NEW YORK, June 10.—Amos Pinchot made public today the text of a confidential letter he recently addressed to Theodore Roosevelt, the members of the progressive national committee and other leaders denouncing George W. Perkins, chairman of the national executive committee, as a menace to the party.

Mr. Pinchot says in his letter that he is opposed to the party's recognition of the rights of labor and deal with capital through labor unions, and has frequently gone on record to this effect.

Mr. Pinchot then goes on to say the progressive party has placed itself passively and definitely on record in opposition to Mr. Perkins, and adds that "through the progressive party's official bulletin, through public speeches and interviews and in pamphlets printed as progressive party literature and distributed from the party's headquarters in New York and Washington, Mr. Perkins has conducted an extensive pro-trust campaign calculated to convince the people and the public that the trusts are useful and sacred institutions; that those who attack them are bent upon the destruction of all healthy industry on a large scale, and finally that the progressive party fully agrees with him in these views."

Mr. Pinchot says in his letter that he is opposed to the party's recognition of the rights of labor and deal with capital through labor unions, and has frequently gone on record to this effect.

Mrs. Wagner Takes Her Life by Hanging

Driven to suicide, it is believed, by the heat, Mrs. Mary Wagner, aged 45, apartment 3, 317 North Seventeenth street, was found at 6 o'clock Wednesday night dangling from the end of a rope in her room, dead. The woman, who had not been seen from 4 o'clock up to the time her body was found, had fastened a clothesline around her neck and hit it over the hinge of a door leading into a closet. She then, it appears, pulled up a chair, shoved the chair from beneath her feet and brought about strangulation.

The husband, A. W. Wagner, says that he had noticed his wife acting strangely for the past week, but thought it was probably irritation and general unbalancing of the mind due to the heat.

HUNDRED DROWN IN STORM

Many Fishing Boats Are Wrecked in Bay of Chaleur.

HURRICANE 150 MILES AN HOUR

Eleven Schooners and Their Crews Are Known to Be Lost and Others Are Reported Missing.

S. JOHN, N. B., June 10.—More than 100 lives were lost in the storm which swept the Bay of Chaleur on Thursday and Friday of last week, according to reports received here today. The storm caused the greatest number of fatalities in the history of the north shore.

Accounts brought in by fishing vessels which lived through the blow show that the wind blew with terrific force. Captain Samuel Beck of the schooner Warren estimated the force of the blast at 150 miles an hour at times. The vessels known to be lost with their crews are:

Rubin company, schooner gone with all hands.

Schooner riding at anchor fifteen miles off Shipigan, all the crew being swept off its decks.

Schooner lost off North cape, Prince Edward island, with its crew.

Three vessels lost off Misoupoint, their bodies picked off.

Vessel destroyed at Point Canoe, with 80 men saved from it.

Reports Are Conflicting.

CHATHAM, N. B., June 10.—Conflicting reports made it impossible today to determine definitely how many fishing smacks and lives had been lost in the storm which swept the Gulf of St. Lawrence, Chaleur bay and the Straits of Northumberland Friday.

One report placed the number of dead at 125. Advice from Carquet said nineteen lives were known to have been lost, one vessel was missing and nothing was known of the fate of the crews of two vessels reported ashore on Pokesudie island.

Carquet, Shipigan and Lameque, the headquarters of the Bay Chaleur fishing fleet, are remote points, and because of broken wire communication it has been impossible to get accurate accounts of the storm damage.

The vessels that suffered from the gale were small schooners. Nearly every craft was manned only by members of a single family, with the father in command and three or four sons or other relatives composing the crew.
