are youngsters with brilliant prospects before them, but it is hoped that before the passage of many more years Omaha will be advertised the country over as the home of noted ball players.

RAGON HEADS THE LIST

Pat Ragon is the veteran of the big leaguers. He is a twirler who draws his stipend from that disturber of base ball peace, Charlie Ebbets of Brooklyn. Pat is considerable twirler, too, and holds his own with the best of them. Gus Williams

CHRISTIANS EASILY DEFEAT THE FIRST BAPTIST FIVE

Playing rings about their opponents, the First Christian church basket ball quintet easily defeated the First Baptists last evening at the Young Men's Christian association gymnasium, 28 to 4. Not during any part of the game did the Baptists have much of a show against their more experienced brethren, the Christians shooting baskets at will and pulling off all the fancy stuff that goes to make a one-sided game appear decidedly more so.

It, Weigle and Brown for the Christians were the chief score getters, making between them a total of sixteen points. The Weigle brothers also were the star performers of the contest, playing a much more consistent game than their teammates. Alwine made the only goal for the Baptists, the other two points being made by Grane, who threw two foul goals. Lineup:

GRAND ISLAND NOT HAVEN FOR OTHER CITIES' OUTCASTS

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Feb. 4.—(Special.)—Five of the inmates of the closed Norfolk resort arrived here late last evening. The police department with forty-four worriers of that kind of the city's own, became advised of it and in a very short time three of the new arrivals were in jail to await the next train out. Two are still missing, but will be apprehended. The local authorities do not intend that Grand Island shall be made a haven of refuge for ill-lightening results in Omaha and Norfolk.

TIGERS GET CONTRACTS

The Detroit club on January 23 received by mail the signed contracts of George Moriarty, veteran third baseman, the team, and H. E. Hellman, a first baseman, drafted from the Portland team of the Northwestern league.

STAGG TO URGE CHANGES

Will Make Twenty-Two Suggestions to National Rules Committee.

LEAVES FOR NEW YORK MEET

Seven of Proposed Innovations Have to Do with the Forward Pass and Three with Penalties.

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—Twenty-two suggestions for changes in foot ball rules will be made by A. A. Stagg, director of athletics at the University of Chicago, who left for New York to attend the meeting of the national rules committee on Friday.

Seven of these proposed changes have to do with the forward pass, three with penalties, four with the duties of officials, three on the scoring of points and five on miscellaneous clauses.

As the west's superiority in the development and execution of the forward pass is generally recognized by critics, and Mr. Stagg coached the eleven which won the western collegiate championship, it is believed his recommendations will receive serious consideration.

He thinks a forward pass, which goes out of bounds on the fourth down, should be given to the opposing side where the ball is put in play.

All players should be numbered, Mr. Stagg says.

Other recommendations are: The rule penalizing for crawling should be dropped. The rule regarding the roughing of the fullback should be more clearly defined and the penalty lightened. The value of touchdowns and field goals should be lessened.

The center should be forbidden to hide the ball by holding it.

The last recommendation is the outcome of a play in the Chicago-Iowa game. The Iowa center hid the ball and later placed it to a half back who scored on the trick.
