ROURKES WIN WEIRD BATTLE

Omaha Makes Most Scores, but Links Call Umps More Names.

CONGALTON POLES HOME RUN

Roueke Outfielder Hits One Over Right Field Fence for Beciding Count of Contest Marked by Crabbing with Umpire.

In a potpurri of hits, strike outs, bases on balls, errors, wild pitches and unex purgated epithets directed toward his nobs, the umps, Omaha and Lincoln battled through two hours of pastime everything except his right name. Toward | Slagie (Co the latter part of the combat the arguments became so tense that the foreign athletes unburdened themselves of a large latch of diction, both unfit for publication and for the ears of the gentle Omaha fans. The umps should have plastered half a dozen of the Antelopes with fines and heaved them out of the yard so combustable was the language, but Bill Rapp was the only seek to get the sack. If Noah Webster had witnessed that battle he would have been compelled to add several more pages to his nown dictionary. Bert Grover, at last minus his famo boil on the left side of his map, essay to heave for the Rourkes. Mr. Grov was among those missing at the par and evidently he didn't care much m about pitching yesterday for he depart for the shower in the secunth stanf performed nobly, thus copping the co

He was nicked for six runs and hoe as sided in favor of Smith, who is Inmed the gent who makes the Rourkes curl and die. Smith behaved fairly well, bu he allowed Bunk Congalton to boast one over the right field wall and this settled

The Links opened with a count. Quilling walked and was sacrificed to second. He went to third on a wild pitch, but was saught at the plate when Lloyd rolled to supper Bill. Lloyd swiped second and swent to third when Schipke bobbled Miller's grounder. Miller and Lloyd promptly pulled a double steal and Lloyd scored when Crosby heaved the pill into 2:10.

The next Link count was made in the fourth. Miller doubled and scored on Schrieber's bust to center.

In the last haif of the fourth Omaha srabbed the lead from Mr. Cooney, who found it impossible to withstand most perity. Consaiton and Ward were given free transportation and Schipke fore loose with a most beautiful and graceful double to right, scoring Coony and rul double to right, scoring Conny and Ward going to third. Crosby rolled little one to Cooney and he promptly threw the aphere into right field while Ward and Skipper counted.

Krug and Thomas Triple. To start the 6ifth Cooney snaked George Dunlop in the tonneau. This is not allowed to pass without penalty is creanised base ball so George was sent to first base. Martin Krug, who had but a minute before apeared a preordained triple from Mr. Quillin's bamboo bat by a mirculous back hand catch, poked the pill against the flag pole for three sacks Fred Thomas uncoupled another of the same brand except that his sailed over the cupits of Mr. Schreiber in left and right. Three runs. Bunk poled his homer in making it safe for Omaka.

In the seventh just to be nasty Collins. Schreiber and McGaffigan busted hits and Grover issued a walk and heaved a wild pitch. This gave the Links two runs and Grover blew from sight. Single on the stab Mitter's hit and Single's heave into Mr. Collin's ribs followed by schreibar's double made it two more for the visiting debating team, but that was all as Fred Thames pulled a nice double play in the ninth which rulned the Links SIGUX DEFEAT THE GRIEELIES once and for ait.

Today the two teams wil lmix in a double bill for the one price of admission. L'mps McCafferty will be on hand and two ratting good ball games and a nifty debate are scheduled. The first name will be called at 2 o'clock Groves
