That article brings out several things which I have never heard discussed, such as bribery, etc., but it also states several things, which I, from personal knowledge know to be incorrect. That surticle says that "while Supreme Organizer and State Deputy Kester sat with the delegation a great deal of the time, we do not recall a single effort on their part to influence our vote on the rate question."

While it may be technically true that they did not attempt to influence the delegates while they sat in the delegation, yet they did use their influence at other times and Supreme Organizer John son met me in the lobby of the Sherman house in Chicago-two other Nebraska delegates were there. Neighbor Johnson asked me if I would support, and requested me to support, the raise in rates. I told him that I was ont prepared to state my position, as I had only heard one side of the question. I also then told Neighbor Johnson that I could not under-stand why it should be necessary to make such a padical change and I asked him what would be done with the rast amount that would abcumulate provided the report was adopted. His answer was: "Are you going to part your judgment against turned, walked away and left him. According to my interpretation of Neighbor Johnson's remarks, we were not sup-

Head Consul Talbot heard of this disussion, for he sent another neighbor to me, requesting me to go to his (Talbot's) room. I did not go. The same neighbor came to me a second time with the same request, but I did not go. The next evening Head Consul Talbot came to me in the lobby of the hotel and we went over to one side of the room and talked about Neighbor Johnson's remarks of the even ing before. He said that Neighbor Johnson 'should not have answered you in that manner.' Neighbor Talbot said that it would be necessary for us to create | a reserve fund to comply with the Mobile bill, or we would have to go out of business in sixteen or eighteen states which had already adopted the Mobile bill. He said that there was no doubt but that other states would follow. He said that we must raise a certain per capita to go into that reserve fund and that it would take three or four years to do that and after that there would be no assessor levied, only barely enough to meet the death lesses, same as we had heretofore done. I then told Neighbor Talbot that if that, was the case I could support the sittee's report. I have always been in favor of a reasonable reserve and feel that a conservative raise of rates will accomplish the desired results and perpetuate our beloved order. Fraternally,

He had been suffering from the disease for four rears. Mr. Bremmer was 39 years old and married, but childless. Bremmer came to a sanitarium to try the radium treatment after physicians in this country and Europe had tried vainly to cure him.
