IOWA REPUBLICANS HOPEFUL

Speaking Dates Being Arranged for Several Party Leaders.

CUMMINS WILL TAKE LEAD

Keayser, Governor Clarke and Congressmen Will Also Go on the Stump in Fall Campaign.

DES MOINES, Ia., July 20.—(Special Telegram.)—The republican state committee organized after the state convention last week and prepared at once for work in the campaign. Because of the confusion of the last campaign and the consequent disorganization it was deemed wise to have the campaign work started as soon as possible as there will be a larger amount of organization work to do than usual. In fact the state committee went to work long before the state convention and has been maintaining headquarters for active work ever since the middle of the primary campaign. The committee is in touch with party workers in every county of the state. The poll of newspapers has been taken to know which ones can be relied on for support. The situation as to the opponents in each part of the state is already known.

Charles A. Rawson has been again made chairman of the state committee. He went on the committee two years ago as a new man and so admirably handled it that the state was kept in line for the republican ticket and a big majority was assured in the legislature. He was conciliatory as to factions and retained the good will of all. He will again handle the state affairs. In personal charge of headquarters, however, is Mrs. Emma K. Blaine, who has had wide experience in political management and who has in fact managed several successful campaigns.

Speaking dates are being arranged for several of the republican leaders. There is demand for speaking at fairs, homecomings and assemblies and these are being supplied as well as possible.

Republicans Have Good Speakers.

The republicans will have on the stump in the state this year an unusually fine line of speakers for their party. The lead will be taken by Senator Cummins, as indicated in his speech at the state convention. He will feature national issues and especially the work of the democratic administration. He will attack the Wilson method as to tariff, the foreign relations and business matters. He is known to court the threatened coming of both Wilson and Roosevelt and would not win anything better than to have both these men come into the state to speak against him. Governor Clarke will probably do more speaking than any other. He will discuss state affairs largely, but he has developed into one of the finest public speakers of the state and is now in great demand. Next to him will probably come Senator Kenyon, who desires to spend about two months speaking in the campaign. Then there are the republicans in congress from Iowa, especially Townsend, Scott, Good, Woods, Green and Haugen, all of whom are able speakers. The three new republican candidates for congress—Dowell, Sweet and Hull—are all effective speakers. Of the state officials Allen, Cozzen and Harding, are all good speakers. Aside from these there are men like Kendall, McKitt, Byers, Clark and Hillman all ready for the campaign. Republicans are freely predicting a very large republican plurality this year in Iowa. The conservative action of the state convention did much to make this possible. But generally, so those who have traveled about the state say, the trend is all in the direction of a return to republicanism in this state for the effect it will have on national affairs.

Democrats Not Well United.

It would hardly be fair to state that the democrats are badly divided now as the republicans were two years ago, but it is certain they are more badly divided than are the republicans just now. The patronage dispensation left a lot of sore spots on the democrats and a feeling that the organization of the party is anything but democratic. Then there is lukewarmness toward the national administration and a feeling that it is all too much a one-man affair with the men of the party in the lead. The Wilson foreign policy is not very popular. The result is that the democrats are not over-enthusiastic nor ready for a fight. The senatorial contest among the democrats did not suit many of the younger members of the party, and there is a feeling that the state ticket was not framed up to win. The democrats also will have some trouble over the temperance question. There will be no effort to induce the party to advocate a prohibitory amendment, but very likely a contest between the radicals and conservatives on the manner of expressing the party idea as to license in place of the malt system. The temperance sentiment has been growing rapidly among the democrats and their candidate for lieutenant governor has long been known as a prohibitionist.

Although there has been in the last few months a decrease in the total of eight deposits in the state banks of Iowa, the increase over a year ago was sufficient to show there is no real hard times in Iowa banking circles. The Iowa banks are still in a very excellent condition. The consolidated statement of the accounts of the 1,134 banks under state laws shows:

| ASSETS.                        |                  |

Ready to Erect Building.

Iowa's building committee, composed of Claude Case of Waterloo, C. E. Wilson, Jr. of Clinton and Emmett Tinley of Council Bluffs, departed Wednesday for San Francisco, where they will close contracts for the building of the Iowa state building at the Panama-Pacific exposition. R. B. Bolton is a third member of the committee, but business transactions caused him to remain here, Tinley going in his place.

Plans and Specifications Call for a $35,000 Building Covering a Plot of Land Sixty-five by 130 Feet.

