

PREACH SUFFRAGE TO WOMEN

Delegates to Royal Neighbors' Convention Entertained at Breakfast.

KENNEDY COMPLIMENTS THEM

Speakers Advise Campaigners to Avoid Antagonizing Men and Use More Subtle Methods of Persuading Them.

Several hundred Royal Neighbors of America, John L. Kennedy and the baby daughter of one of the convention delegates assembled at the Henshaw hotel yesterday as the guests of the Omaha Suffrage associations.

The president of the convention introduced Mr. Kennedy as "a very brave man." He paid a pretty compliment in passing to the earnest women who began their suffrage activities at breakfast and kept it up until bedtime, and then went on to advise the women as to campaign methods.

"Don't antagonize the men," Mr. Kennedy said. "Conduct a good-natured campaign. Reason with the men, and if that don't work coax them. Above all, keep your temper; you've the best of the argument anyway. They say that a woman can't be logical, but I would matron a woman's intuition against man's logic any day in the week. They also tell us that the polls are not fit places for women to go to. If that is so, it is our duty to make them fit. Polling places should be dignified so that there is no danger of contamination from any source, if we would make fewer laws and enforce more of them we would have a better government."

Mrs. Munson emphasized the need of the "mothering" influence in humanizing government. "Men have fought and died for the right to vote, but it is only necessary for the women of this country to make a united demand for the ballot, and it will be secured," she said. "The shamrock is the emblem of Ireland. Shall we be accused of holding up the flag as our emblem?"

Preceding the speeches the delegates were entertained at breakfast and presented with daffodils, emblem of the suffrage movement, by the Omaha suffragists. The arrangements committee consisted of Mrs. E. S. Rood, chairman; Miss Jeanette McDonald, Mesdames Draper Smith, H. C. Burney, C. W. Hayes, L. N. Nelson, Z. T. Lindsey, M. B. Newton and Halleck Rose.

MEDICAL COLLEGE IS AFTER STRAY CANINES

"Wanted—Stray Dogs."

This sign, displayed in the windows of Creighton Medical college, is causing canines in the part of town no end of anguish. Small boys with an eye to making spending money have made life miserable for the pups lately, as the college offers 50 cents for large dogs and a quarter for small ones, to be used in laboratory work by the professors.

Rub Lumbago or Backache Away

Back hurt you? Can't straighten up without feeling sudden pains, sharp aches and twinges? Now listen! That's lumbago, sciatica, rheumatism, or maybe from a strain, and you'll get blessed relief the moment you rub your back with soothing and penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil." Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on and out comes the pain. It is perfectly harmless and doesn't burn the skin. Limber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle from any drug store, and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica. Because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints and has been recommended for 50 years.—Advertisement.

QUICKLY ENDS THE WORST BACKACHE

Makes Kidney Troubles, Bladder Disorders, and Rheumatic Pains Vanish

It is no longer a necessity for anyone to suffer with backaching, kidney trouble, have disagreeable bladder and urinary disorders to contend with, or be tortured with rheumatism, stiff joints, and its heart-wrenching pains, for the new discovery, Crozone, quickly and surely relieves all such troubles. Crozone is the most wonderful remedy yet devised for ridding the system of uric acid and driving out all such poisonous impurities which cause such troubles. It is entirely different from all other remedies. It is not like anything else ever used for the purpose. It acts on the principle of cleaning out the pores and removing the cause.

It soaks right in through the walls, membranes and linings, like water in a sponge, neutralizes, dissolves and makes the kidneys sift out and filter away, all the uric acid and poisons from the blood, and leaves the kidneys and urinary organs, clean, strong, healthy and well.

It matters not how long you have suffered, how old you are, or what you have used, the very principle of Crozone is such, that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. There is nothing else on earth like it. It starts to work the minute you take it and relieves you the first time you use it.

