Iowa Alumni Begin Fight to Remove Director Kellogg

IOWA CITY, Ia., March 26.—(Special.)—A big athletic war broke at the University of Iowa today, following the announcement that a petition asking for the removal of Athletics Director N. A. Kellogg is being circulated throughout the state by influential alumni of the university. Involved in the trouble, besides the manager, is the athletic board here, including Prof. A. G. Smith, chairman of the Big Nine conference. The petition asks for Kellogg's removal on various grounds, among which are charges of incompetency in caring for athletic teams in the matters of equipment and of time management of expenses; failure to provide for the welfare of all of the students and of turning prospective students to his own alma mater, Michigan, rather than to Iowa. The petition also suggests that Corey L. Eby, an Iowa alumnus and assistant football coach for the last six years, be named as Kellogg's successor. Prof. Smith and his faculty associates on the athletic board are standing squarely behind Kellogg in the matter, and will fight his case before the State Board of Education. It is felt that the attack is directed in some measure at Prof. Smith and his colleagues, as the alumni who are circulating the petition are known to be dissatisfied with various items put into execution by the board. The matter was discussed at a meeting of the board last night, but no public announcement of the decision reached was made.

Commits Suicide on Wife's Grave

IDA GROVE, Ia., March 26.—(Special.)—Harm Leonard, aged 34, a painter and paper hanger, at Holstein, was found dead on his wife's grave at that place. The wife died some four weeks ago and the young husband was heart-broken over her loss. Two children are left orphans by the death of the mother and the suicide of the father. Leonard ended his life by taking strychnine, and the body was found when Dr. T. J. Houlihan of this city, county coroner, decided no inquest was necessary.

ORPHAN GIRL LOCATES LONG LOST BROTHERS

IDA GROVE, Ia., March 26.—(Special.)—Harriet Franker, a senior in the high school, an orphan, who was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. C. A. L. Jensen of this city, has been separated from her brothers and sisters since she was a child of 7. Recently, when she was a contestant and attended the district oratorical contest at Spencer, she asked the postmaster if he had ever heard of anybody bearing the name of Franker, and through him she located two brothers, who are farmers near Royal, Ia. Miss Franker is one of a family of twelve children whose parents lived in Des Moines. Both parents died and the children were taken into an orphan's home. From whence they were adopted into various families throughout the country. For years Miss Franker has tried to locate her brothers and sisters, and she has just now succeeded.

TWO MEN WHO ROBBED POSTOFFICE CAPTURED

IOWA FALLS, March 26.—(Special.)—The three men who robbed the postoffice here were found yesterday afternoon hiding in the hay in the barn on Sunnyside, south of this city. A farm hand discovered them and immediately telephoned the police in this city. Before the latter arrived, however, the thieves had made their escape and were seen going down the railroad tracks. The police followed and were fired upon. It was not long, however, until the ones pursued were quite filled with buckshot that two of them gave up. The third escaped and has not as yet been located. The two captured were the ones in possession of the booty, however, and all was returned to the postoffice officials in this city. The men were taken to the Hardin county jail. It is said that one of the men has been seen in the city more than once in winter, but the other was not recognized.

ARGENTINE BEEF IS FATTENED ON ALFALFA

They told him the beef came through from Argentine in fifty days and was in perfect condition. He says it looked like American cornfed beef, but they told him it was alfalfa fed. It sells in Chicago for 12 cents a pound, whereas American beef of the same quality brings 14 cents.

REBEL DEFEAT IS RUMORED

Mexico City Dispatches Report Repulse of Villa.

WIRE TO JUAREZ ARE SILENT Atmosphere of Peasantlike Anxiety Envelops Constitutionalists—Governor Hants Telegraph Office.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—This message sent from Mexico City last night was received at the embassy here today: "Rebels once more routed and repulsed at Gomez Palacio with heavy losses, while trying to approach Torreon." The State department had only a report from El Paso saying that up to yesterday afternoon results were "still undetermined." Other dispatches reported there was absolutely no foundation for stories that danger threatened five Americans in the Tlaxuahuillo district of Coahuila. Consular representatives report all foreigners within territory under constitutionalist control being protected. Consul Garrett at Nuevo Laredo, just over the Rio Grande, reported today that an American boy in Laredo, Tex., was wounded in the cheek by a shot fired from the Mexican side.

Great Anxiety in Juarez. JUAREZ, March 26.—An atmosphere of peasantlike anxiety enveloped constitutionalist sympathizers here early today over the possible fate of General Francisco Villa and his 12,000 rebel soldiers, who, at last reports, were engaged in desperate fighting at Gomez Palacio, a suburb of Torreon. Not for two days has an authoritative word come from the front and press dispatches, which so far have been more reliable than the so-called official dispatches, have been lacking. Not even a courier has penetrated the desert between Torreon and Chihuahua, and no communication by wire of any nature has been received for forty-eight hours.

