BOOST TO MAKE CITY PRETTY | Suffs Arrange to

Man Offers Daughter to Children's Society Such is Hummel's Plea at Equal Franchise Meeting.

FUNDS NOW ARE NOT ADEQUATE

City Permits Too Many Chances to Collect Taxes Slip Away When Parks and Boulevards Need the Money.

"If you want to put Omaha on the map, you've got to boost for a charter with laws that we can live under," said Park Commissioner Joe B. Hummel, at a meeting of the Equal Franchise society held at the home of Mrs. Henry Doorly Thursday afternoon. "Omaha is on the Lincoln highway and if we are to impress or our city a great many improvements ought to be made in the park and boulevard system of Omaha.

"The funds at the disposal of each of there are occupation taxes and wheel taxes for vehicles, which are turned into the park and boulevard maintenance fund. Why, look at the hundreds of automobiles around the Brandels building any day in the week. If the owners had to pay $5 a year for the privilege, wouldn't we have a fine income to spend for our parks and playgrounds?"

Corporations Should Help. Mr. Hummel also stated that municipal corporations which were on a paying basis ought to assist in the upkeep of departments which needed the funds. "The thing to do is to go down to Lincoln and mend the laws governing metropolitan cities." he said. "There is a great deal of talk about city officials going on 'junketing' trips, it is true, but there is a great deal to be learned from other cities. We can't apply what we learn in many instances, however, because to do so would be to conflict with the state law. That law ought to be changed."

"That's what we're going to do, Mr. Hummel," sang out an enthusiastic suf-

Omahans also need education in cleanliness and tidiness about yards and alleys, according to Mr. Hummel, who gave numerous instances also of vandalism in the destruction of flowers and young trees in the city parks and even of stealing lead pipes in park plumbing.

Facing Auto Problem. "The automobile traffic problem on the boulevards is assuming such proportions that it is dangerous for grown-ups, let alone children," he said. Supervised playgrounds for the children and an extension of the boulevard system to alleviate the congestion were advocated by the park commissioner. "I am doing everything I can to keep the children off the streets and in safety and I wish to call upon public-spirited citizens to help me." Following his talk Mrs. Z. T. Lindsey, who presided, wanted to know if any one had any question to ask Mr. Hummel. Mrs. Thomas Brown jumped to her feet. 'Why can't we have speeches in the parks, Mr. Hummel?" she asked. He was forced to explain his action and stated that he had many letters from other city officials all over the country who adopted the same policy of refusing to permit speeches in the parks.

Should Take Up Local Needs. "How can the suffragists help?" asked Mrs. George Bligh. "They can do a great deal," replied Mr.

Hummel, "by talking up the needs of the city and getting things started." A note of thanks from Secretary State Bryan on receipt of Mrs. E. M. Fairfield's telegram of appreciation for his stand on suffrage was read. Mrs. H. C. Sumney asked that all women interested in the movement contribute old gold or silver jewelry for the "melting pot" which is in the window of F. D. Wead's office at Eighteenth and Farnam. mint on August 15, which will be observed as "sacrifice day" by suffragists all over , spent the last week as the guest of is visiting at the home of Mrs. Mogy the country, the equivalent in value then to be turned over to the suffrage fund. Misses Esther Speigal and Anna Cohen Mrs. Medill McCormick of Chicago originated the idea and $50,000 is the amount it is desired to raise.
