

HARTMAN SAFE IS CRACKED

Fifteen Thousand Dollars Taken from Strongbox in Chicago.

FOUR WATCHMAN ARE BOUND

Forty Thousand Dollars in Postal Money Orders Seized by Gang that Did Its Work Methodically.

CHICAGO, March 14.—Five armed robbers broke into the mail office branch of the Hartman Furniture company, at 2013 Wentworth avenue today, they open the office safe, seized its contents, three valuable securities, discarded $20,000 in money orders and escaped with $15,000 the weekly payroll of the company.

The quietest worked with machine like precision. A basement furnished them in- gress. One remaining quiet while the other four attacked and bound and gagged a watchman. A second employee of the furniture company was surprised on the second floor and was bound, gagged and led to the basement.

Proceeding through the building, the thieves waylaid a third watchman and carried him also to the basement. Then they attacked the safe in the office on the second floor. The door was blown off with nitroglycerin.

Failure of the watchmen to make their hourly reports on the burglar alarm service led a telegraph company to send one of its special watchmen to the building. The outside guard covered him with a revolver and escorted him within the building, where he was bound, gagged and left with the three other watchmen.

The burglars worked methodically and apparently left the valuable papers and money orders by design, taking only one currency, which would less likely lead to detection.

The bonds of one of the watchmen were loosely tied and after several hours he worked himself free and released his companions, after which the police were notified of the theft.

GRAND JURY HAS COMPLETED ITS SIX WEEKS WORK

However, that the condition with reference to this traffic is a serious one in this city. Evidence submitted to us by the juvenile court authorities indicates that since the Albert law went into effect delinquency cases brought to their attention are three or four times as great in point of numbers as they were under old conditions, this being by reason of the fact that the younger girls are being constantly thrown into touch with prostitutes who are now making their homes in the residence district instead of in a segregated district, as was formerly the case. We have heard indirectly that assignment houses exist in every portion of the city, or have existed, and this being true we feel that the welfare of growing boys and girls will be materially safeguarded by the re-establishment of a segregated district rather than by a continuation of the condition that exists and is bound to exist under the present law. If commercialized vice is to be stamped out we believe that it is the duty of this city and society generally to offer a remedy that will take care of these people who are mentally unfit for the most part to earn a living in a commercial way, and who are considered morally unfit to be taken into the homes and factories.

Glenwood Couple Who Have Just Celebrated Their Golden Wedding

Tuesday, March 10, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Lyon of Glenwood completed a half century of life together. Herman Robert Lyon was born in Shaftsbury, Vt., seventy-four years ago last October. After his father's death, in 1847, he moved with his mother to Crest, Ill. Here he met a little girl five years his junior, Ara Jane Karnes, a native of Rockland, Penn. As schoolmates a friendship grew and ripened into a warmer feeling. When the civil war was declared, Mr. Lyon enlisted in the Forty-second Illinois Infantry, and when he marched to the southland, Jennie Karnes was his promised bride. At Moscow, Tenn., Mr. Lyon contracted typhoid fever, and being unfit for service, was discharged, July 8, 1862. Later in the same year he went to Denver and Pikea Peak.

March 10, 1864, Mr. Lyon was married to Ara Jane Karnes, at Shelbyville, Ill., and came to Glenwood, where he had already prepared a home for his bride, at the corner of Third and Locust streets.

Here their first child was born, three other children and four grandchildren were born at their present home where they have lived forty-eight years. Of the six children, two sons and four daughters, born to Mr. and Mrs. Lyon, all are living, but the youngest, a daughter, who passed away, June 6, 1892. Mrs. Lyon is a greatly beloved woman, a model wife, mother and neighbor. Captain Lyon, who is familiarly known as a wide circle of friends in southwest Iowa. Having been in hardware, pumps and windmills, for almost a half century, he knows almost everybody, and is everybody's friend. He is a great hunter, having hunted in Iowa when one could go out on Mills' county's prairies, and in an afternoon, get enough to last during the season, until now, when he can carry fifty pounds of hunting dogs around in a marsh the entire day without tiring.

He is still actively in business, and today do as much business, requiring strength and endurance, as half the men of 25 years.

Captain Lyon and his wife are a couple that Glenwood and vicinity were proud to honor at their "at home." From out of town, in attendance, were Mrs. Jungblutt and Miss Esther Sweet, nieces, Tripoli, Ia.; Miss Anna Murphy, Omaha, H. C. LaChapelle, Kansas City; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. LaChapelle, Eldora, Ia.; Fred W. Lyon and son, Blair, Neb.; Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Lyon, eldest son, Holbrook, Neb.; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. LaChapelle, Ashland, Neb., and Miss Mollie Lyon, Kearney, Neb.