Iowa Will Let Women Vote. Woman suffrage will pass the Iowa state legislature without trouble this fall. This is the opinion by those who are fighting for votes for women, following the declaration of William Jennings Bryan in favor of their cause. This, together with a recent development in the Iowa constitution, itself, is the reason for the confidence of the workers. Attorney General Cozzen, who has been a strong supporter of the suffrage movement, predicts that Bryan's sanction of the movement will cause the adoption of a suffrage plank in the democratic platform at the democratic convention in Council Bluffs next week. The republican convention came out in favor of suffrage here Wednesday.

To Copy Iowa Road Laws.

Kansas is making a strenuous campaign for the creation of a highway commission patterned after the Iowa State Highway commission. Good roads for Kansas workers have for months been seeking information as to actual results accomplished under the Iowa law. Here is what G. J. Hinshaw, secretary-director of the Kansas Good Roads Federation, has to say in a recent letter to State Highway Engineer T. H. MacDonaid: "Having lived in Iowa for ten years, consequently interested in the progress of the state, and having become particularly identified with the good roads movement in Kansas, it is my desire to receive regularly, copies of your service bulletin. As secretary of the state of Kansas, we are making the fight of our lives for a state highway commission, believing that by such an organization we will be able to conserve our resources and build roads."

WINTERS GIRL STILL MISSING

Body Exhumed at Urbana, Ill., is Not Her's.

CORPSE HAS BEEN IDENTIFIED

Child Disappeared in March of Last Year and Widespread Hunt Futile Search Conducted.

CHICAGO, July 20.—Another supposed solution to the mysterious disappearance of Catherine Winters, 9 years old, daughter of Dr. William A. Winters, of New Castle, Ind., apparently failed today when a body exhumed yesterday in the potter's field at Urbana, Ill., was identified by Nicholas Larry as that of his child. The girl's father declared the corpse was that of the missing Winters girl, who disappeared from home in March, 1912. Dr. Winters, at New Castle, after receiving a description of the body, declared it could not be his daughter, as her hair was brown, while that of the girl taken from the grave was light blonde.

Dr. Winters, an undertaker, said Larry was the man who had the child placed in the vault for a year and then was buried in the potter's field because no one claimed it. Larry said the body today and said it was that of his daughter. She was 1 year old, he said, and died in Jacksonville, Fla. The Winters girl was 9 years old.

The detectives had claimed they traced the body from New Castle to Florida, and thence to Urbana.

Disappears Over Year Ago.

CHICAGO, July 20.—Katherine Winters disappeared on March 26, 1912. She had gone out to sell needles for a church society. The girl's parents said they thought she had gone to a friend's house for dinner, and gave this reason for not informing the police until the next day of her failure to return home.

The girl's picture and description were printed and scattered broadcast. Hundreds of men of New Castle and Dr. Winters raised a fund of $2,000, which was offered as a reward.

Detectives visited gypsy camps throughout the country without result. It was first thought the girl had been kidnapped. Mrs. Winters, the girl's stepmother, continually expressed her belief that the girl had been killed, but the father apparently was firm in his conviction that she was alive.

Causes Winters' Arrest.

Robert H. Abel, a private detective, working for rewards offered in the case, caused the arrest of Dr. Winters, his wife, and W. H. Cooper, a telegraph operator, who roomed at the Winters home, on May 10 last. Abel had slipped into the Winters home while Dr. and Mrs. Winters were out to attend a moving picture entertainment given to swell the fund to be spent in the search for the missing girl. Abel asserted that he had dug into a chimney wall in the cellar and found a red sweater and crumpled bits of half ribbon. The sweater was said to be stained.

Mayor Watkins of New Castle, after an investigation, authorized the arrests. All three were charged with a "conspiracy to commit a felony to kill the girl," but were later freed and the charges dismissed.

CAILLAUX TRIAL STIRS PARIS

The words "Henriette Caillaux," could scarcely be heard. As the prisoner remained standing the presiding judge said "You may sit down."

The three judges assisting President Aibalet are Achille Katz, Louise Dagoury and Henri Roy.

The jury is composed of men of many trades and professions, including an engraver, a building contractor, an architect, a teacher, a furrier and a commission agent as well as several small capitalists.

When these had been sworn the clerk read the long indictment, after which Madame Caillaux recovered her composure.

ULTIMATUM SENT ORGANIZED BALL BY THE PLAYERS

There is no way out of the present league unless a major league club buys Kraft from Nashville. I understand that President Farrell of the New York Americans is ready to buy Kraft, but personally I hope he does not close a deal until after Wednesday, so that the American league can call the fraternity's bluff.

