May Queen to Be Chosen by Students of Omaha University.

RIVALRY BETWEEN THE CLASSES of Elaborate Feativities Next Month Appointed-Co-Eds Ald Low Cost Show.

Gala day, the greatest social event of the school year, will be held by the students of the University of Omaha May 15. As has been the custom since the beginning of the school, a May queen will be chosen by ballot and to that popular young woman the entire school pays nomage while the May festivity is on. In addition to crowning the queen there s a continual round of festivities. Each class and society of the school puts some kind of act on and the rivalry between them for securing first honors has usually resulted in some first-class produc tions. Plans have nearly been completed for the event. Following are the committees having charge of the festival: Lighting, Glen Reeves, scenery, Henry Seltcer, Howard Dunham, Annie Barnes and Andrew Dow; property, Clinton Hal-Carney: practice, Helen Giwitz: May proval. queen voting. Viola Pierce, Grace Waters, Pauline Westerfield and Zela Elmer; music, Bertie Hoag, Della Nelsen and Edwin Relis; May pole, Dorothy Mac-Murray, Olga Anderson, Gladys Talmadge and Joseph Weinberg; decorations, Dorothy Scott, Ethel Rathkey, Helen Maxwell, John Selby and Lottle Underhill; printing, Floyd Woosley and George McLafferty; program, Samuel Slotky; seats, Charles Frandsen and Melvin Beacons: tickets, Effic Cleiand, Victor Jorgensen, Mable Nelsen and Stanley High. Besides the subcommittees chosen a general executive committee of five elected from the various classes at school will supervise the work.

News Notes of University. "How the Vote Was Won," a playette with a cast of University of Omaha students, has recently been in great demand by numerous church organizations. Thursday evening the play was presented at the Council Bluffs Presbyterian church, Many of the co-eds have contributed part of their time at the Low-Cost-of-Living show. In several of the booths candy is being sold, the profits to be given to charity. Miss Mable Nelsen is in charge of securing recruits for the work. Mrs. C. Shafer, head resident of the

Mrs. C. Shafer, head resident of the Omaha Social Settlement work, is encouraging the students to form a settlement club. In a recent lecture she urged the students to co-operate with the association this summer and to give part of their time for carrying on the work.

Miss Edna Sweely, former head of the French department, was married to Mr. Steele Wednesday evening. Many of the faculty members were present. Dr. Jenkins, president of the University of Omaha, performed the ceremony.

The domestic science department has hit upon a noved way to raise money for several pieces of new equipment. Meals are served to the students several times a week. The idea is proving popular and will probably be continued each day instead of twice a week. Many of the students are writing essays to be submitted to the Woman's Christian Temperance association May 20. A prize of $25 is offered for first place, while one for $15 will be given to the student taking second. A scholarship will be given by Dr. Spalding to some needly student as one of the prizes. Last year Miss Nell Ryan won the first place and later on won the state prize with her easeay.

The Utopian scronity postponed their entertainment for Saturday evening, as the large amount of work in setting ready for Gala day and several other school functions cut in too much on their program. The entertainment will be program. The entertaining

MERCHANTS WOULD STOP SENDING GOODS ON APPROVAL

A systematic campaign has been in augurated in Omaha to do away with the practice of sending out large quantities of goods on approval, to persons who ent stores.

The cost of collection and delivery of the packages, together with the damage to the goods from handling, has been an expense which merchants have before not been able to reduce.

There are a few women in Omaha-only a few, it is said who when they are sey, Emerson Goodrich, Jean Berger and ready to purchase shirt waists will go Ruth Sundland, dance, Margaret Lewis, to several stores and ask that several Marilla Case, Helen Johnston and Mae | garments be sent to their homes on ap-

The result is that a small percent of the garments are sold, the store pays the cost of delivery and collection of the merchandise and bears the loss, which costs more than would an actual sale. The woman really profits nothing by the transaction, but the merchant suf-

"One of the chief objects of the retailers' association is to reduce the cost of doing business, and the ultimate cost of goods to the consumer," said Secretary J. W. Metcalfe. "We now have a plan to report these people who abuse the generosity of merchants, so that all members of the association may be warned of

"It is really nothing but a campaign to educate the public or rather the few women who impose on the merchants. and we believe that we will be able to do it and eliminate this trade abuse without hurting their feelings, or making them enemies. We have found that when people are informed of the evil they are fairly willing to meet us half way and againt in correcting 4t."