The waitresses at the reception were Dorothy Lyon, granddaughter and her five friends known as the "Jolly six," Anna Donelan, Grace Gunsolly, Neva Lamb, June Woods and Margaret Carey.

pector for Omaha, the jury finds that this official has been derelict in his duty. He has failed to collect on licenses, but at the same time, his powers have been extremely limited. It is recommended that in Omaha the city council pass a new ordinance that will permit of the inspector putting parties out of business if they do not comply with its provisions within twelve hours after notice is served.

City Jail. The city jail, the grand jurors found after inspection, "is a disgrace to a city of the size and prominence of Omaha. The building itself is a firetrap and dangerous to the people compelled to work in it, by reason of its dilapidated condition. It is absolutely incapable of repair, regardless of how much money would be spent on it."

Further criticizing conditions at the jail the jury reported: "The jail is not a suitable building wherein to house prisoners. The cells are most antiquated, and few in number; sanitation is deplorable. The kitchen is well-kept and the meals served are clean and ample. We recommend that the city dispose of this building immediately and build a new jail without delay; one that will have as an adjunct an emergency hospital, and will permit the chief of police to have his office there.

"We also recommend that the city build a workhouse. Cities having workhouses become unpopular with the criminal classes. To discourage these criminal classes from visiting Omaha we recommend the passage of a law permitting a fine of $500 in police court, which would be equivalent to a year in the workhouse, and permitting a fine to cover criminals arrested here on no particular charge, but who have records in various other places."

Criticism of the police department for releasing prisoners on bonds, the jury found, is wholly unwarranted, because of the condition of the jail.

County Hospital and Poor Farm. The county hospital and poor farm was found to be in better condition generally than the members of the grand jury had expected, and their report states that they found no specific grounds on which the inmates could complain against the present management. Considerable improvement on the building is recommended and a close system of checking all supplies delivered and used at the institution is strongly urged by the jury, with the superintendent of the institution to be held strictly responsible for the rigid enforcement of such system. The report states that it is now entirely a matter of conjecture as to whether the county gets all it pays for. A recommendation is also made that sufficient cows be purchased and feed raised for them so that the present expenditure of $300 monthly for milk can be done away with. Additional rooms for male insane patients are urged, with two padded cells, one for men and the other for women.

Police Department. A larger police force is recommended, although the condition of the police department is declared to be "excellent." Owing to the fact that seventy-five patrolmen are working eight-hour shifts to cover twenty-four square miles of territory and that only twenty-two men, counting sick leaves, are able to work on a shift, the non-enforcement of state and city laws, according to the report, "follows as a matter of course."

"Vice has been scattered into all quarters of the city, and it would be a physical impossibility in our estimation, for a police force of this size to properly hold in check the three items of gambling, liquor law violations and prostitution alone as they may exist, much less accomplish this end and keep the city in order on other laws at the same time."

Heads of departments of city government are commended for honest efforts. It is recommended that steps be taken to provide a fund to pay for the pursuit of criminals committing crimes here, as no such fund is now provided.

The Juvenile Court. Relative to the juvenile court, the grand jury favors its proper maintenance and congratulates the community on the work accomplished by Montgomery Bernstein, the probation officer. It finds that the work of the court is handicapped by reason of a lack of help and the inaccessibility of some of the laws by which it is governed. The traffic in injurious drugs, the jury believes, should be made a felony, carrying a penalty of not less than two years in the penitentiary, where a conviction is secured.

Hotels and Inns. After looking over the Omaha and South Omaha hotels, the jury finds that except in few instances the law with reference to fire escapes has not been complied with. Fire escapes generally are inaccessible to guests in case of fire. It is recommended that every hotel in the two cities and elsewhere in Douglas county be made to comply with the provisions of the law or go out of business.

License Inspector. Taking up the office of city license in-

With labor agencies, it is suggested that the display of signs or the occupancy of a room where people congregate to apply for employment be made sufficient grounds for demanding a license.

County Jail. That a gate should be installed near the elevator, at the foot of the back stairs leading to the county jail in the court house, to prevent smuggling of firearms, drugs and other contraband articles to prisoners is the only important recommendation made by the jury in regard to the county jail. It says the jail is as complete and well kept as there is in the country, with discipline and treatment of prisoners satisfactory in every respect.

Conditions in South Omaha. Conditions of the police department of South Omaha were found to be about the same as conditions obtaining in the Omaha department. An increase of $10,000 in the appropriation for the police department is recommended. The police department now receives $35,000 a year. It is also recommended that a barn be built near the South Omaha city jail for housing the patrol wagon, which is kept in a barn one and a half blocks away.

Change in Law. A law is recommended making the indeterminate issuance of checks by persons having no money on deposit a felony instead of a misdemeanor. The passage of an ordinance making the value of stolen property, such as plumbing, the amount it would cost to re-install it is urged. This would make the penalty more drastic and tend to discourage such thefts.
