Corn Closes with a Surprise to Many

NEWS BRINGS FORTH BUYERS Speculators, Feeling that Botton Has Been Reached, Rush the Pit with Orders, Creating

Quite a Turmoll.

It was the gossip after the close that the action of the corn market resterday was a surprise to all, and that the local traders had been given a sharp rebuff by was a surprise to all, and that the local traders had been given a sharp rebuff by the country speculators, whose buying started the advance and forced the early saltered the advance and forced the early sellers into covering. While the buying by Lamson brothers was undoubtedly large, it was not as heavy as many in the trade were inclined to believe, and it was the general belief that had it not been for the continued buying on scale orders by commission houses throughout the day, which absorbed the offerings as values declined and left the pit element in a badly oversoid condition, the purchases would not have produced the flurry that ensued. There is good authority for the statement that the buying was based on the fact that values had almost a Sc break from the recent high point and the advice that prices looked to be about low enough for the time being, was followed by a flood of buying orders that exceeded expectations, which caught the crowd short, and the latter had to cover, in many cases at severe losses. The view was expressed by some of the best posted traders that the country speculator is ruining the corn market, buying on the bings, while the local element have been doing the reverse.

sharp breaks and taking profits on the buiges, while the local element have been doing the reverse.

Cash corn was unchanged to be higher. Wheat is looked upon as a two sided proposition, and until more interest is shown on the part of trade, values would hold within comparatively narrow limits. Should heavy rains naterialize over the southwest the bears are looking for a decline, believing that the dry weather complaints are about the only feature at the moment that favors the buils, while the latter anticipate that with foreign news becoming more in their favor, and prospects for a crop scare near at hand, purchases should be made on every break.

Priers on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, March 28.—Good rains throughout the west, especially in Kansas sent wheat today down in price. The market, although steady at the close, was be to be under hist night. Corn finished 1-lec off to be up, oats unchanged to a shade lower and provisions with a gain of be to 12be.

Selling pressure on wheat developed chiefly in the new crop months. The weather map showed that Nebraska and Oklahoma as well as castern and ocutral Kansas had been favored with timely moisture. In this connection it was said on high authority that only two or three more bountiful rains after April 13 would be needed to make certain the largest winter crop ever known.

Outlook for a decrease in the largest winter crop ever known.

Outlook for a decrease in the market had suffered a moderate sas. Notice was also taken of the fact that western Kansas continued to remain dry and that world shipments next week promised to be light, falling off a round million bushels.

Short sellers of corn proved timid today Prices on Board of Trade.

nahels. Short seljers of corn proyed timid today

Short sellers of corn proved timid today in view of the unexpected upward whirl encountered in the previous session. Wet weather in the harvest district of Argentine was against the bears early, but subsequent reports told of the saves having cleared. Cash demand was disappointing to holders both here and at the Missouri river. There were offers to deliver Argentine corn in Chicago at 71%c, during the first half of April, Trade in onas consisted wholly of changing from May to the more deferred futures.

Provisions ascended with hogs. Packers took to the buying side, supposedly covering recent free sales short of the market.

been slow sellers throughout the week and they are 15@55c lower than last week's close.

ART gs. 80; common to fair grades, $4.266.60; good to choice stockers and feeders, $7.756 $.25; fair to good stockers and feeders, $7.2567.75; common to fair stockers and feeders, $7.2567.75; stock calves, $5.0078.00; veal calves, $1.5069.50; buils, stage, etc., $5.78 $7.70.

HOGS—Supplies were light, even for $5.85 $1.008.00; buils, stage, etc., $5.78 $1.000.

HOGS—Supplies were light, even for $5.85 $1.000.

Saturday, but both the shipping and packing demands were rather slack, and while the general market was a little stronger it can not be quoted as more than a shade higher than Friday's average. Shippers and one or two of the packers bought light and light mixed hogs at prices that were strong to $6.85 $1.000.

Sheep the packers and one or two of the packers bought light and light mixed hogs at prices that were strong to $6.85 $1.200.

In the being over steady, while in no instance could the weightier offerings be quoted as better than strong. As a result of this unevenness in values most of the lights were cleaned up in good season, the trashy grades being the only kinds that were hard to move, but trading in the heavier weights was slow, and it was late before a clearance was finally made. The close was probably the weak-set time. Most of the hogs on sale at the early prices.

For the week values are generally 150 towards the last, the closing sales were in no case better than steady with yesterday and were, if anything weak at the early prices.

For the week values are generally 150 lower. Lights show the smaller decline, the general run of prices not being over look to be as much as 15620c below the cents of that week. Extremely light remains of the first two days of the weak-set in the feeders.

logilio below last Saturday's figures, while heavies and the weightier butchers look to be as much as 15,20c below the cost of last week. Extremely light requested on the first two days of the week allowed prices to make a small advance, but starting with Wednesday the runs became very liberal, and since that time the trend of the market has been sharply lower, prices showing a decline of close to a dime on each of the three succeeding days. Very light receipts at all points today permitted values to take a slight upturn, but as was stated before the week's trade still shows a net decline of fully lic, and today's top is a flat 20c lower than the high price last Saturday. During the week values reached the high time of the year, a top of $8.75 being paid on Tuesday. The average on that day was a shade better than $5.52.

Heccipts amounted to about fifty-five cars or $.005 head, making the otal for the week $6.858 head. This is nearly 5.000 smaller than last week, and more than $,000 short of the corresponding week last year. Light supplies on the last two days have carried the year's decrease back up to 16,50c head.

8HEEP—There was nothing further to report this morning, as no freen receipts showed up.

The værk's supply has been fairly large, amounting to $6.772 head, against $6,304 last week, $3,222 two weeks agd and $1,508 a year ago.

amounting to 56,772 head, against 56,304 last week, 53,222 two weeks ago and 21,698 a year ago.

Lambs opened slow and steady to 106916d lower on a fairly large run on the first day of the week. Tuesday followed with an active demand and prices gained practically all of Monday's loss. Further strength was in evidence on Wednesday, with values mostly a dime higher, the packers paying as much at 37.10 for some Mexican yearlings fed in Nebraska and $5.19 for a bunch of Mexican ewes, which prices are the record for the year to date. On Thursday and Friday lambs moved up 106916s each day and in the end the week closed with a healthy undertone. Friday amarket saw lambs reach $1.0, which was paid for three loads of Mexicans, being the highest point touched here since $5.35 was paid last January. The continual working up of prices since Tuesday makes an advance of fully 2569 100 on the general run of lambs for the week.

This market received practically the first clipped stock of the season this week. Some heavy clipped lambs sold on Monday at $6.35, others going at $5.40. A strictly good bunch of clipped lambs would have sold no doubt right around $6.7656.85 at or near the close of the week, but none were available. A heavier percentage of shorn stock is looked for from now on. Quite a number of lambs have been taken out to the country during the last forty days to be shorn and finished.

As for some time back of the cattle coming to market have consisted of common to pretty good beef steers and such grades are 10020c lower than the close of last week, having been alow sellers throughout.

Good light heifers have been in good demand and they are steady with a week ago and in spots possibly stronger. Light cows on the heifer order are about steady with last week's close, but heavy cows are weak to 10c lower. Heavy buils have been extremely hard to sell and they are safely 50c or more lower than two weeks ago. Light buils have not shown so much decline.

Stockers and feeders of all kinds have been alow sellers throughout the week and they are 15003c lower than last week's close.

Outstions on cattle: Good to choice week, fair to good, $5.7500 (2.55) ewes, good to choice, $5.7500 (2.55) ewes, fair to good, $5.7500 (2.5
