A Rare Chance For Omaha Women For There Is Not A Dress Worth Less Than Double the Price Asked Saturday

COOL, dainty little lacy affairs of filmy voiles, sheer marquisettes, embroidered voiles, striped or plain crepes, ratines, tissues, lingerie materials, etc., charming frocks in white and in colors—for women and girls—suitable for afternoon and porch wear, for informal evening occasions, etc.

The Offering Includes Many New Tendencies

Pretty Russian tunic skirts—or others with quaint ruffles. There are too many styles to give details, but each frock is attractive. Some of the white frocks are cleverly combined with new colors. Sometimes two colors are effectively contrasted by combination. Most of the dresses have the cool, pretty low necks and sleeves are both short and long. The variety is so great and the fabrics so pleasing that they must be seen at close view to appreciate their true worth. FOUR GROUPS:—

FRUIT PRICES REASONABLE

California Products Are Now on the Omaha Market.

ALL VEGETABLES ARE CHEAP

Pork Takes a Drop—Watermelons Are Expected to Reach the Omaha Dealers Within a Short Time.

All California fruits are now in the Omaha market and in nearly every case the prices are reasonable for this time of the year. Lemons and peaches are the only fruits which are higher than usual in price. Lemons have advanced 5 cents a dozen on all sizes and peaches are selling at 25 cents a dozen, a price considerably above the average.

California cherries, California loganberries, California blackberries, California red raspberries, California apricots, California peaches and California cantaloupes are all in. Hood River, Ore., strawberries and home-grown gooseberries are also on the market, while home-grown cherries should be in this week.

Cherries are selling at 25 cents a pound, loganberries at 15 cents a quart, red raspberries at 20 cents a quart, blackberries at 15 cents, while cantaloupes are 20 cents each and apricots are 10 cents a dozen. Hood River strawberries are selling at 20 cents a quart. Gooseberries are 10 cents a quart.

Home-grown beets, carrots, turnips and peas are all on the market. Beets are three bunches for 10 cents, carrots two bunches for 5 cents and turnips two bunches for 5 cents. Peas are 5 cents a quart, radishes eight bunches for 5 cents, lettuce six bunches for 5 cents and asparagus three bunches for 10 cents. Sugar is still going up. The wholesale price is now $5.50 for 100 pounds. The retail price is still twenty-two pounds for $1, but this is old stock, and when the new stock is in the value will increase to twenty pounds for $1.

Pork has dropped a bit. A decrease of 1 cent a pound has been registered and a further drop will probably occur this week. Ham and bacon, however, are up 1 cent a pound. Beef is still strong on the market with no changes, but lamb and calves are almost impossible to secure, thus boosting the quotation on those two articles. Chickens are off considerably, the price now being 15 cents a pound, as against 14 cents a few days ago. The watermelon season is expected to open in Omaha soon. There are plenty of the melons in the east and as far west as Chicago, but the price runs about $60 a car, 500 melons to the car, and this price is too high for Omaha. With a drop shipments will be made to Omaha.

According to Al King, manager of Hayden Bros. grocery department, prices on most fruits are reasonable and vegetables are exceedingly cheap. He also predicts that fairly reasonable prices on most staples will be in force throughout the summer unless outside conditions enter to create fluctuations.

Two Women Badly Injured When Horse Runs Away

Mrs. Susan M. Thavis and daughter, Mrs. Nola Eger, both of 608 Blinney street, were severely injured when a horse which they were driving became frightened at a street car near Thirtieth and Bristol streets, ran away and upset the buggy. The women were dragged for forty feet, the mother suffering a bad cut on the forehead and severe body
