Schipke Opens the Winning Event with a Hit Which is Followed by a Bunch of Runs on the Part of Pa's Players.

Rourkes last spring on the coldest day all for Omaha, but it was enough. of the year when the Pittsburgh Pirates were here to show how easy it is to beat were behind him, but he did very much the opposite against the Rourkes. He was lambasted from the start and the start was all that he lasted. He was jerked after five runs had been made, but the game was safe and the locals

Red Styles, newest addition, was en hand and, while Red didn't have such a great amount of anything in particular had enough to trim the Josies. After that juicy lead presented him in the initial stanza he did not exert himself be yond the normal amount and the Josies garnered three runs and nine hits. Realso got a base hit and struck out twice just to prove his versatility.

After Duffy had been derricked a gentleman whom Umps Fyufe announced as 'Pierce" appeared on the hurling mound As a matter of fact the gentleman' name is Piercy and may be pronounce the way it looks or like Percy, which ever way the fans feel. Piercy didn't do so worse, but he might have done better. so he was yanked in the eighth to let Pettigrew hit a fly to Krug, Piercy not being strong enough to get one past don. After this change considerable argument occurred as to who would