Mrs. Briggs Tells How She Happened to Slap Blackburn

Mrs. Susie Briggs, 202 Wirt street, who says that she is the sole support of her three children, writes her version of the affair at the court house Wednesday morning, when she slapped Attorney T. W. Blackburn, who was conducting a sale which would take from her her property in the north part of the city and on which she claimed homestead rights. Following is her letter to The Bee:

"I wish to make a statement with reference to the article in your paper concerning Mr. Blackburn and myself. When I entered the court house Mr. Blackburn was standing in the lobby. I said nothing to him, I came there to attend a referee's sale. I was tending strictly to my own business. I had been standing there for quite a while, during which time Mr. Blackburn engaged in conversation with several men. I heard him mention my name several times in a manner which I considered unfair. After I had been standing there about fifteen or twenty minutes Blackburn came toward me, saying, 'Good morning.' He advanced. I then stated, 'I wonder just as soon speak to a yellow dog as to you.' He said, 'That's all right, Mrs. Briggs,' and kept coming toward me. I then told him to stay back; that I wanted nothing to do with him; he, however, kept on talking and it was then that I struck him. He spoke to the referee and said: 'If she is going to cause trouble we will see about it.' I then told him if I had him in the streets I would horsewhip him. I told Mr. Blackburn that I had seen the court, who told me to be present at the sale and to state to the bidder at the time of the sale that I had my homestead rights to said property. Nothing further was said."

Swap Your Wax Into Business.

Men have started in business as a result of having made a few good swaps. Announcement will soon be made in The Bee of a place where swappers can meet and dicker.

Suffrage Play to Be Given at the Omaha University Today

With the last dress rehearsal all is in readiness for the suffrage play, "How the Vote Was Won," to be given by the University of Omaha students this evening, at the school gymnasium. A great deal of interest has been taken in the play, not only by the student body, but by many prominent suffrage workers of the city. If the play proves to be as great a success as is expected it will be given in several surrounding towns for the benefit of the suffrage cause.

Newly-Weds Appeal to Postmaster for Relatives' Address

A business college courtship between Henry Travis of Fullerton, Neb., and Miss Clara Nealy of St. Paul, Neb., ended with their marriage a few weeks ago. After a honeymoon trip to Denver they came to Omaha to visit the young farmer's relatives. Mrs. M. B. Cameron and Mrs. Leona Killham, but Travis lost their addresses and appealed to Postmaster John C. Wharton to help him find them.

"Gladly, gladly," quoth the affable postmaster, signing up his visitors as newly weds. "We are always happy to furnish relatives to all who apply." And straightway he looked up the addresses of the Omaha relations. Mrs. Cameron was found to be in Texas with her husband, who is vice president of the Peters Trust company. However, Mrs. Killham was located at her apartment, 704 North Sixteenth street, where Mr. and Mrs. Travis are now visiting for a few days before returning to his farm near Fullerton to live. Mrs. Killham is his cousin.

Rush Order for Big Photos is Filled in Record Time

A record for speedy photograph finishing was made by The Bee photograph department Wednesday, to fill the order of Manager Tom Quinlan of the Hayden Brothers' store, for 300 pictures of the Royal Neighbors state convention. The photograph was taken shortly after noon, following the concert given at Hayden Brothers' auditorium. When Manager Quinlan saw the picture in the afternoon he admitted so much that he decided to give the visitors at his store a substantial souvenir of the occasion, and at once ordered 300 of these big pictures, each one two and a half feet long, from The Bee's photograph department. At 4 o'clock the experts in The Bee's photograph department started on the big order. The last of the 300 big pictures was finished a few minutes before 11 o'clock. This is believed to be a record for making big prints from a single negative. At 5 o'clock, half an hour before the time for opening the store yesterday the photographs were delivered at Hayden Brothers, where a line of members of the Royal Neighbors was already waiting for the doors to open, to get the elegant souvenirs.

Novelty Company Has Big Sale Which Will Start Today

The Novelty company will inaugurate a special sale this morning, which, according to the executives of the establishment, promises to be a record-breaker for business and for bargains. On page 4 of this paper, space display advertisements announce the sale and the bargains which will be presented to the public of Omaha this morning. The sale will continue just as long as the stock lasts. According to the Novelty company the expectation is that the choicest articles will be disposed of by Saturday night at the latest, although the sale may continue through a few days next week.

Special Arrangements Have Been Made to Plan the Store so that the Bargains May be Offered in the Most Profitable Manner.

Tables have been installed and the sales will be made from them, so that the public will be able to examine minutely every article before purchase. The management of the store extends an invitation to all to come to the store to inspect the goods, although there be no purpose of purchase. The advertisement contains full particulars of the sale. It will be found on the third page.