News dispatches from Mexico City received here last night declaring that the Huerta government war department had issued a bulletin to the effect that Villa was in full retreat, and not believed generally, but there is no doubt that his contents have added to the worry of the rebel officers here. Manual Chao, military governor of Chihuahua, haunts the military telegraph operator day and night in hope of even a fragmentary message from General Villa telling of the fortunes of war. The fact that all communication ceased so soon after the attack on Gomez Palacio, and that it had been coming freely during Villa's triumphant march north, gave rise to misgivings in the hearts of constitutionalist sympathizers as much, if not more, than any other agency.

Claim Federal Victory. MEXICO CITY, March 26.—The war department makes the claim that the rebels under General Villa were routed at Torreon with great slaughter early today. Eight hundred men under General Joaquín Masas and General Javier de Moura, is announced, arrived opportunely from Saltillo in time to add greatly to the federal victory. The rebels are said to be retreating northward, with the federalists pounding at their rear. It is admitted that General Villa's men entered Lerdo, a suburb of Torreon, but it is explained that this was a ruse on the part of General Velasco to ambush them. As soon as they were well into that territory, the federal artillery shelled them, the cavalry charging as the rebels started to retreat. Generals Masas and De Moura are reported to have made the distance between Hipolito and Torreon in fifty automobiles which they were carrying, the railroad having been cut at Hipolito. The rebel losses in dead and wounded are reported to be 2,000.

Federals Will Take Offensive. EL PASO, Tex., March 26.—That the rebels have been repulsed every time they have taken the offensive at Gomez Palacio was the assertion made here today by Miguel Diebold, inspector of Mexican consulars. Senor Diebold exhibited messages from Mexico City as his authority for the statement. One message declared that the rebels have not even approached Torreon proper, but have had their hands full at Gomez Palacio, three miles distant. He asserted that the federals are about to take the offensive, to which end a flanking movement is being started.

Quit Meat When Kidneys Bother

Take a glass of Salts if you Back hurts or Bladder troubles you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver troubles, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys. The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive or attended by a sensation of stinging, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urines so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active, and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Advertisement.

Mr. Gibson was president of a company which publishes a trade paper devoted to the lumber business.

CRUCIAL TEST OF POWER

President's Stand on Tolls Question Rouses Public Interest.

NEBRASKANS' VIEW ON SUBJECT At Least One of Nebraska Democrats Expected to Vote Against Head of the Party in Vital Tropic Now Up.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, March 26.—(Special Telegram.)—What is regarded as the most crucial test of the power of the president of the United States to reverse a position which his party and himself took before election in 1912 came up today in the house of representatives. There have been only three or four occasions since Woodrow Wilson became president that the attendance upon the house was larger than today, because of the very great interest aroused over a bill introduced by Congressman Sims of Tennessee repealing the free tolls section of the Panama canal act extended to the coastwise shipping of the United States through the big ditch. Hundreds of people were unable to gain admission to the public galleries in anticipation of the debate, not only on a report of a rule making special the Sims repeal bill coming from the committee on rules, but in anticipation of heart-to-heart talks over the president's changed attitude regarding the exemption of coastwise shipping from tolls through the canal.

Republicans Will Oppose. Naturally, interest so far as Nebraska is concerned centers in the position to be taken by its representatives in the lower house. It is believed, though not on authority, that the Nebraska republicans will vote against the president's plea for a reversal of form and it is expected that at least one of the three democrats will also vote against the titular head of the party in power, because he has not been informed as to any crisis in the diplomatic affairs of the country that will warrant a change in his vote when the Panama canal act was on final passage in 1912.

In a talk today with one of the leaders of the house who is committed to the president's policy of reversing his party because of foreign complications which have arisen, demanding the most careful consideration, he said: "The free tolls provisions in the Panama canal act will be repealed in my judgment, but with a very much less majority than the enthusiastic friends of the president expect. My guess would be that the majority for the Sims repeal bill will be around fifty; and there is just a possibility that the whole thing may be abandoned before a final vote is taken. It is a two-edged sword, and is going to cut both ways. Frankly speaking, its another case of you'll be damned if you do and damned if you don't. "But what are we to do in the meantime? So far as I am concerned I am going to follow the president."

Wilson Talks with Lobeck. Congressman Lobeck called on the president this morning, and in the course of conversation the president expressed a wish that he might have a longer talk with the representative from the Second district in particular reference to the Scandinavians, the president stating in the conversation that he had with Mr. Lobeck that he would like to know more about the Scandinavians as a race than he knows at present. Mr. Lobeck stated that he would be only too glad to inform the president about a race which was intensely loyal to the country of their adoption and one which he would find worthy of a wider study.

Crawford Called Mottled. The defeat of Senator Coe Crawford, who is finishing his first term in the upper body of congress, at the South Dakota primaries is the subject of much comment hereabouts. The Washington Times says that Mr. Crawford "has been a progressive republican of the somewhat mottled type. He might be called a half-and-half insurgent and regular. It admits in the majority of cases Senator Crawford has affiliated with the progressive faction of republicans. As for Congressman Burke, the same organ of the progressive party, edited by Mr. Munsey, classifies Congressman Burke as a "stand-patter of the purest ray." Whatever designation may be given Mr. Burke one thing is certain, his friends here—and they are many—are greatly elated over his nomination, and they are hopeful that he will be elected to the senate in November next.
