ALDERMAN BOYER EXPLAINS

Writes Letter Telling of Those Sixth Ward Ballots at Primaries.

SAYS NO WRONG COMMITTED

Result of the Election Approved by Representatives of All of the Political Parties.

Alderman Boyer of the Sixth ward presents the charge that there was an intentional wrong in the use of thirty-seven of the official ballots for sample purposes and educating voters in the First precinct of that ward that threatened to create a big case following the primary election Monday.

of the day in the First of the Sixth. At the preceding election, when the auditor had forgotten to send any sample ballots to that precinct, he was called up about noon and he came down and himself stamped some ballots for samples when the election was half over.

This is the second time the local paper has cried fraud in the Sixth ward, and both times the paper has been wrong. During the Kimball-Goodwin fight, the Nonpareil yelled fraud so hard that a Waterloo paper and the Sioux City Journal both had editorials stating that the election board was rotten.

NEW FRATERNAL HALL FOR TWO SOCIETIES

The two prosperous and strong German societies, Sons of Herman and Arion Sinking society, have united in a contract with Dr. Brandt by which he is to provide practically a new fraternal building which they will use in common. It is to be located in the part of town that promises to feel the spur of development during the coming year—East Broadway, Dr. Brandt owns a two-story modern brick business building at the corner of Frank street and East Broadway, which is now being used for successful commercial purposes.

He is arranging to build several more store buildings adjoining it on the east, making a good-sized business block. The German societies are to use the upper floors for lodge and club house purposes and the buildings are to be built with special reference to their needs. The work is to be done this season.

Until the change in the Iowa liquor laws made it impossible to have more than twenty-nine saloons in Council Bluffs, the chief business house in that vicinity was a saloon. The saloon passed out of existence with the change in the law. It remained vacant until Harry H. Brown conceived the idea of extending the scope of the famous Owl drug store and put in a stock of drugs there. It was small at the beginning, but now has become important. Other stores have been quickly followed, and it is the re-juvenation of an old section of the town that has made it possible for the new business and fraternal building to come into existence.

Argentine Beef Sold in the City

Without knowing it numerous Council Bluffs people have been eating Argentine beef. The first carcass of refrigerated South American beef to be sent here was received on Wednesday by a local company and used to fill part of their orders on Thursday and Friday. The beef was shipped from New York to Council Bluffs by express, and this cost brought the price a trifle higher than the same quality of native beef would have cost. If it had come from the seaboard refrigerator cars by freight the cost would have been considerably less than native beef.

Until the change in the Iowa liquor laws made it impossible to have more than twenty-nine saloons in Council Bluffs, the chief business house in that vicinity was a saloon. The saloon passed out of existence with the change in the law. It remained vacant until Harry H. Brown conceived the idea of extending the scope of the famous Owl drug store and put in a stock of drugs there. It was small at the beginning, but now has become important. Other stores have been quickly followed, and it is the re-juvenation of an old section of the town that has made it possible for the new business and fraternal building to come into existence.