Eastern Widow by Letter Tells of Her Desire to Marry

Omaha has evidently gained a wide reputation as a matrimonial field for eligible spinsters and widows. Seeing an eligible spinster and widow, which told of a woman who advertised here for work and a home and was swamped with fifteen proposals of marriage, Mrs. Ida Hancock of Indianapolis has written to Postmaster John C. Wharton, asking that he find her a husband from among the many men here who want to marry. Explaining that men must be plentiful in Omaha, when one woman is sent fifteen proposals, although she was only seeking work and not a husband, Mrs. Hancock says she wants a nice farmer, "not rough for a drinker, who would appreciate a good wife, not a slave."

Need Attention in February and March or Face Will Stay Covered.

Now is the time to take special care of the complexion if you wish to look well the rest of the year. The February and March winds have a strong tendency to bring out freckles that may stay all summer unless removed. Now is the time to use ointment—double strength. This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful that it is sold by Beaton Drug Co. under guarantee to refund the money if it fails. Get an ounce of ointment—double strength, and even a few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the smaller freckles even vanishing entirely.—Advertisement.

SNOW STOPS TRAINING SQUAD

Condition of Grounds May Prevent Play Scheduled Saturday.

PA ROURKE IN HARNESS SOON

Omaha Base Ball Players Show Little Regret at the First Forced Vacation of the Spring Training Squad.

Snow, that beautiful white blanket of which poets sing continually, put an awful crimp in Pa Rourke's training season for the ball yard in dormant under three inches of covering which is not in any hurry to depart into the atmosphere, regardless of the smiling inducements offered by the bright sun. As a result, the athletes were informed that there would be nothing doing in the morning, but that it would be advisable to report in the afternoon to run around the park a bit, just so that the muscles would not go on strike because of the short vacation. It is probable that the Saturday game, which was scheduled between the Rourkes and the Storz Triumph team, will be postponed, unless it is exceptionally warm today and the snow disappears the same will be cancelled. It is thought that with favorable weather the Sunday battle may be played, as there will be time to put the infield in fair shape if the snow melts by Saturday.

Brenner Uses Skis.

At a late hour of night Bert Brenner poked his upper extremity out of the hotel window and noticed that the snow was still occupying the headline position on the hill. Immediately Bert became enamored with an inspiration and decided that it would be perfectly fitting and proper to hold a ski tournament at the park. This would keep the athletes in excellent condition and would present him with an opportunity to snatch a few laurels from his colleagues, as he is familiar with the art after his winter in northern Minnesota. When the twirler awoke yesterday his dreams were ruthlessly shattered, for the sun was shining and when he broached the subject he was met with a storm of ridicule. Therefore Bert has rescinded his telegram and the ski tourney is off.

Blitzen Bell is tickled with the snow, as is Bill Schipke, although it must be admitted the reason are quite foreign. Schipke figures no playing field, no work, Bell, however, had not seen any snow this winter, as he was confined in Gainsville, Fla. Blitzen has had a desire to see some snow before the winter was over because the newspaper in Gainsville persisted in publishing poems about snow all winter, thus creating a desire for winter within the heart of the Michigan man. Shestak is Sore.

George Shestak is suffering from a pair of very stiff and very sore shoulders. Gending, wise old owl that he is, put George to work warming up a couple of the pitchers. Said pitchers being southpaw. It can easily be seen why it is that Shestak is indisposed at the present time. If one heave came within reach of the catcher, Shestak says he'll buy the drinks for the crowd. First over his head, then to one side and then on the ground is the way the pill came from the salary wings of the portlanders. The next time any southpaw warm up Shestak will not be among those present.

Schipke is Poetic. Bill Schipke has decided to contribute a poem each and every day for the edification of the athletes. He dares it off on the spur of the moment, just like a regular Shakespeare and then proudly exhibits it to the envious athletes. Bill cut loose with this when seeing the snow: It's pretty soft for us boys, it's pretty soft for us, For when the days are just like this, at us Pa cannot cuss; We love the little snow which falls so gently on the ground, Because we do not have to work or run the park around.

Methodist Hospital Secretary is Dead

Rev. John I. McLaughlin, for more than thirteen years corresponding secretary at the Methodist hospital, died yesterday afternoon at the age of 79 years. Rev. J. I. McLaughlin came to Omaha in 1900 and was married that year to Mrs. Allie Primmer McLaughlin, who has been superintendent at the hospital since it was established in 1881. They have no children, but funeral arrangements will not be made until friends in the south are notified and arrive here.
