Farewell Message Saves Woman's Life

Hazel Reed, a guest at the Flomar hotel, Seventeenth and Capitol avenue, tried to take her own life yesterday by administering chloroform. The police came while the woman was still conscious.

CONSIDERS HEATING PRICE TO CITY HALL IS VERY LOW

"I am surprised at the price at which The Bee Building company proposes to furnish heat for the city hall," said Frank B. Johnson, president of the Omaha Printing company. "I consider $2.50 a year for such service very low for the city. As a matter of fact, it is a little less than we have contracted to pay the Woodmen of the World people for heating our new building at Thirtieth and Farnam, and our building is nowhere near as large as the city hall. We have 44 by 132 feet and six stories. The city hall is 132 by 132 and six stories. Yet The Bee Building company proposes to heat that for a little less than we will pay for our heat, and I thought and yet think that we have a very fair contract. Then, too, the city hall will require more constant service than our building, day and night."

DENVER IS TO HAVE A NEW PASSENGER DEPOT

President Mohler of the Union Pacific is back from Chicago, where he went to attend the meeting of representatives of roads interested in the new depot proposed for Denver. At the meeting it was decided that the depot will be built and that work of construction will begin this season.
Mohler is unable to estimate the cost of Denver's new passenger station, but asserts that enough money will be appropriated to make the structure large enough for many years to come and that it will be modern in every respect. While the depot is referred to as a new one, it really will be an addition to the old one. The addition will be extended to the west and the old building will be overhauled and the style of architecture made to conform to that of the new part of the structure.

SALESMAN IN MAGIC CITY DOES NOT KNOW WHAT BOARD WILL DO.

Uncertainty makes him fear many Democrats inclined to make bid for place as Police Judge.
Sokolow Sent to Jail to Sober Up.

Things are shaping up with a vengeance for the poor salesman of South Omaha, who is beset with many worries these days. Already, the fifty applicants for saloon licenses, said to be the number to which the saloons are to be limited, have made applications for new licenses. Bonds were refused by the bonding companies of Omaha and now saloonkeepers are making frantic efforts to get a kind of a bond at any cost. It is probable the board will be called upon to turn down many licenses because of the unfavorable character of some of the proposed bonds. It is proposed by the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners to limit the number of saloons to less than fifty and to raise the license from $1,000 to $2,000. Many of the saloonmen are said to favor the change if it means the abolition of the bootlegging now alleged to be running free and easy in South Omaha.

Many would be judge. Politics is warming up in South Omaha insofar as the police judge is concerned. Already there are half a dozen openly avowed candidates for the place now held by Judge James Callanan. Most of the candidates announced are of the democratic persuasion and therefore there is considerable glee over the situation among the republicans, who as yet have not announced their choice. Another whisper that has caused some minor excitement is the rumor that several changes are to be made in the personnel of the police force. It has been stated for some time that a majority of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners were not satisfied with some of the appointments made in the earlier part of the year. It is said the proposed changes may reach up a considerable way. The board is understood to have expressed a wish to impress some of the rules of police discipline on the department, including all of the officers and men.

Sokolow to Jail. John Sokolow, who is alleged to have a penchant for turning the tables and biting the police, was sentenced to sixty days in jail yesterday by Police Judge James Callanan. Sokolow some weeks ago took a piece of the left leg of Detective Jack Caughan. A few nights ago he was found in a condition bordering on madness and removed to the county jail. Judge Callanan is inclined to think that the trouble is due to too much liquor of the red, raw brand.

Sage Tea Darkens Hair to Any Shade

Don't stay gray! Here's a simple recipe that anybody can apply with a hair brush.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cents bottle of "Wrest's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get this famous old recipe, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair, and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and abundant.—Advertisement.
