Teaching Little Girls Principles of Real Home Life

Sewing Class of Central and Monmouth Park Mothers' League

Few people are aware of the new feature—a practical sewing school—which has been introduced recently into the Omaha schools by the Central and Monmouth Park Mothers' League.

The purpose of this school is to teach practical sewing, to get the girls under 15 years of age interested in this work, so that they will know the essential details of it.

The first sewing class met January 24 at the Central Park school. Seventy children applied, there were only two teachers, Mrs. G. U. Carter, whose salary is paid by the league, and the president, Mrs. W. A. Smith, to whom belongs the credit for the existence of this school.

The classes have been meeting regularly every week and the work going along very smoothly, but now the league is faced with the matter of expense.

When Mrs. Smith first proposed the plan for the sewing school it was met with instantaneous approval, but the question arose, "Where shall the classes be held, and how will the expense be met?"

The north side women are heartily of the opinion that the public schools should be neighborhood centers (they hold their league meetings in the school buildings) and so they asked permission of the Board of Education to use the school building for this purpose.

As before mentioned, the league undertook to pay the salary of the instructor, but there is expense incurred in the purchase of material and necessities such as sewing machines, etc., which they will need from time to time. It is, therefore, star displayed upon it, otherwise it must be done over again until perfect.

The literature department of the South Omaha Woman's club has postponed its meeting until Tuesday, March 10, on which date the program on the "Panama Canal" will be given at Library hall.

The U. S. Grant Woman's Relief Corps will hold a regular meeting at 2 o'clock Tuesday in Memorial hall.

Requests have already been received from mothers in other districts, asking if they might send their daughters, and the immediate favor which the school has met makes its promoters very sanguine for its success and for the establishment of similar classes in other schools.

The Dorcas Sewing club will be entertained at a 1 o'clock luncheon at the home of Mrs. G. U. Carter Friday.

The P. E. O. Sisterhood will hold its annual election of officers Thursday, at the home of Mrs. A. H. Menold. A 1 o'clock luncheon will precede the election. Mrs. T. M. Giltner and Mrs. E. L. Grout will be the assisting hostesses.

The Clio Study club meets today with Miss Hannah Logasa, leader of the program, "King Hunter" by Andreyev is the subject for study. A comparison of the Russian drama with that of other nations will be made by Miss Logasa; the story and criticism of the play by Miss Leona Gordon; and psychology of the drama by Miss Ruby Isaacson.

at the Central Park school. Seventy children applied, there were only two teachers, Mrs. G. U. Carter, whose salary is paid by the league, and the president, Mrs. W. A. Smith, to whom belongs the credit for the existence of this school.

Active work was not begun, however, until the second meeting, which was January 24, at the Monmouth Park school. Then the little ones were divided into two classes, those under and those over 10 years of age. All those in the highest class were instructed to work on the same material and the same garment, this being a doll's underskirt, with waist attached. When they have finished this garment correctly they will be able to do some practical sewing. The younger class is taught to sew carpet rags or patches for quilt work, the material for which has been furnished by a few volunteers.

This is the initial training and teaches them to sew a straight seam. Each piece of work is examined and if found satisfactory is rewarded by having a golden star displayed upon it, otherwise it must be done over again until perfect.