Hopes for Peace. David L. Fuhs, president of the Fraternity, said: "I hope that the trouble may be settled amicably."

President Fuhs outlined the case of the Players' Fraternity in a general way, although he refused to either affirm or deny the ultimatum to the National commission contained any such drastic threat as a strike or walkout of the players in the major leagues, who are also members of the Fraternity.

"I have not the power to order a strike," he continued. "Such power is vested in the board of directors. I hope that no such drastic action will be necessary, but I will say that the members of the fraternity believe that in the Kraft case they are justified in demanding that the action be outlined in a number of letters to the National commission be followed."

The National commission in ordering Clarence O. Kraft, the player in question, to report to Nashville, violated paragraph 18 of the agreement between the players' fraternity and National agreement leagues, which reads: "Before a major league player shall be released to class A or a lower classification, his services shall first be tendered to all class AA clubs at a price not to exceed $1,000 and then to all class A clubs at a price not to exceed $700. If he is a drafted player, the club from which he is drafted shall have prior claim to all other clubs in its classification."

It is the federation's contention that this procedure was not adopted in Kraft's case. He was ordered to report to Nashville at a reduction in salary of $150 a month and when he refused he was suspended and has been without pay for nearly five weeks.

PORTSMOUTH, England, July 20.—The British home fleet, composed of over 200 fighting ships and an equal number of auxiliaries, including submarines, torpedo boat destroyers and seaplanes, was led out to sea by King George this morning. His majesty was on board the royal yacht, accompanied by the prince of Wales, Winston Spencer Churchill and the other lords of the admiralty.

At the entrance to the English channel the royal yacht dropped anchor and the ships in the fleet reviewed before his majesty, while a fleet of seaplanes from the Calshot airship station flew in pairs above the royal yacht and circled about the slowly moving ships. It took the great fleet two hours to pass before the king.

THREE BALLOONS CROSS THE ENGLISH CHANNEL. LONDON, July 20.—Three of the twenty-four balloons which started from Paris yesterday in the annual race for the grand prize of the French Aero club, landed today on the Welsh shore. Having crossed the English channel before a fierce gale, they were obliged to descend in order to avoid being driven out to sea.

Spire, one of the pilots, in jumping from the basket of his balloon, fractured a leg and suffered other injuries. Marcel Foucault and Jean Laurenceau, two French aeronauts, managed to jump clear and without injury, but lost their balloon, which was blown cut to sea. Earnest Dumery and Albert Vlemnick, Belgians, landed safely with the third craft.

DEATH RECORD. Christian Frank. TABLE ROCK, Neb., July 20.—(Special.)—Christian Frank, who lived in the northeast corner of Pawnee county some ten miles from Table Rock for a great many years, died at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Nell Skillet, on Friday evening, and was buried yesterday afternoon at Mount Zion cemetery, some twelve miles northeast of here, near his old home. He died from the effects of a stroke of paralysis and was in his ninety-second year. He came from Germany in his early life, but had lived in Nebraska more than half a century.

William F. Pattison. TABLE ROCK, Neb., July 20.—(Special.)—The funeral of William F. Pattison, a veteran of the civil war and a resident of this locality for nearly half a century, was held here Saturday afternoon at his late residence. He was 77 years old. He is survived by an aged widow, a son and five daughters. His early life was spent in Grundy county, Illinois, from where he emigrated in the Nineties to get settlement in Illinois volunteers. He had been ill for some time from the result of a stroke of paralysis.

Rear Admiral Ramsey. WASHINGTON, July 20.—Rear Admiral Francis Munroe Ramsey, retired, who, with Admiral Dewey and Rear Admiral Benham, constituted the Senley court of inquiry, died at his home here yesterday, 30 years ago. He will be buried in Arlington National cemetery Wednesday.

His Mistake. "Do you know, my dear," said the young husband, "there's something wrong with the cake. It doesn't taste right." "That is all your imagination," answered the bride, "trusting that the cook says in the cook book that it is delicious." —Illustrated Zeitung.

Council Bluffs

BEER IS IN SUGAR BARRELS

Raid Made by Officers at Underwood is Attended with Results.

LIQUOR TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

When Authorities Go to Carry the Stuff to the Bluffs They Find It Has Disappeared.

The absence of saloons in Underwood, in common with all other towns in Pottawattamie county outside of Council Bluffs, has in no wise abated the thirst of the inhabitants, and during the greater part of the summer several well patronized places have been maintained where beer and whisky could be obtained without any restrictions. It was equally available to boys, as well as men.

