(Continued from Page One.) his roll, or something like that." Leading Him On. Wolfe says he made this statement after he found out who the man was and that he was merely "leading him on." Richard Grace and F. W. Pitt protested at first that they had no knowledge of Hansen further than what Wolfe and the mayor had published, but Pitt admitted later he "would always remember him" for the time when he wanted to "buy the drinks." "Neither myself nor Grace have anything to say," Pitt explained. "Have we, Grace? We don't know the fellow, do we?" Never met him but once myself, and that was here, in the building inspector's office.

More Back of It. Grace said: "I don't know the racial. I don't know anything about this and would not make any statement. But let me tell you that there is more back of this than has been told and it will probably come out." There he stopped and refused to speak further, persisting he knew nothing of the affair. After the council meeting the mayor related the "fictitious" side of the plot to his colleagues, who were crowding around to see the picture of the "great detective." The mayor told how Hansen, flourishing his roll in front of city commissioners, threw silver on several bars and bought drinks and cigars for the crowd. When the commissioners found out who Hansen was they would introduce their friends to him, with a wink, saying on the side "have a drink with him." Mayor Takes a Picture. After the mayor had secured enough evidence to make out a case against Hansen and was about ready to swear out a warrant for his arrest, he decided to get a picture of the great "Diamond Dick," so he went into a saloon, had a round of drinks with him, brought him out of the saloon and had him pose for a picture. This picture is one of the mayor's exhibits.

Several Injured When Engine Hits and Upsets Auto

An automobile with six passengers in it was run into at an early hour this morning at the railroad crossing at Tenth and Locust streets, by a switch engine. Still Marquette suffered three broken ribs and a fractured leg and was taken to a local hospital along with Al Smith, manager of the Central Taxi company, who suffered serious injuries.

In the same car were two other unidentified men, one said to be employed in a local bank and the other a railroad official, and two young women. These four made their get-away without having their names ascertained.

The party was returning from a Locust street roadhouse along with a number of other machine loads and became stalled right in the path of the engine, because of the engine of the auto ahead dying and necessitating the followers to stop.

Stenographers and Typists Examined

Eighteen stenographers and typists hammered the typewriters in the civil service examination at the federal building through the whole noon hour, pausing only long enough to gaze wistfully out of the window at a lunch sign.

For, be it known, the government limits the examinations of stenographers and typists to six hours, and in the framing of the order no provision was made for lunches. The class of eighteen candidates for government positions started their grind at 9 o'clock, and but few of them turned in their papers before the end of the six-hour period in the afternoon. There were blondes and brunettes, men and women, with and without eyeglasses. The women, if possible, were more industrious than the men, but all of them devoted themselves to their task with remarkable zeal, and few minutes of the six hours were wasted in trips to the alluring water cooler in the corner of the examination room.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Board of Education Elects Teachers for the Coming Year.

MEMBERS WORK IN HARMONY

John Elliott Declares Councilman Lavelle Should Not Hold State and City Jobs at Same Time.

Resisting all efforts at dictation the South Omaha Board of Education last night unanimously elected teachers to serve for the coming year on the assigned, elected and some to the permanent lists. The same unanimity prevailed in the action on school enumerators. In only one vote on one teacher was there any discrepancy. The board announced unofficially that the election of principals would take place next Monday. "I never knew finer men than the men who constitute the republican majority on this board," commented W. J. Fitzgerald, democratic member. "They are absolutely fair." President E. R. Leigh, Vice President F. S. Richardson and Member Godfrey Horacek, republicans constitute the majority. They are working steadily towards an end that will take the school system out of politics and the interference of politics. President Leigh and Member Horacek were re-elected a fortnight ago by a large majority. Vice President Richardson was elected by a large majority one year ago. Keeping the school free from partisan politics seems to be the policy of the board. The following is the list of teachers elected last night:

employment of the state as assistant state veterinarian. In a communication on the matter last night, Elliott formally lodged his demand with the council. Elliott holds that the charter expressly forbids an elective officer to hold any other position that might be maintained by public moneys. Lavelle was elected councilman from the Fifth ward last year and is holding a position within the gift of Governor Morehead. Lavelle succeeded Jerry Howard as assistant state veterinarian at the Union stock yards some months ago. Lavelle defended his position by stating that he held his job from the state veterinarian who, he said, appointed his assistants and paid them himself. He took the position that the charter did not apply in his case. President of the Council Tom Alton

ALL RUN DOWN IN THE SPRING

The reason why you feel so tired at this time is that your blood is impure and impoverished. You need the rich red blood that gives life to the whole body, perfects digestion and enables all the organs to perform their functions as they should. Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. It will make you feel better, look better, eat and sleep better. It is the old reliable all-the-year round blood medicine. Get Hood's. Nothing else acts like it.
