BROGAN FOR CHIEF JUSTICE

Omaha Lawyer Decides to Enter His Name in the Lists.

HIS PETITIONS IN CIRCULATION

Brogan Issues Statement Giving the Reasons for His Willingness to Serve in Judicial Capacity.

After taking the matter under advisement for several days, Francis A. Brogan, the well known member of the Omaha bar, who has been prominently mentioned in that connection, has concluded to stand as a candidate for chief justice of the state supreme court, and has so announced to his friends.

"I offer to serve the people of Nebraska in the capacity of chief justice of their supreme court. If they indicate by signing nominating petitions, and by their votes at the primaries, general support from all parts of the state, I will become a candidate, and, if elected, will accept the office. I will not make a campaign for the nomination nor for the election. I approve of the sentiment which has often been expressed, that for a lawyer who is attached to the standards of his profession the judicial office is neither to be sought nor refused.

Mr. Brogan has been practicing here for a quarter of a century, but is still in his prime. He has been president of the Nebraska State Bar association and member of the general council of the American Bar association.

Petitions have already been started to secure the necessary signatures required for filing under the non-partisan judicial law, which, for this office, calls for the endorsement of the application to go on the ballot by a petition signed by about 3,000 voters.
