SOME PLANS FOR FUTURE WORK

ties Diversify School Routine.

—Notes from Near and Far.

The German department of the Chadron State Normal school has received a large group of German, which contains, in addition to geographical points, the location of places of historical interest, such as battlefields, famous ruins of old castles and other points of importance.

The pictures received from the German-American alliance have been of great interest, not alone to those who are pursuing the study of German, but also to outsiders. These pictures help to give one a good impression of the beautiful scenery in Germany, especially in Berlin.

The class of 1914 is planning to give a class day program this year.

The boys of the manual training department of the model school completed the work begun previously, staining, in new movements for dumb bells was Backward Races," each member of the

The Hastings delegation at the state college association has already listed ten men to represent the college at the Estes park summer conference and the fellows are now at work in an endeavor to raise that number. Plans are under serious consideration, and results will be made known in the near future, in respect to enlarging the Estes park fund of the association, which is used to make loans to students in need of money for expenses to the conference. The fact that Hastings college represents a student body of men and women, 99 per cent of whom are professed Christians and that nearly every man attends at least one conference at Estes park before graduathigher and better religious work.