Saturday Sheriff Lindsey asked the co-operation of the Council Bluffs police and Chief View, Captain Shafer, Detective Arnold and Deputy Marshal Crum went to the village Saturday evening with warrants issued by Justice Joseph.

In prohibition communities beer cannot be handled in the usual packages. The bottles have to be packed in sugar and apple barrels and marked household goods. It then passes readily through the transportation offices and reaches its destination without exciting curiosity or interference.

When the Bluffs officers went into the village they had no difficulty in finding three places where the beer was being sold. One was kept by Joe Verpoorten, one by George Wolf and the other by "Slim" Wilmut and Tony Peterson. Nine sugar barrels filled with bottled beer and whisky were found and seized. Word of the raid reached some of the places before the officers got inside and much of the stuff disappeared. Each of the places was ostensibly doing a restaurant business. The find was so much greater than the Bluffs officers were led to expect that they were not prepared to take care of it by removing it to Council Bluffs and it was stored in a supposedly strong and safe place to be handed away Sunday. But there were three dances in the vicinity of Underwood Saturday night, and yesterday morning it was discovered that three barrels of bottled beer had been removed from the depot and the joy of the dancers went on unconfined. The remainder of it was brought to town yesterday afternoon and will be disposed of by justice tribunal today.

Sheriff Lindsey sought the aid of the city police department for the reason that all of his deputies are well known in Underwood and their presence there would excite sufficient apprehension to cause the liquor to go into hiding before a raid could be made. One attempt was made about three months ago and failed.

I. W. W. Members Arrested and Others Driven from Town

ABERDEEN, S. D., July 20.—(Special.)—Aberdeen streets resembled for a few hours on Saturday evening a London street at a militant uprising or something equally exciting, and the cause at the start was a woman, too. On Friday night Katy Solomon, a notorious socialist and Industrial Worker of the World agitator, claiming to hail from St. Louis, addressed a crowd of hoboes at the "jungles" in the outskirts of the city, advising the men to refuse to work in the harvest fields for less than $3 a day and "to get $9 if they could." At that time the announcement was made that the Industrial Workers' orators would hold forth on the streets of Aberdeen at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, despite the mayor's announcement to the Industrial Workers' leaders that they would not be permitted to speak.

Joseph Carey leader of the Industrial Workers, mounted a box at 2 o'clock and began to speak. Promptly a policeman placed him under arrest. The crowd pressed, but made no vigorous attempt to rescue Carey. Carey's followers attempted to speak, but were arrested as soon as they began, until nine men were behind the bars. Then Katy Solomon appeared and commenced a violent harangue, and she, too, was arrested. The men did not take kindly to her arrest, and followed the policeman having her in charge, threatening trouble, but made no direct attack upon the police, who lodged Katy with her comrades. The arrest of the ten quelled the speaking, but the crowd transferred its position to the police station and city jail, a wooden structure, and was kept in order with difficulty. Carey persisted in trying to make speeches through the window of the cell until the chief warned him further efforts in that line would result unpleasantly.

At night the crowd again assembled in force at the police station. Word came that 1,000 reinforcements were coming from Mitchell on a freight train, several more efforts to speak being made, until finally thirty persons, including Katy, were in jail. At midnight, when the Mitchell people did not arrive the crowd dispersed. Later in the night 30 or 40 men did arrive from Mitchell, but the crowd had gone back to "the jungles" and all was peaceful.

Sunday morning a large number of extra policemen were sworn in and the men, numbering several hundred in all, were driven out of town for a distance of several miles and were warned not to return.

The trouble seems to have originated over a report that the Aberdeen Commercial club had advised farmers to pay but $2.50 a day with board and lodging for

On Body, Face and Head. As Thick as Could Be. Cross and Restless. Couldn't Sleep. Clothes Irritated. Eruption. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Healed Completely.

R. F. D. No. 3, Caldwell, Ohio.—"When our baby was about two months old she broke out over her body, face and head with eczema. It was bad, about as thick as it could be. It broke out in a kind of pimples. They were red and sore. She was very cross and restless. The eczema would lick and burn all she couldn't sleep. It looked very badly and would irritate the eruption."

"We gave her medicines but it didn't do any good, got worse if any different. We had heard about Cuticura Soap and Ointment so we sent for a sample and it was not very long till she was better. I bought some more Cuticura Soap and Ointment which cured her completely and she has never had any trouble with eczema since." (Signed) R. E. Smith, Mar. 21, 1914.
